

PEOPLE VS. MONOPOLY, MY-POORLY-ORGANIZED WILL BE THE LEADER FOR THE COMING CAMPAIGN.

VOL. XIV.

SPEECH OF HON. MARION BUTLER OF North Carolina.

United States Senate, FEBRUARY, JANUARY 11, 1896.

The Senate, as a committee of the whole, resumed the consideration of the bill (H. R. 2001) to maintain and protect the coin redemption fund, and to authorize the issue of certificates of indebtedness to meet temporary deficiencies of revenue.

of having anything to do with the bond syndicate. Who would not be proud to grow so indignant and loudly deny that he was about to do anything when he did the same evil thing as the man who sold the gold ring, 1892? But let that pass. The chief wrong that he is committing against the people of the United States is that he is about to do it. He will be just as great upon the people, and the interest will be just as hard to pay, whether it is paid to a syndicate, or to the bank or to any other party.

Chamber as the wishes of Wall street. It is not the interest of the people in Congress, this amendment repealing the law under which the President claims the right to issue bonds would have been passed in 1875, and that the act of 1875 which expressly makes it the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury in paying these coin obligations to exercise the option which the Government has in the gold coin or a silver coin of the same standard value as that in use and authorized by the government of July 14, 1870.

to raise money with which to buy wheat to pay the debt. Mr. Butler: The Senator wants an answer to that long and complicated question now? Mr. Butler: The Senator can use any language and any analogy he likes to hear from him now. Mr. Hill: I have forgotten what the first part of the question was.

greater equity. But Dr. Cleveland and Dr. Carlisle continue and persist in the same experimental treatment. I think the patient continues to grow weaker, and several more operations are now in a very low, humiliating, and critical condition. Does not some sense say that the experimental treatment which they are pursuing is such disastrous results should be stopped?
