The Peoples Party Nominees

NATIONAL TICKET. FOR PRESIDENT. WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN, Of Nebraska.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT, THOMAS E. WATSON, Of Georgia.

SOME REMARKS ON THE SITUATION. At this moment there is no denying the fact that there is chaos in matters political. It is almost wholly due to the sudden and unexpected somersault of the Democratic party by which that party would have it appear that it has renounced the policy it has advocated and practiced for thirty years and that now it espouses the policy and principles of the Peoples Party. The Peoples Party, being intensely in earnest and unquestionably honest in the advocacy of its principles, is anxious to align itself with any reinforcement which promises aid in putting these principles into operation; but it fears and distrusts the promises of a party which, for some years past, has been notable for its violent opposition to those principles and its brutal abuse of the Peoples Party 'which forced these issues to the front and nourished them into a vitality that promises long life.

The convention at St. Louis showed that the Peoples Party was ready to join forces with the Democratic party, or that part of the Democratic party, which declared for some of the fundamental principles of the Peoples Party, by nominating the man put forward by the Democratic party as the repre- arouse themselves and began to ask believe that the adoption of a free silsentative of these principles. If Democrats were reasonably just, this is as much of a concession as they would ever think of asking. But to speak tice to the world that this piracy must plainly and pointedly, the Peoples be stopped by putting his anti bond Party does not expect the Democrats to act in a broad spirit of justice and bill through the Senate. equity. The Peoples Party will make more concessions than exact justice demands, if by so doing they can institute the reforms they advocate. They have made untold sacrifices to bring these issues to the front, and will make more sacrifices to put them forward and "practically" offer gold

If justice and equity were to have influence in bringing order out of the present chaos, there would be no hesitancy in admitting that the Populists are entitled to a full support of the Democratic party for a Populist vice-President in return for a full support of the Populists for a Democratic President. But this will not be admitted. Nothing may be expected from the Democrats except what is wrung from them by a power which they cannot

It seems to be hard to wake up the masses of the people in the big cities. While the "big goldbugs" are getting ready to buy every thing that will sell, they are trying to make it appear that there is not much to buy. They can fool the little goldbugs blind by simply passing a resolution.
