MADE IN CAROLINA EXPOSITION. The Charlotte Exposition Promises to Be A Big One. North Carolina Goods Only

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 10.—Back of the Made-in-Carolina Exposition has been definitely thrown the full strength of three of the leading organizations of North Carolina by action taken within the past few days, according to announcement today from the executive offices here of the exposition.

BRUCE CRAVEN SAYS HE HAS PLENTY OF PROOF Asheville Special to the Greensboro Daily News, Aug. 6th says: Bruce Craven, ex-grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in North Carolina, who Friday morning in an interview in the Greensboro Daily News severely denounced the Ku Klux Klan as a "failure and a fraud" and disbanded the order in this state, said today that he had overlooked the point on which he is now being pressed by the Klan to the effect that he has never been grand dragon and has no authority to disband the Klan.

TO DISCONTINUE ROAD WORK I wish to announce to the people of the county that for the present at least, I will be forced to discontinue all road work in the county, except that done by the county forces. It will be necessary for these forces to concentrate upon the most important roads in order to get them in shape for the winter. There is not enough money available to justify the maintenance of the county force and permit of individual work at the same time, as has been the custom in the past. I regret that this change is necessary, but feel that greater results can be obtained with the limited amount of funds available, by working it all out with the county force and equipment.

Camp Merritt Is Destroyed by Flames

A view of the spectacular night fire which recently wiped out virtually all that was left of Camp Merritt, New Jersey. This was the third fire of mysterious origin to sweep over the encampment.

PERSON MAN KILLS WIFE AND HIMSELF

Whiskey Probably Cause of Aubrey Riley's Rash Act, Willie Ashley Killed. A deplorable tragedy was that which occurred in Person county on last Thursday evening, of last week in the Allenville section, when Aubrey Riley shot his wife and himself, killing instantly. Various reports have been circulated concerning the affair. No definite account can be ascertained, as there was no one in the house at the time but the two small children, one three years, and the other 12 months old. It was said that the young man worked all the morning with his father, and upon failing to appear after the noon hour, and after hearing two shots about 1 or 1:30 o'clock, investigation was made, and both were found dead. The first cause of it all was whiskey. Mr. Riley had been drinking, and it is thought that upon his becoming angry and fired the two fatal shots. When the home was entered one of the children was playing around its mother, who was in a sitting position on the floor, leaning against the bed, and the other child playing on the bed. The funeral was held Friday afternoon.

OUR COMMISSIONERS

The Democrats, some of the best and most responsible men and women in the county elected our Board of County Commissioners, put them in charge of county affairs and our opinion is that they are good men, responsible men, men of the highest standing, and do not mean to take advantage of any set men, regarding county affairs. We believe they are trying as hard as any set of commissioners we ever had to please and do things to benefit the majority, not merely a few. They have to be governed by the means they have to do with, they cannot rush into road building suddenly and blindfolded, it takes time for their plans to mature, and we believe that in the end our commissioners will be found on the right side, trying to do the right thing as best they can. Some people are too ready to condemn and reach conclusions, when things do not go to suit them. They must be patient, investigate before condemning, learn to love instead of hating, as all things come to them that wait.

MERCHANT KILLED AND ROBBED

J. C. Lantus, Merchant, Pittsboro, Waylaid Robbed, Dies of Injuries in Hospital. J. C. Lantus, a merchant of Pittsboro, was waylaid and robbed while on his way home from his store Saturday night. Fell by a blow from a four-foot cedar stick, his skull was cracked. He was rushed to a hospital at Sanford, suffering a hemorrhage as soon as he arrived. A piece of his skull was removed in an operation and he now lies in a very serious condition, unconscious, with little hope entertained for his recovery. Mr. Lantus was accompanied from his store by a negro hired man, Vergil Davis. The two had just passed the rear of J. J. Johnson & Sons' store when he was struck. The robbery resulted in a bag of money Mr. Lantus was carrying containing $200 being taken.

MR. STROWD'S GARAGE BURNED

Mr. R. L. Strowd's garage, which was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon between four and five o'clock. The firemen were on the scene in a few minutes after the alarm was given, but were handicapped on account of there being no hydrant close enough to connect a line of hose. They managed to get out a Ford car, with only the top being partly burned off. This is the second fire Mr. Strowd has had in about a year, when his barn and several out houses were destroyed. The fire yesterday is supposed to have been caused by some one burning trash nearby. Everything being so dry, there having been no rain to fall in this immediate vicinity, to amount to anything, in over two months. Mr. Strowd's large new touring car escaped, it happened to be up town.

