Farmers Alliance.

The annual meeting of the North Carolina Farmers' Alliance will be held at Hillsboro next Tuesday and Wednesday. Reports of officers will show a good year's work and progress along all lines.

In a letter to the Progressive Farmer, referring to the approaching State meeting, Mr. George F. Parrott, of Kinston, president of the organization says:

"With no little pleasure we look forward to next Tuesday, August 13th, the annual meeting day for the State Alliance. We hope that every county in which there is an organization will be fully represented and that each delegate will have something to suggest for the good of the order and for the good of mankind.

"No well informed man who has the proper regard for truth will declare that the Alliance stands for anything other than for the scattering of peace and prosperity all over this land of ours. Our purpose is to build up, not to destroy; we antagonize poverty and strife among men; nothing more.

"Our meeting will be a very important one. We will probably discuss with a view to some action the buying of wrapping for our next cotton crop; also the marketing of our cotton as well as the attitude of the American Tobacco Company toward cultivation of tobacco.

"Let delegates at their leisure note just what suggestions they wish to offer, also any specific matter which they are instructed by their County Alliance to bring before the State meeting.

"Again let me urge delegates to be on hand and should anything occur so that the principal cannot attend, then let your alternate know in time for him to report at headquarters at Hillsboro at 12:00 P. M. on August 13th."

Broke Boys Head.

Wadesboro, Special.—Julius the 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Finston, was kicked in the forehead by a horse Saturday afternoon. The little fellow in company with one of Mr. P. T. Rhyne's sons was playing in the lot near the horses when one of them suddenly became vicious and kicked the children. The other boy was hurt, but Julius received very serious injuries. His nose was broken and his skull fractured by the blow. While he is in a very critical condition, unless some complications set in, he will recover. Dr. Bennett dressed his wounds.

Pardons Granted and Refused.

Raleigh, Special.—Governor Glenn last week granted pardons of three who had made application and refused the application of six, among these six being two negroes who are under sentence of death. These negroes are Will Banks, of Ashe county, and James Rucker, of Buncombe county and the date set for their hanging is the twentieth of August. Rucker's crime was the atrocious one of rape upon his six-year-old step-daughter, while Banks had deliberately killed another negro. The Governor sets out his reasons for the pardons granted and those refused.

Salisbury, Special.—The Board of Aldermen have granted a franchise to the Piedmont Carolina Railway Company, a Salisbury organization to operate a belt line railway starting at Newton Heights, in Spencer, thence through East Spencer and up Long street to Inness street in this city, thence through Inness street to the western outskirts of the city, terminating at the new fair grounds.

Bitten By a Copperhead.

New Bern, Special.—The three-year-old child, a little boy, of Mr. Morrison Rowe, who lives nine miles from New Bern in the second township, was bitten by a snake Sunday morning. The snake was what is locally known as a copper head moccasin, and is one of the most dreaded and poisonous reptiles in this section. Dr. Caton rendered medical aid, and the tender age of the child made the case very serious and its condition was considered critical at last accounts.

New Court House Plans.

Salisbury, Special.—A movement is on foot looking to the erection of a new court house for Rowan county to take the place of the old one which has been in constant use for nearly half a century. Plans for a handsome structure have been submitted to the County Commissioners, who are considering the expenditure of $50,000 to provide a suitable temple of justice for this county.

Awful Double Tragedy.

Asheville, Special.—A terrible tragedy was enacted here Wednesday morning shortly after 10 o'clock, when Robert Murdock, a white man 45 years of age, with a wife and several children, shot to death Mrs. Laura Ray, proprietress of the "Success Inn," a large boarding house of this city, and then turned the weapon on himself and sent three bullets into his heart. The only motive that can be assigned for the murderer's fearful act was a debt due him by Mrs. Ray and temporary insanity from the effects of drink. The double tragedy was committed in Mrs. Ray's room in the Success Inn. Murdock fired eight shots in all, taking time after sending four bullets into Mrs. Ray to break the pistol, reload and fire four additional shots, three of which went into the madman's own body. The wounds made by the three shots that Murdock fired at himself could almost be covered by a postage stamp. Mrs. Ray was shot twice through the arm and three times through the body. The attending physicians stated that Mrs. Murdock widow of the murderer and suicide was in a very serious condition as a result of shock incident to the horrible affair.

