THE WAR SITUATION.

The management of this war is enough to make every strong and easier than it can be taken today. We to capture the island in ten days. Tofortified than it was then.

We have believed all along that the bond sharks who control this administration would never allow Cuba to be taken until Congress provided for an issue of bonds. They have now gotten the bonds and the nation is mortgaged

We sincerely trust that the war wil now be pushed to a vigorous conclusion hefore the greed of Shylock demands

A SMALL CONVENTION RUN BY RAIL

THE CAUCASIAN in its report of the Democratic State convention, pubthe convention was packed, that it was small and unrepresentative in character, that the farmers and the great mass of the party were not representof the two was not represented, but that the convention was controlled absolutely by the Clevelandites, the Ransomites, the McKinley Democrats and railroad attorneys.

This statement of facts has been bitterly denied by a number of monopoly organs that call themselves Democratic papers. They have cried out that THE CAUCASIAN was slandering the Democratic party and the good people of the State. The fact is that the Democratic convention itself was a slander on the party and the good people of the State, and THE CAUCA-SIAN simply told the truth about it.

Notice carefully the wording of Col Webster's editorial. As a Democrat. he would no doubt have been delighted to praise the action of the Democratic State Convention as being patriotic and loyal to the principles of the party as set forth at Chicago and as advocated by Bryan; and further, since co-)peration has failed, he would no doubt have been glad to place the blame on the People's party rather than on his own party. Notice that he admits that the Convention was small. that the farmers and great mass of the party were not represented; and notice further his admission that of the 36 members of the Democratic State Executive Committee, thirty-three of them are lawyers, and twenty-four of this number are paid attorneys of the Southern railway.
