The editor of the Manufacturers Record comments tersely on the significance of the tour in the following language: "As pleasant and as profitable as the two weeks' trip in the South will be for the foreign spinners. It will give them only an inkling of that section's wonderful capacity for manufacturing cotton. There will not be lacking for them evidence of what the South has already accomplished in textiles, but to acquaint themselves with the many opportunities still awaiting the manufacturer they should after they have made their swing around the circle, return to the South study carefully some of the representative mills there and investigate some of the great water-powers now under development, the coal resources and other elements entering into success in cotton manufacturing. Their knowledge unless they visit other cities than those included in their itinerary. For that the best arrangements possible in the time allowed were made, but other cities would be well worth a visit."

Matters to Receive Attention. Particular attention will be made by the gentlemen composing the party to growing, picking, baling and marketing the South's crop and suggest and advise ways and means by which improvement can be made along these lines. Besides being, therefore, beneficial to the foreign visitors themselves, the tour is bound to result advantageously for the manufacturers and cotton-producers in the South.

He was found some hours later with his face buried in the mud and water. The negro was an epileptic and it is supposed that he fell in a fit. The coroner was summoned to review the extraordinary occurrence but he deemed an inquest unnecessary.

Desperate Man Killed.

Asheville, Special.—Deputy Sheriff Pink Case of Hendersonville who Sunday night on a local train of the Southern shot and killed Clingman King a negro was exonerated by the coroner's jury here last week. The shooting occurred just prior to the departure of the Hendersonville train. The deputy sheriff had come here for the negro a desperate character who was wanted in Hendersonville for housebreaking. The officer had him on the train when King made a dash for liberty, running out of the passenger coach with the officer in hot pursuit. The deputy sheriff overtook his prisoner along side the train when the negro made a determined resistance. The officer drew his pistol during the struggle and according to an eye witness King caught the officer's arm and attempted to wrench the weapon from Mr. Case's grasp. At that instant the pistol fired and King fell dead at the officer's feet. King was a bad negro. He had served a term in the penitentiary and had just completed a term on the roads of Buncombe county. About forty people from Hendersonville came in to attend the coroner's investigation.

Will Celebrate October 22d.

Greensboro, Special.—It was officially announced by the president of the Greensboro Alumni Association of the University of North Carolina, Dr. J. E. Brooks that the date for the celebration of University Day, which is October 12th, has been changed for this year and will be held on Tuesday, October 22d. University Day is celebrated over the State and other States where there is an alumni association on October 12th, but the change of the date for the celebration in Greensboro was made necessary by the fact that this date falls on Saturday and immediately preceding the opening of the Central Carolina Fair in this place.

Linemen on Live Wire.

Gastonia, Special.—Vernon Fogle, a lineman of the Piedmont Telephone Company, had a narrow escape from death when he, while at work on a crossbeam on a telephone pole in this place, came in contact with a live wire of the city lighting system. The line carried 23,000 volts, but the full charge did not affect him. He was strapped to the pole, this preventing him from falling to the ground. He was rendered unconscious and for a time was in a bad shape, but he is better and is expected to recover. Strangely to say, his body was not harmed to any extent. Mr. Fogle is about 20 years of age.

Murphy's Successor Chosen.

To Have New Building.

Raleigh, Special.—It is learned that the management of Rex Hospital here has decided to begin work on a new building early next spring. The cost will approximate $75,000, of which $30,000 is in hand. The hospital was established in 1884 and the main building is what used to be the town house of Governor Manley, one of the oldest places in the city. This is to be moved to the rear of the spacious grounds and will be used during the construction of the new building.

WILL PROTECT BIRDS

To Interest Cotton Growers in Propagation of Birds.

