AND RALEIGH ENTERPRISE.

Raleigh, N. C., - November 26, 1908

Entered at the Post-office in Raleigh, N. C., as second class mail matter.

Local Matters

A Farmers' Institute was held at Garner Saturday.

Federal Court is in session in Raleigh this week, with Judge Boyd presiding.

Mr. Frank L. Wilson, a young man of Raleigh, died early Monday morning after a lingering illness.

The Wake County Sunday-school Convention will be held in the Methodist Church at Cary next Sunday.

Randolph-Macon and Wake Forest College will hold a debating contest in the auditorium of the Blind Institution to-night.

The lumber plant of the Holly Springs Land and Improvement Company was burned Saturday night entailing a loss of $4,000.

W. E. Wiley, a white man, was tried before Justice of the Peace Roberts Saturday for beating a ride on a train and was sentenced to thirty days on the roads.

Roger O'Kelly, the young negro lawyer, of Raleigh, suffered the loss of an eye in a football game Shaw University, Saturday. The young man is deaf and dumb.

Mr. Claude N. Bennett, of Washington City, delivered an illustrated lecture on the Panama Canal before an audience in Raleigh High School auditorium Saturday night.

Saturday morning, in North Raleigh, Ed. Smith and Hubert Stanley, engaged in an affray which will probably result in the death of Stanley. Smith escaped.

The State Prison authorities state that two negroes, Henry Howard, of McDowell County, and John Steele, of Guilford County, have made their escape from the State Farm.

Bob Lilliston, of Lynchburg, Va., convicted of the killing of Chas. E. Smith at the Union depot in Raleigh in 1905 and sentenced to fourteen years in the penitentiary, was pardoned Wednesday by Gov. Glenn.

Insurance Commissioner James R. Young has excluded from the State the Ohio German Insurance Company of Toledo, Ohio. He has warned agents to write no business for this company. It is understood that application has been made for the appointment of a receiver.

Will Canvass Election Returns To-Day.

The canvass of the votes cast in the recent election will begin here to-day and will probably be concluded on Friday.

The State Canvassing Board consists of the Governor and four members of the State Board of Elections. The sessions will be held in the Hall of the House of Representatives.

Negro Woman Kills Negro Man at Zebulon.

Tilden Adams, a negro was shot and instantly killed at Zebulon, Wake County, Sunday by Lula Todd, a negro woman. Coroner C. A. Separk went down to Zebulon Monday morning to investigate the killing. From the evidence of witnesses, Mr. Separk said that it was evident that the killing was accidental. The woman was not arrested.

Two More Arrested in the Smith Murder Mystery.

Two women, Madge Earl and Ida Boone, of East Raleigh, were arrested Tuesday as witnesses in the Smith murder mystery.

Fifteen Cars Torn Up.

A freight train on the Southern was wrecked near Statesville Tuesday. Fifteen cars were derailed and torn up. No one injured.

Mr. Thomas F. Lloyd, of Chapel Hill, Badly Hurt in Runaway.

News reached here to-day that in Chapel Hill yesterday Mr. T. F. Lloyd, one of Orange County's most wealthy citizens and a prominent cotton mill man, owning the Alberta Cotton Mills, was thrown from a wagon in which he was riding and so seriously hurt that his recovery is considered doubtful. He is undoubtedly in a very serious condition.

The report is that Mr. Lloyd and a kinsman, Lucio Lloyd, were riding in a wagon to which was hitched two mules. The mules ran away and got from under the control of the driver. Lucio Lloyd jumped and escaped without serious hurt. T. F. Lloyd attempted to jump and was thrown, receiving severe wounds. Several ribs were broken and he was badly bruised, his condition being such as to cause alarm among his friends.—Durham Sun.

Little Girl Perishes in Flames Which Destroy Home.

High Point, N. C., Nov. 21.—The three-year-old girl of Junius Beaver, employed at the silk mill here, was burned to death last evening in a fire which destroyed the house. A four-year-old boy escaped from a sick bed. The unfortunate man lost his home and all furniture in addition to his child.

AGENTS WANTED.

We want a good agent in every county in North Carolina to solicit subscriptions for The Caucasian. We have attractive propositions to make to the right parties. If you want good employment, and can hustle, write to THE CAUCASIAN, Raleigh, N. C.

REV. A. D. HUNTER SUICIDES.

Prominent Citizen of Cary Takes His Own Life.

Rev. A. D. Hunter, a well-known Baptist minister of Wake County, committed suicide at his home in Cary Monday morning. His body was found in the woodhouse back of his residence at about 12 o'clock. No one suspected that Mr. Hunter contemplated self-destruction. It was known that he had been greatly depressed for sometime on account of losses incurred in his fight for the Democratic nomination for treasurer in the primaries.

