The Chicago Chronicle, a demo cratic paper, referring to the recent action of the Alabama Constitutional Convention in voting to adopt the "grandfather clause" as a means of restricting the right of suffrage, says:

"Perhaps when all of the states in which the black vote is a troublesome factor have amended their constitutions in this manner they will find themselves face to face with a congress which will have the honesty and the courage to enforce the 14th amendment, cutting down their representation in the House, and thus reducing their power in shame?

the electoral college. It is possible now, with Mr. Mc-Kinley managing affairs under laws higher than the constitution, to do many things with impunity which a stronger and better man in the White House may deem it is duty to correct. The grandfather states should keep a close watch for this man. He will arrive in due time."