Greensboro, Special.—Secretary T. Gilbert Pearson of the Audubon Society has gone to Atlanta to attend a meeting of the Cotton Growers' Association at that place. Representatives of the Audubon Society from the Northern States will be present. The object of the bird protector's visit to the meeting of the association is to enlist the support of the cotton men in getting appropriations from the government for the propagation of birds. It is said that there are six ten varieties of birds that are fond of boll weevils for breakfast and it is hoped to interest the cotton growers in their welfare.

Asheville Warm Over Liquor War.

Asheville, Special.—A monster prohibition parade probably the largest ever held in Asheville marched through the streets of this city Saturday. It was estimated that there were about 7,000 men, women and children in line with bands and banners and much enthusiasm was displayed as the long line passed through the various streets, between immense throngs which lined the sidewalks. An unique feature was a large number of women wheeling baby carriages in which were many lusty infants.

As the long line reached the auditorium at 1 o'clock the expected speakers had not arrived and calls were at once made for Judge Pritchard who has been most enthusiastic in his efforts to secure prohibition in Asheville. Messengers were at once dispatched to the United States court where the hearing in the Southern railway case was in progress.

Wilson, Special.—At the Lyceum Theatre here while a moving picture and cowboys was in operation, Johnnie Porter, who made realistic effects behind the curtain, came near fatally shooting several persons in the audience, when in some way a loaded cartridge which was mixed with blanks was fired, injuring two in the audience. The ball passed through Victor Brown's hand, went through the back of the seat and grazed the arm of Miss Hattie Rice, the injured were carried to the hospital. The theatre was crowded when the accident occurred.

Girl Chased by Negro.

Asheville, Special.—An exciting incident occurred on Beaucatcher mountain. Miss Gracie Cook, a girl 15 years of age, was strolling on the mountain not a great distance from her home, when a negro suddenly stepped from behind a clump of bushes and told her to stop. The girl was badly frightened and started to run. The negro picked up a rock and hurled it at her and then gave chase. The girl ran a distance up the mountain and then striking a path, out-footed the negro down the mountain to within a short distance of her home and then fled.

Express Agent Resigns.

Concord, Special.—Mr. John C. Correll who has had charge of the Southern Express office in this city for the past several years has tendered his resignation to take effect at once. It is the understanding that if the company will relieve him Mr. Correll will begin work Monday morning for J. A. Skipwith & Co., cotton buyers. Mr. Correll asked for relief some time last fall but inducements were offered which caused him to reconsider and continue his work. This time however Mr. Correll has fully determined to leave the express business.

One Story Jail Wins Out.

Warsaw, Special.—In the primary ascertaining the sentiment of our people on the much agitated two-story jail question the vote was light, only 84 votes being cast in this precinct 7 for and 77 against a two-story jail. The election passed off without incident no one evincing any special interest in the outcome of the vote. The vote was light in the other precincts of the county so far as could be learned a very decided majority of the votes cast however being against the two-story jail.

Five Years in For Arnold.

Newbern, Special.—The criminal term of Superior Court closed Saturday. The docket consisted of 150 cases most of them being indictments for selling liquor without license. Judge Lyon has been very expeditious in clearing the docket and there are but few cases continued to the next term of court. One of the important cases was the State vs. J. M. Arnold for attempted criminal assault. The defendant was found guilty and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. Arnold had able counsel and a strong effort made to set aside the verdict but it was unsuccessful.

Money From Dried Apples.

Mount Airy, Special.—No less than 130,000 pounds of dried apples have already been marketed at this place. It is thought that 20,000 pounds more will be sold here this season bringing the total up to 150,000. This source of income is a great deal of help to those who dry apples. The price paid for fruit is low 6-12 cents on an average but it helps to pay lots of little bills.

COTTON MEN MEET

Gathering in Atlanta of Users and Producers

WILL FIGHT THE SPECULATORS

A Lively Fight Over the Regulation or Prohibition of Speculative Dealing in the Staple Promises to Be the Chief Feature of the International Conference.

