VETERAN SHOT IN PARADE.

His Slayer Then Takes His Own Life Rather Than Be Captured.

St. Joseph, Mo., May 31.—The murder of a Confederate veteran as he was marching in the memorial day parade at Bethany, Mo., yesterday, was followed by the besieging of his slayer in a house in the suburbs.

The murderer threatened to kill the first one to enter his house, but when a score of men stormed the place he killed himself. The principals in the tragedy were John T. Price and Aultman Miller, his brother-in-law. They were both prominent men in Harrison county. Price was in the squad assigned to the G. A. R. in the parade, which had just started from the city to the cemetery to decorate the graves of those who had worn the blue and the gray, when he was shot to death by Miller. He fell dead at the feet of the veterans behind him.

Among the firmly established business houses in Raleigh is that of W. B. Mann, the well known Hargett Street Grocer. His sign has been seen for many years, and everybody who passes by or goes in knows that square dealing and prompt attention form the basis of his successful career. His announcement in this paper is through the CAUCASIAN, and readers of the paper who may not know of his house would do well to look it up when out for purchases.

The new Raleigh drug house, that of C. B. Crowell & Co., has a card in this paper. This is a strong company. It has a new stock of everything in its line. It is a new and handsome building on Fayetteville street, and a view of the store through the immense plate glass windows is sufficient to convince anybody that the house is thoroughly equipped for business. Promptness and politeness are the working terms of the establishment.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Dr. D. S. Rowland, of this city which appears in another column of this paper. Dr. Rowland is from Vance county and has only been located here for a month.

STREET INCIDENT.

"My Dear Sir," exclaimed lawyer Bartholomew Livingston, meeting the Rev. Dr. Arohibid Windham on the village street, "What does this mean? I thought you were laid up with all sorts of bad diseases!"

"And so I was," replied the reverent gentleman. "I had an attack of indigestion and from that time on my whole system has been in a disordered condition until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla which has put me on my feet and cured all my stomach troubles."

"I don't doubt it," said the lawyer. "This same medicine cured my wife of rheumatism and my little girl of scrofula. When they say it's the best medicine money can buy, they only tell the truth."

"Yes, yes, so they do," replied the minister, and the two passed on.

Raleigh Business Directory.

A newspaper whose columns overflow with advertisements of business men has more influence in attracting attention to building up a town than any other agency that can be employed. People go where there is business. Capital and labor go where there is an enterprising community. No power on earth is so strong to build up a town as a newspaper well patronized, and its power should be appreciated.—T. DeWitt Talmaire.
