CLINTON, N. C., — MAY 9, 1889.

THE CAUCASIAN'S RECORD.

CIRCULATION: 1,450.

One year ago it was less than 800. During the last seven weeks we have mailed over 14,000 copies.

Raleigh votes $100,000 for improvements.

The great Centennial and International Exhibition of Paris opened Monday.

The President has appointed his brother, John Scott, a Democrat, U. S. Marshal of Tenn.

Nichols, of Raleigh, did not get the appointment as Public Printer. It is F. W. Palmer, of Illinois.

Every person who has ever been a student of the University is invited to attend next commencement and participate in the banquets, receptions and literary exercises of the Centennial Celebration.

France celebrated the centennial of the meeting of the States General, at Versailles, May 6th, 1789. President Carnot made a ringing speech. A would-be Gaiten shot at him while delivering the same, but no damage was done. The event celebrated by France was the beginning of her great revolution; the event celebrated by America, less than a week before, was the happy result of our revolution. We know how to take care of our liberties when once gained. This the French have yet to learn.

NEXT CENSUS.

Be Ready to Give Statistics About Your Farm.

In 1890 an officer of the Federal Government will call upon every farmer in this State, and expect to receive correct answers to many questions propounded in regard to his farm and operations thereon.

These statistics are very important, and all are interested in them. They will refer almost exclusively to the crops of the present year, 1889. It behooves every farmer, therefore, to make correct answers to all questions propounded by these officers. Among the many questions asked will be the number of acres in the several crops, and the aggregate in cultivation; value of farm implements; and also of live stock; cost of fertilizers used; estimated value of all farm productions for the present year, 1889; number of horses, mules, oxen, milch cows, and other cattle, sheep, swine, milk, butter, cheese, etc.

Every one should feel interested in these statistics, and endeavor to have them correct and full, so as to make a creditable showing for our commonwealth, as well as to furnish a large and growing demand for correct statistical information of our agricultural interests, which at present is very inadequate.

John Robinson, Commissioner.

MISTAKING BIGNESS FOR GREATNESS.

Bishop Potter in his sermon in St. Pauls Church, New York, on centennial day, April the 30th, said:—

Another enormous difference between this day and that of which it is the anniversary is to be seen in the enormous difference in the nature and influence of the forces that determine our National and political destiny. Then, ideas ruled the hour. Today, there are indeed ideas that rule our hour, but they must be merchantable ideas. The growth of wealth, the prevalence of luxury, the massing of large material forces, which by their very existence are a standing menace to the freedom and integrity of the individual, the infinite swag of our American speech and manners, mistaking bigness for greatness and sully confounding gain and godliness—all this is a contrast to the austere simplicity, the unpurchaseable integrity of the first days and first men of our Republic, which makes it impossible to reproduce today either the temper or the conduct of our fathers.

THERE ARE FEW SUCH.

In speaking of Mr. Barnum, ex-President Cleveland said: "He was the most unselfish man I ever knew. He gave liberally of his time and money for the benefit of the Democratic party, and never used his position as chairman of the national committee to advance the fortunes of himself or his personal political friends."

Daniel Lamont said: "Mr. Barnum's interest in the success of the party was so great that he denied himself the rest which he should have demanded. When the victory of 1854 was won he was content that his party was in power, and he made no demands and had no favors to press. His death is a great loss to the party."

And what Texas and South Carolina can do North Carolina can do. Brethren of Sampson, Bladen and Duplin, will you set the remainder of the State an example in this direction?

Buy for Cash and Make Your Own Guano. Extract from an address delivered by Walter Zimmerman before the Spartanburg County Alliance:

If the organization of the Farmers' Alliance hopes to be a success it must cope upon a cash basis. Do not criticize me until you hear me. I know that many of us have "run an account" so long that we would feel like a fish out of water to run one. I know that when the husband announced at the fireside, "We'll go on the cash system this year, Mary," that the good wife would be a loss to know what had gotten "hold of John," and the children would stare vacantly up the chimney, wondering what was going to happen. But I know two, that at the end of a few years, poor indebted John would soon come proudly up the front walk to meet joyful Mary at the front door, instead of having to find her in the chimney corner, with the long outlines of debt upon her dejected face. I know that the children would be happier, for they would get a bright smile and a lot of paid for luxury instead of a frown and a piece of "bocken" candy.

This store account is the judge who pronounces upon the farmer a sentence congnizing him to a social and financial hell.

This store account is the rat which gnaws a hole in the farmer's corn crib door; it is the sampler of the farmer's cotton bales, which leaves nothing but bagging and ties; it is the cannon which upturns Jackson's parapet and turns the enemy of life time debt into our financial, educational, and social New Orleans.

Brethren, if there is one cause of the embarrassed condition of the fagme to day, that cause is the store account balanced with the farmer's interest.

But how can I pay cash when I haven't got it? A stout question, but its solution is possible, yes—it is not impracticable. In the first place raise a large part of your own store. As I have intimated, twenty-five dollars will buy the necessities of a one horse farm for one year. Of course this means outside of guano. But let me insist that it is not a sin to raise a crop without guano. Make a large part of your own guano during intervals between work seasons, mind you. Then if you have no cash borrow it. If you pay ten per cent for money it is cheaper during a large part of the year than to pay ten per cent above first cost of goods. Ten per cent above cost of goods does not mean ten per cent per annum. It might mean 1,000 per cent. But the fact is merchants cannot afford to sell on time at ten per cent per annum above first cost.

But can I borrow money? We answer that a good lien or mortgage can bring money as well as goods. Especially is this true if an honest, industrious man is behind the mortgage, and I am not troubling myself about how a dishonest man can get money, for he knows well enough himself.

I say that a lien with an honest man behind is gold. This plan will work. Why? Because there is money to loan, and all the loaners want is collateral. Other Alliance States are working this plan, and what Texas can do, South Carolina can do.

And what Texas and South Carolina can do North Carolina can do. Brethren of Sampson, Bladen and Duplin, will you set the remainder of the State an example in this direction?

Plain History. Swift's Specific is a simple vegetable compound, prepared from roots gathered freshly from the forest, and contains in thing of this mineral kingdom, or any poisonous substance, and any article at all which comes from the chemist's laboratory. The formula of the remedy was obtained from the Creek Indians in Middle Georgia, by reliable white men, who had witnessed the wonderful cure made by this tribe of Indians, of blood diseases. Mr. Hugh L. Demand, of Houston county, Ga., began using Swift's Specific in 1829, and confirmed its use all of his life, and asserted that he had never known it to fail to cure any case of scrofula, blood taint, or contagious blood poison. This testimony has been corroborated every day for years. The present Company was formed in 1879, and have since made known to the world the virtues of Swift's Specific, and to-day it is sold in every city, town and country store all over America, Great Britain, and many other portions of the world.

I have seen Swift's Specific, used, and known of many cases of the worst form of blood diseases which have been cured by it. I know the peccators to be genuine, the ingredients of the highest and utmost reliability. I recommend it as a great blood remedy, unequalled by anything that I know of. M. B. WEAVER, Pastor First Baptist Church, Montgomery, Alabama.