Atlanta, Ga., Special.—With delegates present representing every phase of the cotton industry from the time it leaves the planter's hands to the time when the product woven into fabrics is sent to markets of the world, and including representatives of many foreign countries, the international conference of cotton spinners and growers met at the State Capitol building in this city for a three-day session. More than 500 delegates were present, nearly a hundred of these representing the great mills of Germany, Great Britain, France, Italy, Spain and Portugal, with an aggregate wealth in farm lands, cotton crop and mills of nearly four billions of dollars.

During the sessions questions of the greatest importance to grower and spinner alike will be taken up for discussion and action, and it is hoped that this meeting will result in a better understanding between the men who produce cotton and those who weave the staple into fabrics.

That this will result was indicated by the talk of many of the delegates after the addresses at this session, in which the great losses to spinners by reason of poor methods of handling and shipping the raw product were shown and the great saving that would be effected to both grower and spinner if more system and care were used in the initial handling of the products of the fields.

A lively fight for regulation or prohibition of speculative dealing in cotton was also indicated before the committee on buying and selling when Congressman Hefflin, of Alabama, introduced a resolution asking the conference to memorialize Congress and the British Parliament to stop speculation in cotton except that actually owned. But the fact that an investigation following a similar resolution had resulted in a refusal by the British law-making body to disturb existing conditions was brought out, and a favorable report by the sub-committee to which the matter was finally referred will undoubtedly be accomplished by a vigorous minority report against any such action.

Governor Hoke Smith, of Georgia, in his address of welcome to the delegates, caused much applause by advocating the ginning, compressing and baling of cotton on the plantation and abolishing the manipulation of the middle man, and undoubtedly this feature of the cotton industry will receive much attention.

The morning session was taken up largely with addresses of welcome and responses and the appointment of committees.

In his opening address Mr. Macoll outlined the objects of the conference and made suggestions for the elimination of differences between grower and spinner, and methods of increasing the value of the product of the grower. He said that the planter, if he wants to sell direct to the spinner, must in some way do the work of the middleman and have the same financial responsibility; he must grade, carry and finance; the cotton as the merchant does now. He added that gin-compressing would effect an enormous saving in transportation and insurance, and enable the overburdened railroads to move more expeditiously the ever-increasing crop. He made a plea for a uniform bill of lading and expressed himself in sympathy with the report recently issued by a committee of the New York cotton exchange on the certification of cotton and improved classification as to grade and staple. Mr. Macoll requested earnest consideration of the question of trading in futures and speculation resulting therefrom. He concluded by urging the formation of a permanent international organization of growers and spinners.

SPOKE AT MEMPHIS

President Roosevelt Received a Cordial Welcome

HEARD BY IMMENSE CROWDS

With Bands Playing Flugs Waving and Torrents of Rain Falling the People of the Tennessee City Gave the Chief Executive the Most Cordial Greeting He Has Received on His Journey to the Canebrakes.

Memphis, Tenn., Special.—With bands playing, children singing and enthusiastic men shouting the slogan of deep waterways, Memphis threw wide her gates Friday afternoon to President Roosevelt, a score of Governors and many other distinguished personages in the Mississippi valley. The President arrived on the United States steamer Mississippi shortly after 10 o'clock. The bluffs overlooking the river were packed with people, who gave the Chief Executive a warm welcome. As the steamer landed the whistles of all craft in the harbor were sounded.

When all had landed, the President was conducted to a carriage by Governor Patterson, of Tennessee, and Mayor Malone, of Memphis, and the most imposing parade ever given here was begun. The President was continuously cheered throughout the march. The city was a waving mass of color, not only along the line of parade, but on many other streets as well. When the President's carriage turned into Main street he was saluted by a regiment of Confederate veterans, who thereafter acted as a body guard. The President rose and warmly greeted the warriors of a half century ago.

Rain Mars Programme.

Despite a lively downpour of rain which lasted until noon, the streets were jammed with citizens and visitors. In Second street 200 school children, seated on a decorated arch, sang patriotic airs as the President passed. The President rose in his carriage and bowed repeatedly to the little ones.

