Wilson, Special .- Thursday evening Jesse Brinkley, a married man On Construction of Teachers Trainwho has been living apart from his wife for several months, eloped with Miss Mary Vann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Vann. These two people have caused no little trouble in magistrates circles here. As to the direction taken by the runaways to locate the school. Those present they went through the country in a Luggy; others that they went away on the train; still there are others who say they left on the shoofly. Soon after hearing of the elopment a re- board met and organized with J. Y. gard to the matter. He said: "I don't know what made me suspicious, but about 8 o'clock Thursday night I got it into my head that everything was not going on around home right; so I began to get suspicious of my daughter's actions; I went through the house and looked for, in fact, looked everywhere that it was possible to find her. Finally I found where she had passed out through a panel in the fence. Gaining the outside of my yard I was told that my daughter and Jesse Brinkley had just left on a buggy. I immediately ap-

Senator Tillman Caustic.

Under the guise of discussing legislation the session of the Senate was ETERNAL VIGILANCE NEEDFUL devoted to a political discussion in which Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, and Senator Beveridge of Indiana, were the chief participants. The Senate considered the conference report on the Indian appropriation bill and after some criticism of the action of the conferees on minor provision the report was disagreed to and another conference asked.

Thomasville, Special.-Thursday night the home of Mr. L. R. Imber was entered by a robber and a number of things were stolen. Among them was about $35 in money. The family was sleeping in the room at the time, but no one awakened and the robbers escaped. Early Sunday morning the front window in the store room in the Wyche Block occupied by Max Wager, clothing merchant, was broken, and robbers enfered the store and stole a lot of clothes, hats and other furnishings. Diligent search is being made to apprehend the robbers, but as yet no one is suspected and it is doubtful if the perpertators will ever be caught.

In his opinion Justice Day discussed the various points of controversy involved in the cases. Taking up the first question as to what constitutes a crime. In the matter of granting rebates he said: "Had it been the intention of Congress to limit the obtaining of such preferences to fraudulent schemes or devices, or to those operating only by dishonest, under-handed methods, it would have been easy to have so provided in words that would be unmistakable in their meaning. A device need not be necessarily fraudulent; the term includes anything which is a plain contrivance."

Discussing the effect of the ruling on the usual construction of contracts Justice Day said:

"There is no provision for the filing of contracts with shippers and defined in the statute. If the rates special agreement, then the statute stock market with watered stock." will fail of its purpose to estabish a rate duly published, known to all, carrier may depart.

"It is said that if the carrier saw fit to change the published rate by contract the effect will be to make the same evailable to all other shippers. But the law is not limited to giving equal rates by indirect and uncertain methods. It has provided for the establishment of one rate to be filed as provided, subject to change as provided, and that rate to be while in force the only legal rate. Any other construction of the statute opens the door to the possibility of the very abuses of unequal rates which it was the design of the statute to prohibit and punish.

"It may be as urged by petitioner, that this construction renders impossible the making of contracts for the future delivery of such merchandise as the petitioner deals in, and that the instability of the rate introduces a factor of uncertainty, destructive of contract rights heretofore enjoyed in such property. But such considerations address themselves to Congress, not to the courts.

It is the province of the judiciary to enforce laws constitutionally enacted, not to make them to sui their own views of propriety of
