

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

Recipe.
PIEAPOPPLE PUDDING.—Butter a pudding-dish and line the bottom and sides with slices of stale cake, sponge-cake is best; pare and slice thin a large pie-apple (be sure to leave out the core), place in the dish first a layer of pie-apple, then strew in the sugar, then more pie-apple, and so on until all is used; pour over a small teacup of water, and cover with slices of cake which have been dipped in cold water, cover the whole with a buttered plate and bake slowly for two hours.

SAND HEARTS.—Two pounds of flour, two pounds of sugar, one pound of butter, three eggs. Make up into a dough, and work till the ingredients are well incorporated. After rolling out and cutting into heart-shape, place the cakes on a pan, and beat up one egg, spread some of it over them with a feather, and then sprinkle with granulated sugar. If a little coarse-grained, all the better, mixing with it a little finely powdered cinnamon.

PEA SOUP.—Take a quart of shelled peas; boil the pods in a gallon of cold water until all the substance is boiled out of them; then skim them out and put two pounds of beef into the pot. After the meat is boiled to shreds skim the soup well, strain and return it to the pot; add the peas, with a little parsley, and let it simmer until the peas are quite tender; season with pepper and salt; thicken with a little butter and flour, let it boil up once and serve.

QUAKER OMELET.—A Quaker omelet is a handsome and sure dish when care is taken in the preparation. Three eggs, half a cup of milk, one and a half tablespoonfuls of corn starch, one teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of butter, put the omelet pan, and a cover that will fit close on, to heat; beat the yolks of the eggs; the corn starch and the salt very well together; beat the whites to a stiff froth, add to the well-beaten yolks and corn starch; stir all together very thoroughly, then add the milk; now put the butter in the hot pan, and when melted pour in the mixture, cover and place on the stove, where it will brown, but not burn; cook about seven minutes, fold, turn on a hot dish, and serve with the cream sauce poured around it. If the yolks and corn starch are thoroughly beaten, and when the stiff whites are added they are well mixed, and the pan and cover are very hot, there can be no failure.

Waterproof Haystacks.
I find that farmers encounter the greatest difficulty in making waterproof haystacks. Unless one makes a careful study of this matter, with a determination to succeed, he will never stack hay so that it will keep. It will pay any farmer, who from lack of barns or sheds is compelled to stack his hay outside, and who is uncertain as to his ability to do a good job, to hire a thoroughly competent stacker to do it for him. A few practical lessons under such a person will enable any man of ordinary skill and judgment to build a symmetrical haystack.

The stack must be built from bottom to top. A foundation of rails is the best to begin on. I mark the corners of the stack by setting poles straight up about one foot outside of where I wish to build. These are my guides. I begin in the middle of the stack and build it up three or four feet, tramping down very solid. Next, I lay a course down on each side and across the ends, then fill the middle again, always keeping it two or three feet higher than the sides, and tramped as solid as possible.

Never walk along the outer edge of the stack. Do all building from as near the middle as possible. The whole secret of building a waterproof haystack consists in keeping the middle solid and highest from bottom to top, and the outside as low and light as possible. Many farmers build a stack flat until they begin to top out, but such a stack will take water nine times out of ten. Make the stack look as though you were topping it out from the beginning.

I always allow a stack of hay to settle a day or two, before putting on the last load. When there are indications of rain, I spread over it a canvas stack-cover made for the purpose. The last load I put on when only about two-thirds curved. It soon curves on the top of the stack, and settles down as solid as a board, making a cover nearly impervious to water. The stack is raked down perfectly smooth, pieces of fence wire with blocks attached to the ends thrown across it to hold the top on, and with the exception of a thin cover, I find my hay as good and bright the following spring as when stacked.

Won the Wager.
Says the Detroit Free Press: Fred Flasher and Miss Florentia Plouffe were discussing the mental power of controlling thought. Said Flasher: "I will give you a pair of gloves if you can think of positively nothing for five minutes, and still be awake." "Done," she responded.

Five minutes passed. "I've won the gloves!" she exclaimed.

"How did you manage to think of nothing for the whole five minutes?" he asked, eagerly.

"I fastened my mind firmly on your mistake and kept it there," she replied, triumphantly.

The referee awarded her the gloves.

The Methodist ministers of Providence, R. I., recently discussed the question of ordaining women to the ministry. The presiding elder, Rev. Dr. Talbot, said he did not object to women preaching, but there were some of the duties of a minister they could not perform—baptism, by immersion, for instance.

FACTS FOR THE CURIOUS.

Alligator fat is now used for cooking purposes in some parts of Florida.

Two harnessed crocodiles tamely drew a wagon into Atlanta.

Taxable valuation of the 537 churches in Philadelphia, $18,742,971.

Three thousand five hundred pounds of whalebone have been obtained from one whale.