DEATH OF MR. HANCOCK

We very much regret the death of Mr. Cleveland Hancock, which occurred Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr and Mrs J M Hancock, on the Raleigh road. Mr Hancock was brought home about six weeks ago from a hospital in Charleston, S. C., where he had been under treatment for sometime for leakage of the heart. He was aged 42 years. The remains were buried in the Chapel Hill cemetery Monday afternoon with Masonic honors. For the past fifteen years he had been a citizen of South Carolina, at Allendale, where he was a successful business man. He was greatly esteemed by his many friends in the two Carolinas.

GROSS NEGLIGENCE ON PART OF SOME ONE

Tuesday night between 8 and 9 o'clock there came near being a serious accident on Rosemary street. A Mr. Tillman and his sister, of near town, were in a buggy and the first thing they knew of a five or six foot ditch in the middle of the street, was when their horse fell into it, throwing them over the gutter board to the ground. It was in deed fortunate for them that they escaped with no broken bones, only receiving a few bruises, besides being badly frightened. The horse also came out lucky. The ditch was dug during the day in order to lay a line of pipe to connect with the water line in the street to run water to the new buildings on the Tankersley lot. There was no light on the banks of the ditch, nothing to indicate danger at that particular spot, and some one is responsible for such a neglect. Possibly the town officials did not know the ditch was open, as it is said, no permit had been granted by them for opening the ditch in the street. There would possibly be another story to tell had some citizen and his family gone that street in his automobile that night.

NATE HARVEY IN LIMBO

Nate Harvey, colored, was tried before his honor, Mayor Roberson, Tuesday, charged with retailing, or having more liquor than the law allowed him. The evidence was so pointed that Nate was required put up a $500 bond for his appearance at Orange Superior Court. When Chief Long and deputies went to search the premises, Nate began to lesson the quantity of the fire-water by throwing several bottles away, but they found the broken vessels. Nathan is an old offender and the supposition is that he will spend some time away from Chapel Hill after court.

The Multitude of His Mercies.

For the Lord will not cast off forever; but though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies. For he doth not afflict willingly nor grieve the children of men.—Lamentations 3:31-33.

Word of Lord Was Precious. And the child Samuel ministered unto the Lord before Eli. And the word of the Lord was precious in those days; there was no open vision.—1 Samuel, 3:1.

INDIGNATION MEETING AT BLACKWOOD

Incensed Citizens Pay Respects to Officials. Committee of Five Appointed.

By way of preparation for the finish fight which the citizens of the Eastern section of Chapel Hill township will make for the location of the hard surfaced road through their territory, a memorable meeting was held on Friday night, August fifth, at Blackwood school house. The only thing lacking to make it the equal of the meeting at the court house on August first was the absence of Sam Gattis and his oratory. The meeting was well attended and feeling ran high as they rehearse their wrongs and injustices through the course of the "whole" fight. A committee of five was appointed to represent the community in continuing the fight and all present voted unanimously to share the responsibility and costs in whatever measures are necessary to carry the matter to a successful conclusion. The following resolution was passed giving the matter definite shape: "We hereby agree that we will continue the fight for our rights in the matter of the location of the proposed hard surfaced road and roads of other types, that we will carry our claims to every tribunal that has a right to hear them. We also pledge that we will share the responsibility and divide the costs of the same."

DEATH OF MRS. WRIGHT. MOTHER MRS. L. R. WILSON

Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Wilson were called away Monday by a telegram announcing the death of Mr. B. V. Wright, Mrs. Wilson's mother, Dr. and Mrs. Wilson left immediately for Coharie, Sampson county, where the funeral will be held from the Wright home. Mrs. Wright was one of the most energetic and intellectual women of her generation in North Carolina. Before her marriage to Mr. Wright she was Miss Bettie V. Herring of Wilson, a sister of Dr. Needham Herring of Wilson, and a member of a family noted for mental ability. For years Mrs. Wright had a preparatory school at her country home near Coharie. Here her nine children, with other boys and girls from all over North Carolina and from many other Southern states, were prepared for college, and the lessons taught them in high ideals were not stressed less than the lessons in the text books. Dr. Robert H. Wright, president of the East Carolina School is one of the sons, Mr. Isaac Wright, a prominent lawyer of Wilmington, another; another son Mr. Vaiden Wright of Laurel, Miss., is a successful civil engineer, Dr. John Wright of the firm of Lewis, Battle and Wright, of Raleigh, is one of the State's well known specialists, while the oldest son Mr. William Wright is a successful farmer of Sampson county, and one of the men who has helped make the county go forward. Mrs. Wright's daughters, all of whom contributed to the cause of education as teachers are Mr. L. R. Wilson, of Chapel Hill Mrs. H. B. Smith, of New Bern, Mrs. George Thomas of New York, and the late Mrs. A. A. Kent, of Lenoir. Death came suddenly to Mrs. Wright, after only a few hours' illness, while she was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Smith in New Bern. Not only her own children, but men and women all over North Carolina whom she had taught in their youth rise up and call her blessed. LUCY COBB

