

The Peoples Party Platform.

Following is the Populist platform as adopted. The Peoples Party assembled in National convention, realizing its allegiance to the principles declared by the founders of the Republic and to the fundamental principles of just government as embodied in the platform of the party in 1892. We recognize that through the connivance of the present and preceding administrations the country has reached a crisis in its National life as predicted in our declaration four years ago, and in our declaration of action in the supreme duty of the hour. We realize that while we have political independence our financial and industrial independence is yet to be attained by restoring to our country the constitutional control and exercise of the functions necessary to a people's government which functions have been largely surrendered by our public servants to corporate monopolies. The influence of European money changers has been more potent in shaping legislation than the voice of the people. Executive and legislative patronage has been used to corrupt our legislators to defeat the will of the people and political lawlessness has thrown upon the ruins of Democracy. To restore the government intended by the fathers and for the welfare and prosperity of the present and future generations we demand the establishment of an economic and financial system which shall make us masters of our own affairs and independent of European control by the adoption of the following:

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES.

- 1. We demand a National money, safe and sound issued by the general government without the intervention of banks of issue, to be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private, so that a just, equitable and efficient means of distribution may be made direct to the people and through the lawful disbursement of the government.
2. We demand the free and unrestricted coinage of silver and gold at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the consent of foreign nations.
3. We demand the volume of circulating medium be increased to an amount sufficient to meet the demands of the business people of this country and to restore the just level of prices of labor and production.
4. We denounce the sale of bonds and the increase of the public interest-bearing bond debt under the present administration as unnecessary and without authority of law and that no more bonds be issued except by specific act of Congress.
5. We demand such legal legislation as will prevent the domination of the law by the money of the United States by private control.
6. We demand that the government in payment of its obligations issue its own currency to the kind of lawful money in which they are to be paid and we denounce the present and preceding administrations for surrendering this option to the holders of government obligations.
7. We demand a graduated income tax to the end that aggregated wealth shall bear its just proportion of taxation and we denounce the Supreme Court, relative to the income tax law, as a misinterpretation of the constitution and an invasion of the rightful powers of Congress over the taxation of the people.
8. We demand that postal savings banks be established by the government for the safe deposit of the money of the people and to facilitate exchange.
9. We demand that the government in exchange of a public necessity, the operation and maintenance of the railroads in the interest of the people on a non-partisan basis to the end that all may be accorded the same treatment in transportation, and that the tyrannical and political power now exercised by the great railroad corporations, which results in the impairment of not the destruction of the political rights and personal liberties of the citizens, may be destroyed. Such ownership to be accomplished directly in a manner consistent with sound public policy.
10. The interest of the United States in the public highways built with public moneys, and the present exercise of the same, as provided for by the laws of Congress, shall never be alienated, mortgaged or sold, but guarded and protected for the benefit of the people. The foreclosure of existing lines of the United States on their own property, and the low default in the payment thereof of the debt of companies, and at the foreclosure sale of said roads the government shall purchase the same if it becomes necessary to protect its interest therein or if they can be purchased at a reasonable price, and the government shall operate said railroads as public highways for the benefit of the whole people and the privileges and interests of the few, under suitable provisions for protection of the said property, giving to all transportation interests and privileges and rates for fares and freight.
11. We denounce the present inequities shown as for railroad rates and demand that the laws now applicable thereto be executed and administered according to their true intent and meaning.
12. The telegraph, like the postoffice system, being a necessity for the transmission of news should be owned and operated by the government in the interest of the people.
13. The true policy demands that the national and State legislation shall be such as that no citizen be excluded from the great industries of the nation to secure a home, and therefore the land should not be monopolized for speculation.
14. All lands now held by railroads and other corporations in excess of their actual needs should be sold to the people, to be held by the government and held for actual settlers only, and private land monopoly as well as alien ownership should be prohibited.
15. We condemn the frauds by which the land grants of the Pacific States have been made, and we believe the time has come when the United States the great Republic of the world, should recognize that Cuba is an right ought to be a free and independent state.
16. We favor home rule in the Territories and the District of Columbia, and the early admission of Territories as States.
17. All public salaries should be made to correspond to the price of labor and its products.
18. In times of great industrial depression, idle labor should be employed on public works as far as practicable.
19. The arbitrary course of the courts in assuming to imprison citizens for indirect contempt and ruling by injunction, should be prevented by proper legislation.
20. We favor just pensions for our disabled Union soldiers.
21. We believe that the election franchise and untrammeled ballot are essential to a government of, for and by the people. The Peoples Party condemns the wretched system of disfranchisement adopted in some States as un-American and we declare it to be the duty of the several State legislatures to take such action as will secure a full, free and fair ballot and an honest count.
22. While the foregoing propositions concern the platform for, and by the people, the Peoples Party maintains, we recognize that the next and pressing issue of the pending campaign upon which the present Presidential election will turn is the financial question, and upon this great and vital issue between the parties we cordially invite the aid and cooperation of all organizations and citizens agreeing with us upon this vital question.

