An Involved Decision.

The magistrates of Fremantle, the principal port of Western Australia, have given a new and interesting decision in reference to stowaways. Five of these free trippers were brought to the bar and fined three pounds each. KEPT HIS DESK CLEAR.

Here is the Secret of One Man's Success in Life.

Railroad circles, as well as a large portion of the general public, were greatly interested in the resignation of W. A. Garrett from the general superintendency of the Philadelphia & 1205 Reading railroad a few months ago. to assume a more important position with the Queen & Crescent road. Mr. Garrett's rise in the railroad world has been phenomenal, but one little story which he himself told to a neighbor hints at a secret of it all.

"When I first went into the railroad business as a young man," said Mr. Garrett, "I was called aside by one the clerks, who said to me: 'Now, Garrett, let me give you tip. You want always to keep your desk liftered with papers, so that when the old man comes around he will think you're terribly busy. Then he won't pile any more work on you.' Well,' continued Mr. Garrett, "I made up my mind, that contrary to this man's advice, I would always keep my desk cleared. And I have done so."

To-day Mr. Garrett is getting a salary of $12,000 a year, while his clerkly counselor is still drawing $60 a month and wondering why luck is against him.-Philadelphia Press.
