RICHMOND PEARSON AFTER THE MACHINE.

The Sugar Trust Investigation, a Farce—What the Norfolk Election Means.

Washington, D. C., May 31st.—The report that Richmond Pearson is looking after the registration books in the 9th Cong. Dist. has dreadfully dispirited the Washington end of the State "machine".

MINUTING THE REGISTRATION BOOKS. The man who think the next election in the State will be won on the merits of public discussion will find himself stupidly and woefully mistaken when the registration books are counted on election day.

OVER "THE MACHINE." which can be repeated in every county in North Carolina. A prominent Democrat who voted the "reform" ticket in that election said to your correspondent: " Norfolk election had become a disgrace to Virginia."

SUGAR SCANDAL INVESTIGATION. It was a perfectly safe prediction, that the sugar investigation would end in a farce.

MR. PEELE'S IDEA

SHALL WE NOT BE AS WISE FOR OUR OWN SALVATION AS OUR ENEMIES ARE FOR OUR DESTRUCTION?

A DIVISION OF OUR PEOPLE IS A VICIOUS FOR WALL STREET.

Mr. Peelle Suggests How People Who Are For the Same Reform Can Act Together.

Mr. Editor:—From two-thirds to three-fourths of those who voted for Mr. Cleveland, and from two-thirds to three-fourths who voted for Mr. Weaver, in our State at the last election, are demanding practically the same reforms.

Yet in spite of this practical unanimity of sentiment and community of interest among our people, Wall Street may be able, in the coming election, by working upon the cupidity and selfishness, the party spirit and class-feeling of our people, to divide them up into two or three factions.

They have now even thrown off the thin disguise of pretended division, and are everywhere defying the idol of party organization, which they have so sedulously taught us to worship!

COXEY'S ARMY IN WASHINGTON AGAIN.

GENERAL CALVIN ARRIVES WITH RECRUITS.

They Place Wreaths of Flowers and Evergreens Upon the Peace Monument on Pennsylvania Avenue.

(Condensed from Press Dispatches.)

Washington, D. C., May 30.—Coxey's ragged army of tramps, reinforced by the 150 men under Gen. Calvin (who arrived at the Coxey camp yesterday) marched into town this morning and decorated the peace monument on Pennsylvania Avenue at the western end of the capitol grounds with wreaths of evergreen and wild flowers.

MORE WASTE OF YOUR MONEY.

THE PRESIDENT, THE MALTY HOUSE AND CONGRESSIONAL JUNKETING.

EX-Congressman Watson Continues to Give the Facts With the Figures.—These Things Will Be a Revelation to the People.

The annual salary of our Chief Magistrate is $50,000.

First comes the expense of election; but as the funds for this purpose are furnished by the whiskey, the sugar trust, the railroad, and an occasional speculator who buys him an office and pays for it in advance.

Having declared the result of the election, the next thing is to swear in the President. Formerly the cost of doing so was next to nothing.

In the Sundry Civil Bill, passed by the House March 20, 1894, I find that you supplied Mr. Cleveland with $25,000 for new furniture and repairs; $3,000 for fuel for a mansion and stables; $4,000 to repair the lower house; $1,500 to buy a picture of Benj. Harrison, the Republican President who preceded the present Republican President.

Then you supply Mr. Cleveland with $1,000 to pay for lamps, matches, lamp-lighters, gas and gas-fitters, fuel, etc., and $765.50 for electric lights.

AN ACT OF USURPATION.

SENATOR PEPPER WRITES A LETTER TO A NORTH CAROLINIAN.

HE ANSWERS A QUESTION AND GIVES THE FACTS AND THE LAW.

Cleveland and Kilgore Have Both Broken the Law and Violated Their Oaths.—Will any Democrat Answer Senator Pepper?

Brown's Summit, N. C., May 31. EDITOR THE CAUCASIAN:

A few days ago I wrote Senator Pepper a letter asking him the following question: "Did the Secretary of the Treasury set aside $100,000,000 in gold for the redemption of greenbacks with or without authority of law?"

The only law on the subject is what is contained in the resumption act of 1875, and that authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to sell bonds for coin with which to redeem the United States notes on and after the first day of January, 1879.

When ex-Congressman Kitchin arose he was cheered and cheered again by the vast audience. He said that he came to Wilson today to talk no new doctrine.

Then you supply Mr. Cleveland with $1,000 to pay for lamps, matches, lamp-lighters, gas and gas-fitters, fuel, etc., and $765.50 for electric lights.

Some will simply hold to the ten-inch iron bands, while others, more timid, will tie on.

A GREAT DAY AT WILSON.

EX-CONGRESSMAN KITCHIN AND COL. HARRY SKINNER MADE ELOQUENT AND TELLING SPEECHES.

A Large and Enthusiastic Crowd Greet the Speakers.—Capt. Ritchie Tells Why He Joins the People's Party.—The Reform Sentiment Gaining Ground in Wilson County.

(Special Col. to THE CAUCASIAN.)

Wilson, N. C., June 2.—This was a red letter day for Reform. Last night three ardent friends of the people and the Democratic party, President Butler, Capt. J. M. Ritchie, Dr. W. P. Exam and a number of other prominent men of the reform movement.

The first speaker was ex-congressman Kitchin. He was introduced by Mr. Butler, who said that nearly every Democratic speaker in the last campaign, denouncing the interests of the people and the democratization of business and requiring the rescinding of the demands of the People's party, had promised the people on the stump that if they would give the Democratic party a chance, and if that party did not repeal the unjust laws of which the people rightly complain, and pass sufficient remedial legislation to give the people relief, that they would never ask them to vote the Democratic ticket again, but would themselves join the people and fight in the future under the banner of the People's party.

When ex-Congressman Kitchin arose he was cheered and cheered again by the vast audience. He said that he came to Wilson today to talk no new doctrine.

Then you supply Mr. Cleveland with $1,000 to pay for lamps, matches, lamp-lighters, gas and gas-fitters, fuel, etc., and $765.50 for electric lights.
