CLINTON, N. C., - OCT. 3, 1889.

New York's hopes for the World's Fair in 1892 are now brighter than those of any other place.

The trial of Cross and White set for the recent term of court at Raleigh has been postponed until November.

Rev. Sam Jones begins another meeting in Durham on the 5th instant. He is a favorite of Durham and Durham is a favorite of his.

Rev. R. G. Pearson, the Evangelist, is conducting a series of meetings at Charlotte. The Chronicle says he is accomplishing great good.

Davidson College opened this year with unusually bright prospects. A larger percentage of old students returned than usual and the freshman class is the largest in the history of the institution.

The spirit of partisanship is the greatest obstacle in the way of reform; it blinds its victims to actual conditions and prevents careful and honest investigations of issues and conditions. It leads men to permit others to think for them, and so leaves the masses ignorant upon questions of the most vital importance to them and the Nation.—National Economist.

One by one the gallant survivors of the Lost Cause are passing away. In the death of Gen. D. H. Hill, which occurred at Charlotte on the 24th ult., another of the South's bravest defenders has entered the haven of rest. His remains now lie in the church yard at Davidson College, along side those of four of his children who went before him. He was a brave and able commander and a brother-in-law of Stonewall Jackson.

If there be another great European war during the present generation, it will be fought by new men. The commanders in the great Franco-German struggle are nearly all dead or superannuated. General Faidherbe, whose death on last Saturday ended a career made brilliant by his resolute defense of northern France against Mantouffel, leaves behind him few comrades of his own rank. Of twenty-four noted generals in our own Union war, but six survive. "So runs the world away."

Secretary of War Proctor wishes to locate the blood-thirsty Indian Chief, Geronimo, and his band in Western North Carolina. Gov. Fowle has written Secretary Proctor a letter plainly stating that North Carolina does not want a pack of blood-thirsty red men turned loose within its borders and suggests that they be sent to the deserted lands of Vermont, Proctor's native State. Geronimo, it will be remembered, is one of the most cruel and treacherous chiefs in the country and he and his band of Apaches have been for some time, kept closely confined in Mt. Vernon barracks, Alabama.

The annual sum expended by the United States for pensions alone to Union soldiers is $88,000,000—one-third of the total cost of running this government. If it were all just and deserved it would be well enough, but a great part of this money is fraudulently expended—and increasing from year to year. As many men actually draw pensions, it is said, as were enlisted during the war, and from this it would seem that the loss of the North was comparatively small. All the grand army men are not paupers, and surely the wounded and widows are not so abundant as statistics would have you believe. But this is the Republican method of reducing the surplus.

CUMBERLAND NEWS.

PROGRESSIVE FAYETTEVILLE—WATER WORKS SOON TO BE BUILT.

Dam Breaks in the River Causing Delay on the New Bridge.

[Reg. Cor. CAUCASIAN.] FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 30th, 1889.]

Fayetteville is having her share of fires this year. Tuesday morning, about one o'clock, the residence of Capt. R. H. Tomlinson, on Gillespie street, was burned. Capt. Tomlinson and Mr. Elliott, who were sleeping there were awakened by the smoke. Nothing but the piano and a few chairs saved. The building was owned by George Williams, superintendent of the State Colored Normal School and was insured for $1,000. Insurance on furniture $750.00.

Mr. W. F. Holmes, of Cumberland mill has been elected superintendent of the Fayetteville cotton mills, in place of Mr. J. T. Allridge.

The Farmers' Exchange, the new paper, made its appearance last Wednesday. It is edited by Mrs. J. & O. Evans, and is a neat and spicy paper.

Mr. Geo. W. Wightman, a well known young business man, left last week for Pine Bluff, Ark., to accept a position in a large cotton commission house at a good salary.

This city is rapidly undergoing a change. Old buildings are giving place to new ones, and vacant lots are being utilized.

Capt. J. B. Bradford is remodeling his residence on Haymount. Mr. D. H. Ray is building a two-story dwelling on Hay street.

Mr. Geo. P. McNell has just commenced a $1,000 residence on Rowan street and is building another to rent, adjoining it. Capt. Muse, of the "Short Cut" railroad has bought a house on Rowan street and is repairing and improving it.

Mr. Frank Thornton is building five new houses on Maiden Lane. Mr. S. C. Ayer, is building two houses on Person street. The Yadkin Valley railroad is building a new passenger depot at a cost, it is said, of $16,000.

Mr. T. S. Luterloh has about completed his new house on Haymount. Small tenement houses are being built by the dozen, and still the demand for houses is not satisfied.

If this is not a sign of progress, what is?

Mr. T. A. Barker, manager of the Hotel Lafayette, will return in a day or two from his summer resort on Campbello Island, off Eastport, Maine. He has thoroughly advertised the hotel here as a winter resort, and it is probable that it will be filled this winter with northern guests.

The gas-light and electric light companies were purchased last Friday by the Egypt coal mining company. The new owners will make extensive improvements and extend the use of both. They will make coal gas, using the coal from the Egypt mines.

It is said that this city will have a fine system of water-works in another year. The works are to be built by a Northern company. While we have the purest water in the world, it is not in sufficient quantities for fire purposes.

The fire department has had an additional appropriation of $400 from the town lately. The interest in the department has been on the wane for sometime and a paid department is a necessity.