Shot Wife in Cold Blood.

Selma, Special.—Ransom Godwin a well-to-do white farmer, 65 years old at his home five miles west of Kenly a small and remote place in Johnston County, shot and killed his wife without any real cause for the deed, so those who know the family say. She was his third wife he having married her about four years ago. From the union two children survive their mother. Mrs. Godwin was 35 years of age. Shortly after the marriage of the couple the husband began to drink and kept it up till his treatment of his wife became extremely cruel. Tuesday night he came home drunk and beat Mrs. Godwin with a stick till she was nearly unconscious. Wednesday night he came home again in the same condition. When he reached the house he called his wife to come to the door and just as she stepped into the light where he could get a plain view of her he shot her down in cold blood.

Decide for Pilots.

Wilmington, Special.—Judge J. Crawford Biggs, who presided at the late term of New Hanover Superior court, and who, the past week, heard the suit to test the constitutionality of the compulsory pilotage law, applying to the Cape Fear bar, which law was recently passed by the General Assembly after a fight on the floor of both houses, on Saturday rendered his decision, holding the law constitutional and valid. This decision of course is in favor of the pilots and will be appealed to the Supreme court of the State, and perhaps later to the Supreme Court of the United States. The findings of Judge Biggs are brief and are written after mature deliberation, knowing that in either event they would be reviewed by the highest court in the land. On every point the law is construed in favor of the pilots.

Chisholm of Sanford; himself and others are now arranging to build the Bladen & Northern Railway from Steadman on the Atlantic Coast Line a distance of 20 miles. He says that it is to be a road to get at timber and that it will reach what is perhaps the finest body of standing pines now in North Carolina—about 200,000,000 feet of which this company owns 50,000,000. Much of it is long-leaf and considerable of it is short-leaf. The road is to be 20 miles long and work will be in progress within 60 days from this date. The road will be standard gauge and will handle passengers.

New York, Special.—Pinned beneath a locomotive, Charles S. Hudley, a brakeman on the New York New Haven & Hartford Railroad suffered the amputation of a leg before he could be extricated from under the engine, which had run over him in the railroad yards in the Bronx. A NAVAL MONSTER

England Building Largest War Vessel Ever Planned

UNITED STATES TO BETTER THAT

Washington Naval Circles Excited Over Report That Keel is About to be Laid Down New Ship to be of No Less Than 30,000 Tons Displacement, and Design is Believed to Include Many Novelties, Including Assembling of Three Guns in Each Turret.

Washington, Special.—Naval circles are agitated over a report which reaches Washington that the British admiralty is about to lay down the keel for a giant ship that will be 50 per cent greater in tonnage than the redoubtable "Dreadnought." It is difficult to secure any information respecting the plans for this ship, and it is said that the British government is agitating a proceeding, as it did in the case of the Dreadnought, to build the vessel behind closed gates. Eventually, of course, the man characteristics of war vessels built under these conditions become known, but the British government feels that it is amply repaid for the trouble it takes to build the ship secretly, by the fact that the British navy is thereby kept at least two years ahead of any other navy in point of design, a most valuable consideration in these days, when a battleship is frequently obsolete in the course of five years after going into commission.

It is understood that the new ship is to be of no less than 30,000 tons displacement, against 20,000 tons of the Dreadnought, but aside from the mere matter of superior size, the design is believed to include many novelties some based on the experience of the Dreadnought. Such a one, for instance, is understood to be the contemplated assembling of three guns in each turret, so that if the new ship is equalled with the six turrets, she will carry no less than 18 guns in her main battery. The calibre of the guns, however, will, it is believed, remain at 12 inches, the present standard.