IN MEMORIAM, ROBERT STRANGE

His long life of active service made him thoroughly acquainted with the spirit and the traditions of the Church and of this Parish, and furnished him with the grounds of well matured opinions. He was therefore a wise counselor in the deliberations of the Vestry. In the Parish and in the community at large he was well known as a staunch churchman, a courteous and agreeable companion, a kind and faithful friend, a public-spirited citizen, and an efficient government official. He was universally esteemed and beloved. The example of such a life will remain as a permanent blessing to the community and an incentive to good living. WM. CAIN, I. H. MANNING, WALTER D. TOY, Chapel Hill, N. C., July 27, 1921.

NARROW ESCAPE

While blasting on the railroad in rear of S. F. Long and W. H. Ray's residences, one day last week, a ten pound rock went through the top of Mr. Ray's house and fell on a child lying on a bed. The child was hit on its thigh, and it is said, if struck on the head it would have been killed.

ENROLLMENT 1090 AGAINST 1147, 1920.

One Variety of School Ends Another Begins at Chapel Hill, New Additions to Faculty

The most successful summer school in the history of the University is a thing of the past. Not quite as many were enrolled this year as last, but the work done was of a higher grade. 1090 were enrolled as against 1147 last summer. 484 of these were studying for college credit, 606 pursued normal and preparatory courses. 1024 students were from North Carolina, representing 93 counties. Practically all designations were represented. The University is a state institution that functions continuously, for by the time one variety of school ends, another begins. The University summer school closed Friday the 6th, and the Orange county summer school began Monday, the 8th. The classes of the school being carried on in the Peabody Building, and a dormitory on the campus being used as living rooms for the thirty teachers who make up the student body of the school. Announcement of additions to the faculty have been made as follows: Homer Hoyt, Ph. D. as associate professor of economics, Harold F. Janda, C. E., assistant professor of highway engineering, Robert H. Wetach, LL. B., assistant professor of law, and John H. Bradley, Jr., A. 1919 Professor Hoyt has been professor of economics in Delaware College Mr. Janda, assistant professor of civil engineering at the University of Cincinnati, and Mr. Wetach and Mr. Bradley took their degrees, the in law and the other as bachelor of arts, at Harvard this year. Resignations accepted at the meeting of the committee of the board of trustees this week in Raleigh were the following: H. C. ... German.

IS YOUR HEALTH GRADUALLY SLIPPING?

Interesting Experience of a Texas Lady Who Declares That if More Women Knew About Cardui They Would Be Spared Much Sickness and Worry. Navasota, Texas.—Mrs. W. M. Peck, of this place, relates the following interesting account of how she recovered her strength, having realized that she was actually losing her health. "Health is the greatest thing in the world, and when you feel that gradually slipping away from you, you certainly slip up and take notice. That is what I did some time ago when I found myself in a very nervous, run-down condition of health. I was so tired and felt so listless I could hardly go at all. "I was just no account for work. I would get a bucket of water and would feel so weak I would have to set it down before I felt like I could lift it to the shelf. In this condition, of course, to do even my housework was a task almost impossible to accomplish. "I was ... nervous and easily upset. I couldn't rest well at night and was in just listless. "I heard of Cardui and after reading its account of how she recovered her strength, having realized that she was actually losing her health. I read for Cardui and began it. "In a very short while after I began the Cardui Home Treatment I saw an improvement and it wasn't long until I was all right—good appetite, splendid rest, and much stronger so that I easily did my housework. "Later I took a bottle of Cardui as a tonic. I can recommend Cardui and feel so, for if more women knew, it would save a great deal of worry and sickness." The enthusiastic praise of thousands of other women who have found Cardui helpful should convince you that it is worth trying. All druggists sell it.