Mr. Julian S. Carr, the chief marshal of the Centennial celebration is taking a great interest in it. He has already appointed forty assistants among the leading men of the State, whom the Durham Globe says, would be well worth coming to see, if there were no other attractions.

The cotton market was lively on Saturday. The receipts during the past week were about 350 bales. The prices paid are the same as the Wilmington market. The high price is drawing the staple from all directions.

To-morrow the postoffice will be turned over to the new Republican postmaster, Mr. D. F. Wemyss.

The office of the Postal Telegraph and Commercial Cable Company is the handsomest in the city. There is four batteries and two operators. The receipts have been three times as large as expected at this office. The company will soon put up a branch line from here to Wilmington, going by Elizabethtown on the west side of the river.

The coffer dam in the middle of the river broke in last Wednesday and the excavation soon filled with sand and water. This will delay the work three weeks or more. It is hard to get a foundation.

Rev. Jos. Wheeler, of the Hay street M. E. Church, has returned improved in health.

Rev. T. P. Barclay preached at St. Paul's, in Robeson county, yesterday where Fayetteville Brevetery is in session. A large crowd went down from here.

Rev. W. B. Oliver, the new

DUPLIN NEWS.

MEETING OF THE COUNTY ALLIANCE—MORE STOCK AND FRUIT SHOULD BE RAISED.

Sad Affliction of a Kenansville Family.

[Spec. Cor. To The Caucasian.] KENANSVILLE, N. C., Sept. 30th, 1889.

THE CAUCASIAN is all the while improving.

Mr. Hank M. Sawyer, of Magnolia, won the county scholarship at the Agricultural and Mechanical College.

Mrs. Rebecca Hines, wife of Mr. C. S. Hines, of Faison, died on the 26th of September. Her husband and children have the sympathy of the people of the county in this sad bereavement.

It is said that Mr. Jno. E. Alderman sold $18.25 worth of pears from two trees. Let us raise more stock, more fruit and a greater variety of farm products.

The staggers is proving fatal to many horses in certain portions of the county.

The County Alliance was in session on Saturday, September 28th. Our friends of the Alliance show by their efforts that they are determined to bring about an improvement in our condition. It is apparent even to the casual observer that there is a need of a remedy for our poverty. The organization that can put into effect counteracting influences will prove a benefactor indeed.

Mr. Jas. W. Cox, his sons D. S. and J. C. Cox and daughter, Miss Ella, have typhoid fever, the first two being at their home in Kenansville and the last two in Wilmington. The condition of Mr. J. C. Cox is quite critical. The family have recently lost a member in the person of Mr. J. F. Cox. They deserve the sympathies of everybody in this hour of sad bereavement and sore affliction.

THE CAUCASIAN was adopted as the official organ of the County Alliances by the County Alliance, January 19th.

Let every Alliance man remember our pledges to buy nothing but cotton bagging if we can possibly get it, and by no means to buy jute, under any circumstances. The man who is not with the Alliance on this point is against it and must be so branded.

Can the County Alliance not do a great deal to make our Sampson fair a success? Suppose there be a committee appointed in every sub-Alliance to see that their section is properly represented by a creditable exhibit. The effect would be to make the fair a big success. Let it be done, for Sampson must not do anything by halves.

What a good example the Alliance can set to-morrow by taking hold of and successfully inaugurating an enterprise which would put thousands of dollars into the pockets of our farmers, and also be the means of stimulating others to start or invest in smaller enterprises which would do so much toward building up our county. Let us start the canning factory and if it is a success other enterprises will surely follow.

The Presidents or representatives of nearly every sub-Alliance of the county met here on last Saturday and, in secret meeting, received, from the County President the special and secret instructions from the National Cotton Committee. This information was communicated to the various sub-Alliances in their called meetings yesterday. The matter will be further discussed and explained in the county meetings to-morrow.

Farmers' and Laborers' Union of America.

The above is the new name for the consolidated wheels and Alliances. Messrs. C. W. Macune, president of the National Farmers' Alliance; Isaac McCracken, president of the National Agricultural wheel; and Evan Jones, the new president of the consolidated organization are out in a proclamation stating that whereas the new constitution formed at Meridian last December has been adopted by three-fourths of the State wheels and Alliances that the two organizations are therefore merged and consolidated into one body to be known as the "Farmers' and Laborers' Union of America." The new constitution went into effect on last Tuesday, the first of October.

Beulah.

Our people are seeing more of the evils of using commercial fertilizer each year, and less of it will be used next season than for many years. One of our members who made the experiment of using no guano on cotton along side of some on which guano was used, made the statement that if any man could tell any difference between the cotton he would give him the first bale he picked. The sooner our farmers abandon guano and use home-made fertilizers, the better for them and for the country. As an example of what can be done without commercial fertilizers, we would say that one of the best farmers in this community bought a piece of land, worked out the money to pay for it, and that without the use of commercial fertilizer.

It is discussion of principles, and not of mere undertakings, that bring great results. Principles once thoroughly understood, the means of establishing them are readily arrived at.—National Economist.

The first duty of a nation is to provide all its own necessities and thus become independent of obligation to others. To do this the lands of the nation, from which all values must be derived, should afford labor the ready and convenient access.

Neuralgic Persons And those troubled with nervousness resulting from overwork will be relieved by taking Brown's Iron Bitters. Genuine has trade-mark and crossed red lines on wrapper.
