What Cleveland Once Said What He Now

In & speech in the Senate Mr. Vest recently showed up some Clevelandism in strong light. Senator Vest cited with much feeling the case of his friend, Col. Benton, the United States District Attorney for the Western District of Missouri, spotless character. Col. Benton, during the campaign of 1888, made some which he believed represented the best welfare of the country. Col. Benion was summarily removed. Senator he reason, and was shown by the President a clipping from a newspaper which had bolted the Democratic tate and Congressional ticket, charging the District Attorney with perniious partisanship. On such evidence the result being the revocation of the "But," added Senator Vest, "not satslied with revoking the order, the President addressed a letter-published first in the press of the country-to Col. Benton, in which he read him a lecture. He said he revoked the order because he found Col. Benton had not neglected his duties, but he wished it distinctly understood that while any man held office under his administration he did not approve of his dabbling in political canvasses or endeavoring to put his opinions upon the people of

than the calendar counted in two. In President Grant's term it became known that Grant was surrounded by a coterie of men who were scheming to make money out of him. It was charged that Gou'd and Fisk had made use of Corbin, Grant's brother-in-law, to get an order stopping the ordinary treasury sale of gold, under pretense that a rise in the premium on gold would increase exports, and as a consequence gold had been sent up to 165 and somebody had made money. This was thought a sufficient cause for a searching investigation by congress. What was sauce for Grant should surely be sauce for Cleveland.

JULY 1st—Grand Parade in which 50,000 Confederate Soldiers will be in line.

JULY 2St—Laying Corner Stone of the Jeff Davis Monument in Monroe Park.

There is no doubt but that this Reunion in Richmond will be very largely attended. The transportation rates offered by the railroads are exceedingly low, and from the entire South the grand old Veterans will gather, and it is hoped that North Carolina and Virginia will be represented by a large crowd.