Arriving at the auditorium rink, where the deep waterways convention is holding, President Roosevelt alighted, chatted with several friends and ascended the platform. The huge structure filled up rapidly, and when Governor Patterson, rose to present the President an immense assemblage greeted him.

President Roosevelt departed from his printed speech in several instances. Speaking of the Confederate guard of honor, he said it was a touching sight to see these old Confederate soldiers carrying the flag of our great Union. If any one wanted to know how they would fight for that flag, let him ask the boys in blue and the boys in grey fought against it. He said, with emphasis, that he was much the President of the South as the President of the North, and was devoted to the South's interests. He said he was a half Southerner; and when he told of two or three of his uncles having worn the grey, he was tremendously applauded.

Speaking of the deep water channel from the Gulf to the Lakes, the President said he favored rapid improvements of the Mississippi river. "Like Davy Crockett, the great Tennesseean," he said, "I favor his motto 'Be Sure Your Are Right, Then Go Ahead' and this deep water problem is almost to the 'go ahead' stage, but we want to be sure about it."

Canal Doing Well.

The Panama canal, he said, was getting on well, "and the reason it is getting on so well is because we did not allow ourselves to go off half-cocked."

When the canal has been completed, he said, this nation would not ask other governments "kindly not to bother the canal; that we would protect it."

Floods caused great loss of life and damage in Spain and much damage in France.

"We must have a larger and highly efficient navy to patrol our coasts, not only the Atlantic, but on the Pacific," he said.

He urged the people to disregard party lines in all purely national affairs.

When the President closed his address he was driven rapidly to his train at the Missouri Pacific station, whence he departed at 5 o'clock for Lake Providence, La., for a hunting trip.

The President's speech was on the same lines as those he has made at other western points, and was attentively listened to by the immense crowd.

4 HORRIBLE DEATHS

The Victims Literally Cooked Alive.

30 OTHERS SERIOUSLY INJURED.

By the Upsetting of a Metal Pot in a Pennsylvania Steel Plant Four are Killed Outright and Thirty Will Die.

Butler, Pa., Special.—An explosion caused by the upsetting of the metal pot in the No. 1 cupola of the Standard Steel Company here late Saturday caused the death of four men, fatally injuring 20, and seriously injuring 30 others. Nearly all of the men were foreigners.

The large wheel plant, 150 by 100 feet, was demolished, causing a loss estimated at $100,000.

The dead are: Nick Dorna, Nicholas Blotar, John Vereck, Unknown man.

The condition of the 30 men injured is pitiable. Although still alive the features of a majority are mutilated beyond recognition. The hot metal was showered over them, causing horrible injuries. Arms, fingers and ears were torn, while a number of men had their eyes burned out. Several men are in the hospital with their legs burned to a crisp. At midnight the physicians attending the injured said that at least 20 of the men would die.

The explosion was caused by the upsetting of a metal pot in the cupola, which contained 5,000 pounds of molten metal ready for casting. A span in the pot broke, allowing the liquid iron to spill over the wet sand. An explosion followed so quickly that none of the workmen in the building had a chance to escape. Streams of the burning metal poured out on the workmen who were literally cooked. Twenty men near the cupola had every shred of clothing blown off by the force of the explosion. Many were buried under the wreckage and were not rescued for an hour after the catastrophe. When the flames shot from the burning car works fully 10,000 people rushed to the scene blocking streets and interfering with fire companies and ambulances. Through lack of room many of the injured were compelled to lie for an hour on cots in street cars before it was possible to take them to the hospital a mile and a half away. Members of the fire department and citizens assisted in caring for the men who were totally naked and suffering intensely with the cold.

The Rowlands Acquitted.

Raleigh, N. C., Special.—The trial of Dr. and Mrs. Rowland for the murder of engineer Strange, closed on Saturday night after one of the hardest fought legal contests in the history of the State's criminal prosecutions.
