I believe that the religion of the future will come, with the spirit of the great poet, more and more back until it is harmonized with that spirit within that TRUE RELIGION HUMANITARIAN.

Then I said that the religion of the future is to be humanitarian. The "Son of Man" was Jesus. It was the one name that was on his lips from day to daythe "Son of Man." I believe that the central idea of the teachings of the great apostle Paul likewise centered there, for Paul said, "You may have hope-yes, may give away your goods and have prophecy and all the Christian gracesand yet if you have not love you are The Ind.