The proboscis of the mosquito consists of a flexible sheath, containing six distinct surgical instruments.

The Greenland whale possesses no teeth in an adult state, though before birth teeth are found in the gum.

It is said that the steam power actually in use throughout the world is equal to 13,500,000 horse power.

Sir Samuel Baker says that no pet animals are to be found among African tribes, even where there are children.

The collector of Baltimore recently drew a check for one cent in favor of a New York firm, this being the amount of overpaid duty.

During the late storm in Indiana a waterpout is said to have chased a railroad train, which made the best time possible to get out of its reach and succeeded.

The body of every spider is furnished with four little lumps, pierced with tiny holes, from each of which issues a single thread, and, when a thousand of these from each lump are joined together they make the silk line of which the spider spins its web, and which we call a spider's thread.

There is in Brazil a common poisonous snake, the surucucu, respecting which the following facts are related: The natives say that such is the antipathy of the reptile to fire that they will rush into it, scattering it with their tails till it is extinguished, even becoming half roasted in the attempt.

A Precious Stone Found in Georgia.

Near Atlanta Constitution says: Near Norcross there resides an old German geologist, who loves to live among the peculiar specimens of mineral and vegetable matter which he has unearthed and housed. He is an elderly gentleman of little sociability, but of great mental acquisitions. His physical endurance is simply astonishing. For days at a time he wanders over the hills and through the dales near his home, collecting rocks and stones, limbs and roots, the properties of which are unknown to all but himself.

The room in which his collection is, is wonderful. In one receptacle are ranged a number of stones whose bright rays remind the observer of diamonds. In the center of this room there rests a stone half the size of a hen's egg, which was picked up by the owner months and months ago. It was found by its owner one rainy afternoon. For nearly a week he had been on a tramp through the hills and dales near his home, and weary with his ceaseless toil he was wending his way home when his eyes fell upon something from which the rays of the sun were scattered in a thousand directions.

With little thought of what he was doing, the geologist stooped down and picked up the object. It was nearly the size of a hen's egg, and of an irregular shape. It was covered in many places with thick, heavy clay, which was removed with great care.

It was found to be exceedingly hard, and whenever struck with a hard substance gave forth little sound. It was almost colorless with a hue and tinge of green. Its form was that of an octahedron, but some of the faces or sides were inclined to be convex, while the edges were curved.

It was subjected to acids and alkalis without experiencing any perceptible change.

Some friends induced him to place it on the market, and only a day or two ago he received a letter from a diamond dealer in New York offering him $46,000 for it.

The Costliest Chess Table in the World.

At the Hamilton sale, in London, a square chess table of cinque-cento work in damascened iron was sold. The table is inlaid with panels and carvings of elaborate gold and silver damascene work, and with slabs of lapis lazuli; every part of the column supporting the table is covered with arabesque of exquisite design in gold and silver and relief ornaments in gilt bronze, with figures in the round; Milanese work, circa 1540, reputed to have been presented by a duke of Milan to a prince of Savoy, from the Soltykoff and Debruge-Damnil collection. A great contest occurred for this extraordinary table between Mr. Loewenstein and Mr. Denison, the latter gentleman being the purchaser at £3,150, about $16,000.

A Singular Invention.

Albert Fearnought, of Indianapolis, has secured letters patent for a singular invention. It consists of providing a signal by means of which any person who has been buried under the false impression that he was dead can, upon returning to consciousness, inform the person in charge of the cemetery of the fact. The invention is so constructed that the buried person can exist, after coming to life, until help comes, by means of a free air circulating back and forth while under ground.

There are over 1,800 people in Paris of both sexes employed in making habilliments and decorations for pet dogs. The yearly trade done by them is estimated to be between five and six million francs.

Many a man is not satisfied to live on the face of the earth. He tries to live on his own face.

FOR THE FAIR SEX.

Fashion Notes.

A present fancy is painted lace.

Brocade and printed silks show fruit designs.

Twine lace is quite a novel style of trimming; it is effective, and used on cotton and silk toiles.

Powdered hair is stylish for ceremonious occasion this season, but it is rarely becoming to any but brunettes.

A bonnet has actually been trimmed with a bunch of artificial artichokes ornamented by caterpillars.

A novel process is announced in France by which the wool on sheep skins may be transformed into velvet.

Millions of people are putting happiness away off in the future, when they might enjoy it to-day just as well. Resolve to be happy now.

The present simple and becoming style of hairdressing is made to look charming by the addition of diamond pins stuck here and there in the tow chignon and amid the fluted waves.

Summer hats are fashionably trimmed with white silk muslin arranged in full, soft folds about the crown of the hat. This trimming is especially adapted to the seashore, where feathers soon lose their freshness.

