The Chinaman is a mere periodical migrant who wants to make his little pile among the outer barbarians, and then return to the flowery land to spend his declining years and to be buried in the land of his fathers. The second thing is that wherever they go they are displacing Chinese labor. They are in every way superior to Chinese servants, and in Australia command wages on the Australian or English scale. Men and women alike emigrate, and the Japanese government favors the emigration. - Melbourne

Faithful to the Kilt. One of the last of the Scotsmen who never forsook the kilt, but wore it in season and out, has passed away in Mr. Alexander Robertson of Dunkeld, known locally as "Dundonnachie," who was son of a former rector of Dumfries and a man of mark in his district. His notoriety dated from 1857, when he began an agitation for removing the toll from the bridge over the Tay at Dunkeld on the ground that the Duke of Athole, who got the money, was not entitled to it. The military had to be called in to protect the tollbar, and "Dundonnachie" got sent to jail for the obsolete offense of "murmuring a judge," under an act which had not been enforced for three