The report of the British plan has caused some of the bolder designers to proceed to greater length and to propose the laying down of a battleship of 40,000 tons displacement, placing the American navy clearly in the lead. Naval designers are believed to be willing to undertake the construction of such a ship. It would cost no less than $20,000,000, but in view of the predominance it would give to America as a naval power it is argued by the advocates of the proposition that such a ship would be an economical investment by tending to ensure peace.

Washington, Special.—Acting on orders from the executive officers of their unions 100 more union mechanics joined the building trades strike here Saturday. According to the labor leaders every building under construction, where non-union mechanics were employed, is now tied up and nearly 300 men have quit work. WARDAMAN ACCEPTS RESULT

State Executive Committee Meets at Jackson and Declares Result of United States Senatorial Contest. Friends of Vardaman, Seconding Motion to Declare Williams Nominee After Short Caucus Between Two Factions.

Jackson, Miss., Special.—The Democratic State executive committee met at noon Thursday and declared Congressman John Sharp Williams the party nominee for the United States Senate.

The canvass of the returns showed a majority of 648 votes for Williams the totals being as follows:

Williams 39,496; Vardaman 58,848. There will be no contest over the result.

After a short caucus between the two factions it was finally agreed to accept the semi-official returns as furnished Secretary of State Power from the various counties and which show that Mr. Williams has a majority of 648 votes. This motion to declare Mr. Williams the nominee was seconded by the friends of Governor Vardaman. The committee then formally declared Mr. Williams nominated as United States Senator. This is considered the final settlement of the celebrated contest.

Governor Vardaman conceded the nomination of Mr. Williams by sending the following note to the committee:

"The Democratic party, through its executive committee, has declared Mr. Williams the nominee and I accept the arbitration of that tribunal without a tinge of resentment or regret for anything done or said by my friends for me during the campaign. I am for the nominee and hope that he will make the people of Mississippi a great United States Senator. I have made the campaign upon living important and pertinent principles and while I have lost the nomination, I am thoroughly convinced that the large majority of the white members of this State agree with my views upon public questions, and I shall continue to fight for those principles as earnestly in the future as I have in the past.

"No man was ever blessed by more loyal and more faithful hands than those who favored my fortunes in this contest. I want them to feel as I do, that we have not been defeated, but that the victory is only postponed for a season. I have been a candidate several times in my life, and lost the fight, but never have I felt the sting of defeat, and I am not defeated today."

Dastardly Crime Sunday Morning.

Asheville, Special.—When the family of Mr. J. A. Wild, living on Hill street, awoke Sunday morning it was discovered that some fiend had entered the house during the night, administered chloroform to Mr. Wild's daughter and attempted to set fire to the bed on which she slept. Nothing of value was taken from the house except a watch belonging to Henry Wild, a son. The family did not retire until after midnight, and when Mr. Wild arose in the morning he found the doors of his house open and the place strongly filled with the odor of chloroform. Upon going to the room of his daughter he found her in a deep sleep and had much difficulty in arousing her. On the bed was a small bundle of rags thickly saturated with chloroform while her clothing and hair smelt strongly of the deadly drug. A large number of half burnt matches were strewn on the bed in which she slept and the bedding was scorched in a number of places. A bloodhound was taken to the scene of the attempted crime and apparently found a strong scent, which led the officers through a nearby corral field, where a watch dog was picked up, which had been attached to the watch stolen from Henry Wild, which indicated that the miscreant had passed that way. The trail was later lost owing to many people having crossed and recrossed it, thus interfering with the dog. No further clue has been discovered although the search still continues. Should the miscreant be discovered his life may pay the penalty for his dastardly crime.

Canning Factory Starts Up.

Kernersville, Special.—The canning factory recently installed here started up last week and will continue through the season. There is some complaint from the farmers that the tomatoes are rotting on the vines, but the crop is just beginning to come on the market and it is thought that it will be an average one.