Silk and lisle thread mitts and gloves come in all the new shades of terra cotta, shrimp pink, buzzer gray or gray blue, ficelle cream and olive; but after all, more black and ivory white ones are worn than all the rest put together.

Veilings and cashmeres in the esthetic shades of color, with "plumetis" embroidery in contrasting color to the grounds, are used in combination with rich silken velvet stuffs for the handsomest seaside ball toilets.

Wives Wanted.

In the far West, says an exchange, women are in great demand, not only as cooks, but for wives. It is said that the first courageous young lady who accompanied her family to the Black Hills received not less than fifteen offers of marriage in three weeks in Deadwood.

At Castle Garden, New York, the superintendent is constantly receiving letters from Western men, asking him to send them wives. They say there are almost no marriageable women in the forlorn regions where their lot is cast. Many of these men are already wealthy.

All can support wives in comfort. In one requirement the letters of these sturdy bachelors agree with an unanimity that is remarkable. They invariably want wives that can keep house. This swings us round the circle again and back to the fact that there is plenty of work and pay in the world for all women who are good housekeepers. Each lone, lorn Western man, in stating his wishes, hints directly or indirectly at the pivotal point around which the happiness of the average man revolves—good cookery. Some plainly state their wishes on this point, others hint at their meaning in a delicate manner.

One man wants a wife who can do "housework and appear well in company." Another, who likewise had some cravings for the esthetic, asked, as usual, for a woman who could do housework, but who was also not a fool.

The Fastest Trotting Horses.

Down to the close of 1881 the records show that there are fifteen trotters in the United States with a record of 2:20—Annie W., Belle Brasfield, Captain Emmons, Elaine, Frank, Little Fred, Fleety Goldust, Mambrino Gift, Orange Girl, Nancy Hackett, Humboldt, Etie Jones, John H., Prospero and May Queen. Nine have made a mile in 2:19, viz.: Adelaide, Clingstone, Camora, John S. Clark, Daisydale, Josephus, Flora Temple, Deck Wright, Fannie Witherspoon. Four have done it in 2:19—Will Cody, Moose, Troubadour and Thomas L. Young. Seven in 2:19—Bodine, Comet, Croxie, Driver, Keene J., George Palmer and Parana. Nine in 2:19—Albemarle, Alley, Francis Alexander, Kitty Bates, Bonesetter, Cozette, Edwards, Graves, Wedgewood. Nine in 2:18—Monarch Chief, Slow Go, Lucy, Lady Maude, Midnight, Nutwood, Patchen, Lady Thorne and J. B. Thomas. Nine have a record of 2:18—Rad Olund, Great Eastern, Edwin Forrest, Judge Fullerton, Robert McGregor, Nettie, Proteine, Kate Sprague, Dick Swiveller. One a record of 2:17, Hanness; two, Santa Claus and Edwin Thorne. 2:17; three, Dexter, Piedmont and Santa Claus. 2:17; one, Gloster. 2:17; two, Charlie Ford and Occident. 2:16; two, Darby and American Girl. 2:16; one, Lucille Goldust. 2:16; one, Battie Woodward. 2:15; one, Smuggler. 2:15; one, Lula. 2:15; one, Hopeful. 2:14; two, Goldsmith Maid and Trinket. 2:14; and one, Rarus. 2:13. St. Julian crowded his record down to 2:11; and finally Mau S. takes the lead of this long line of eighty-three trotters who have made 2:20 or better, with the unequalled record of 2:10. [Chicago Inter Ocean.

Says the Brooklyn Eagle: Mr. R. C. Moore, of Messrs. Vernam & Co., 34 New street, New York, was almost instantly relieved by St. Jacobs Oil of severe pain following an attack of pleurisy. The remedy acted like magic.

An Iowa man tried to raise $15 by giving a chattel mortgage on his wife, but no capitalist would advance more than $7.

The art connoisseur and exhibitor, Prof. Cromwell, was cured of rheumatism by St. Jacobs Oil.—Norfolk Virginian.

Twin Ailments That Vex Us.

Those hateful twines, constipation and biliousness, have a capacity for producing local and nervous distress rivalled by but a few ailments that vex us. Vertigo, pain in the region of the liver, flatulence, foul breath, violent headaches and constantly recurring indigestion are among those detestable progeny. Any or all of these may be aggravated by neglect or bad medicines to a degree unsupportable by the veriest Spartan. They receive their quietus with greater celerity and thoroughness from Hostetter's Stomach Bitters than from any remedy known to materia medica. The medicine, happily, unlike some drugs, is eminently salutary in its after effects upon the general health. It is also a reliable specific for and preventive of fever and ague and other maladies.

Alme is coming back to America in the fall. Her voice is not as well proportioned as it used to be, but what is better, her ankle retains all its old-time sweetness, compass and power.