GEN. WEAVER'S GREAT SPEECH

In which He Named W. J. Bryan For President at the St. Louis Convention.

No clearer statement of the reasons why Populists named Mr. Bryan as their candidate for the Presidency can be presented than that given by General Weaver, Populist Presidential candidate in 1892, in his nominating speech at the national convention. He said:

"In that midnight discussion between Brutus and Cassius concerning the contemplated battle at Philippi, Brutus argued that their cause was right, their legions brave, at the height and ready to decline. He said: 'There is a tide in the affairs of men, which taken at the flood, leads on to fortune. Omit it, and the very surge of life is bound in shallows and in miseries.'"

"And then in the dramatic climax, he exclaimed: 'O that this fell sea were now at ebb, And we must take the current when it serves, Or lose our venture!'"

"For twenty years we have been pleading with the people to expose the sacred cause which is at stake in this campaign. We have constantly urged through good and through evil report that our principles were more important than party associations; were above all considerations of private fortune or the petty and feverish ambitions of men. We have thus far suited our action to our words. Through five Presidential campaigns, stretching from 1876 to 1892, you correctly estimated the purposes of old party managers, and events have sustained every specification in your indictment against them. Millions of honest men within old party ranks were deceived, lured into ambush and betrayed. But not a single one of your pickets has ever been caught napping or taken by surprise. To your devoted efforts is largely due the revival of economic learning in this country, which has enabled the Democratic to assume its present admirable attitude. Your work now promises much to mankind and is about to break forth in complete victory for the industrial masses. Though it is repudiated by the money trust, who would have liberated, though crucified in return for our kindness, yet through it all we have steadily confided in the righteousness of our cause and the final good sense of the people. We still believe that this nation has a mission to perform, which had men will not be permitted to destroy, and recent events indicate that the twentieth century is not, after all, to close with the friends of freedom despondent in the Western hemisphere."

THE ALLIANCE DEMANDS.

Whereas, The declaration of independence, as a basis for a republican form of government that might be progressive and perpetual, might be:
That all men are created equal, that they are endowed with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, that to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.
We hold, therefore, that to restore and preserve these rights under a republican form of government, private enterprise and public necessity, speculative purposes, whether of the means of production, distribution or exchange, should be prohibited, and that the business of the government and utility becomes a monopoly in private hands, the people of the municipality, state or union, as the case may be, shall have the right of eminent domain, paying a just value therefor, and operate them for, and in the interest of, the whole people.

FINANCE.

We demand a national currency, safe, sound and flexible; issued by the general government only; a full legal tender for all debts and receivable for all dues, and an equitable and efficient means of distribution of this currency, consisting of bonds and demand notes of expense and without the intervention of banking corporations and in sufficient volume to transact the business of the country on a cash basis.
We demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the legal ratio of 16 to 1.
We demand a graduated income tax.
That our national legislation shall be so framed in the future as to build up one industry at the expense of another.
We believe that the money of the country should be kept as much as possible in the hands of the people, and hence we demand that all national and state revenues shall be limited to the necessary expenses of the government, economically and honestly administered.
We demand that postal savings banks be established by the government, to receive the safe deposits of the savings of the people, and to facilitate exchange.
We are unalterably opposed to the issue by the United States, of interest-bearing bonds, and demand the payment of all coin obligations of the United States, as provided by existing laws, in either gold or silver coin, at the option of the government and not at the option of the creditor.
The government shall purchase or construct and operate a sufficient mileage of railroads to effectually control all rates of transportation of a just and equitable basis.
The telegraph and telephone, being a public utility, and of such necessity for the transmission of intelligence, should be owned and operated by the government in the interest of the people.

LAND.

We demand that no land shall be held by corporations for speculative purposes or by railroads in excess of their needs as carriers, and all lands now owned by aliens shall be retained by the government and held for actual settlers only.

ELECTION OF UNITED STATES SENATORS.

We demand the election of United States senators by a direct vote of the people. That each state shall be divided into two districts of nearly equal voting population, and that a senator shall be elected by the people of the district.

DIRECT LEGISLATION.

Relying upon the good, common sense of the American people, and believing that a majority of them, when uninfluenced by party prejudice, will vote right on all questions submitted to them on their merits; and further to effectually annihilate the pernicious lobby in legislation, we demand direct legislation by means of the initiative and referendum.
