Our Best Men Have Talked to the Boston People, Yet Their Papers Continue to Abuse the South.

I've sworn off again. These Boston people make me so tired. It seems impossible to make a lasting impression upon them. From time to time we have sent our best men there. We sent Mr. McKim, Mr. Brewster, Mr. Henry Grady, and they were well received, and we thought a Georgia missionary had converted them, but in a little while they had a relapse.

The low temperature seriously checked the growth of all vegetation. Much corn, cotton, and tobacco turned yellow; cotton especially suffered much injury, and many young plants were killed.

The weather seems to have favored the multiplication of insects, and an unusually large number of correspondents report damage to corn by cut or bad worms, with minor injury to tobacco, potatoes, and truck crops.