"Do you believe in signs?" asked the shopkeeper. "Well, yes, I used to," said Foggi; but since you placed in the window, 'selling for less than cost,' I have weakened considerably."

GREATEST DISCOVERY SINCE 1493.

For coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, laryngitis, and consumption in its early stages, nothing equals Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." It is also a great blood-purifier and strength-restorer or tonic, and for liver complaint and costive conditions of the bowels it has no equal. Sold by druggists.

They don't have rains out west. A cloud just saunters up and examines a town and then collapses right over it. Nobody escapes but the newspaper reporters and the book agents.

Young, middle-aged, or old men, suffering from nervous debility or kindred affections, should address, with two stamps, for large treatise, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, New York.

It is said that paper can be compressed into a substance so hard that only diamonds can scratch it. That will be the boss paper on which to print election tickets.

WHAT'S SAVED IS GAINED.

Workmen will economize by employing Dr. Pierce's Medicine. His "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" and "Golden Medical Discovery" cleanse the blood and system thus preventing fevers and other serious diseases, and curing all scrofulous and other humors. Sold by druggists.

Said a fond husband to his wife: "My dear, I think I'll buy you a little dog." "Oh, no!" she replied, "do not! I prefer giving you all my affections!"

FOR DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, depression of spirits and general debility, in their various forms; also as a preventive against fever and ague and other intermitte fevers, the "Ferro-Phosphated Elixir of Calisaya," made by Cassell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic; and for patients recovering from fever or other sickness, it has no equal.

Women Should Not Suffer.

Time Testers and Burden Bearers.

From time immemorial the horse has been man's best friend. But a few years back we can all remember the comparatively little attention paid to this most indispensable of animals. We saw comparatively little attention, for the horse was as well groomed, and certainly as well fed, as now; and that those great gatherings—agricultural shows—where you would see the pride of the county and State stables and farms assembled. But there was a conspicuous want of noble draught horses, and as for speeders—well, 2:40 was the great ultimate limit that owners in those days desired to strive for. But now a 2:40 animal is esteemed a fair roadster, and fine animals only deserve the name when they can shade the first quarter of the third minute. There have been immense strides forward in the right development of horsemanship in the civilized countries of the world, as shown by the time-records of the racers and draught capacity of the humbler, but really more useful, work-horse. Many things have conspired to effect this desirable end, chief among which have been the intelligent care and consideration bestowed upon the animal in his every relation—in a word, upon the breeding. And this has not failed to include a very serious modification of the old methods of treatment, doing away, in many cases, with the inhuman and really savage plans pursued in the eradication of even simple disorders and ailments, and substituting rational measures of relief instead. A prominent factor of this reform, and one indorsed by owners, breeders, farmers and stockmen the country over, is St. Jacobs Oil, recognized by all who have used it as an exceptionally good remedy for the ailments of the horse and stock generally, meeting more indications for its use and effecting far better results than any article of a curative or remedial nature ever introduced. Such breeders and horsemen as Aristides Welch, Esq., of Edenheim, near Philadelphia; Mike Goodlin, formerly in charge of Mr. Robert Bonner's stock, New York; and thousands of others throughout the country, who could be named, are the best of qualified endorsers of the efficacy of St. Jacobs Oil.

Merchant's GARGLING OIL LINIMENT

for human, fowl and animal flesh, was first prepared and introduced by Dr. Geo. W. Merchant, in Lockport N. Y., U. S. A., 1833, since which time it has steadily grown in public favor, and is now acknowledged and admitted by the trade to be the standard liniment of the country. When we make this announcement, we do so without fear of contradiction, notwithstanding we are aware there are many who are more or less prejudiced against proprietary remedies, especially on account of the many humbugs on the market; however, we are pleased to state that such prejudice does not exist against GARGLING OIL. We do not claim wonders or miracles for our liniment, but we do claim it is without an equal. It is put up in bottles of three sizes, and all we ask is that you give it a fair trial, remembering that the Oil put up with white wrapper (small) is for human and fowl flesh, and that with yellow wrapper (three sizes) for animal flesh. Try a bottle.

As these cuts indicate, the Oil is used successfully for all diseases of the human, fowl and animal flesh. Shake well before using.

Cannot be Disputed.

One of the principal reasons of the wonderful success of Merchant's Gargling Oil is that it is manufactured strictly on honor. Its proprietors do not, as is the case with too many, after making for their medicine a name, diminish its curative properties by using inferior compounds, but use the very best goods to be bought in the market, regardless of cost. For half a century Merchant's Gargling Oil has been a synonym for honesty, and will continue to be so, long as time endures. For sale by all respectable dealers throughout the United States and other countries.

Our testimonials date from 1833 to the present. Try Merchant's Gargling Oil Liniment for internal and external use, and tell your neighbor what good it has done.

Don't fail to follow directions. Keep the bottle well corked.