It will be remembered that Rev. A. D. Hunter was an opponent of Messrs. L. B. Pegram, B. P. Williamson and C. E. Crawford, in the fight for the Democratic nomination for County Treasurer. During the fight much bitterness was aroused by attacks of a personal character. Many hard things were said of Mr. Hunter's private life, and it is known that these attacks caused him a great deal of suffering.

Mr. Hunter was about fifty-two years old. He was the only son of the late Isaac Hunter, who lived in Wake County, near Holly Springs. For years he has been a Baptist preacher, and at the time of his death was serving several country churches. He was thrice married. His first wife was Miss Emma Gunter. She left him one daughter, Miss Elsa Hunter, a teacher in the Baptist University for Women. His second wife was Miss Irene Walker, and by her had four children, all of whom are living. His third wife was Miss Elizabeth Rodwell, who survives him. They had two children.

HEARING CONTINUED.

Receivership Proceedings in Industrial News Case Continued to November 30th.

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 23.—In the United States bankruptcy court this morning Judge Boyd overruled objections made by United States District Attorney Holton, through his attorneys Morehead & Sapp, to allowing amendments to the petition in bankruptcy against the Industrial News Publishing Company, permitted the attorney for other creditors, G. H. Bradshaw, to file a petition of a new set of creditors and amend the defects of the original petition in bankruptcy, ordered that the two be consolidated with the original proceedings, ordered that the present receiver, W. M. Underwood, continue to act, and for the Industrial News to appear next Monday, November 30th, and show cause why it should not be adjudged bankrupt.

A Presumptuous Negro Locked Up for Safe-Keeping.

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 23.—Fearing offers of violence from friends of the aggrieved party, Joshua Holland a flashy dressed young mulatto employed in a local pressing club and sentenced in the police court at noon to thirty days on the county roads for disorderly conduct in daring to address a communication to a Miss Reese, a young white woman, employed as a clerk in the store of Joseph Berbery, a Syrian merchant on South Front street, asking if he might accompany her home after closing hours Saturday night, is to-night confined in jail instead of at the county stockade some distance in the country.

A Man Aged 105, Dies in Haywood County.

News has been received here of the death on Upper Pigeon, Haywood county, Thursday, November 5th, of "Uncle" Henry Grogan, who passed to rest at the ripe age of almost 105. Had he lived until last Thursday he would have celebrated the 105th anniversary of his birth. Surviving are several children and a number of grand children and great grandchildren. Mr. Grogan was the oldest citizen of Haywood county since the death in that county a year or more ago of "Uncle Ed" Messer, who went to rest at the age of 114. Mr. Grogan was a native of South Carolina, removing to Haywood county during the war of the States. He was an honest and upright citizen and had many friends in the Western section of the State.—Asheville Citizen.

In Prohibition Atlanta.

Atlanta's mayor-elect is off on another big jag. Where did he get his liquor? Atlanta is a great place. This same man has been mayor several times and always gets drunk when he wants to, then the people declare they will never again trust him, but they forget it when he gets sober. He is a printer, and when you undertake to keep one of the craft sober, who is given to speering, you have a job on your hands.—Greensboro Record.

A $15,000,000 Mortgage Filed in Mecklenburg County.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 23.—A mortgage for $15,000,000 was placed on file with the Clerk of the Court of Mecklenburg County in this city to-day, by the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, the same being given to the Central Trust Company of New York City, to secure a loan of money to cover a bond issue of $15,000,000.

Revolution in Hayti.

There is a revolutionary movement in Hayti against President Nord Alexis. Two towns in the province have declared against the government. The minister of the interior has been taken prisoner by the rebels.

Arkansas Swept by a Tornado.

Western Arkansas was swept by a tornado Tuesday. Twenty-one persons reported killed and many injured. Loss to property is several hundred thousand dollars.

THAT SUIT FOR LIBEL.

The Rumors or Charges Against Adams Were Published by Other Papers and in Congressional Record Before The Caucasian Published Them.

Clinton News-Dispatch.] We publish in another column an account clipped from The Caucasian of the trial of Senator Marion Butler and his brother, Lester F. Butler, in Greensboro, N. C., on Wednesday, November 4th. The public is familiar with the fact, that about two years ago there appeared in several of the State papers, including the News and Observer, the Charlotte Observer and other papers, a newsletter from Washington giving an account of charges in Congress and of public rumors of bribes or improper conduct of Judge Adams and his court, while passing upon the property rights of the Indians, while the court was in session in Oklahoma.

We are informed that papers out West about that time published these same charges. It was not until after these rumors and charges were published by other papers, and in the Congressional Record, that The Caucasian published them, so they claim; but for publishing these charges The Caucasian Publishing Company has been sued by Judge Adams for $50,000 for damages for libel, and also Senator Butler and his brother, Lester F. Butler, have also been sued for a similar sum on account of their connection with that paper.

These defendants have filed answers to these suits and the case will probably be tried in the near future on its merits. The defendants plead that they published the charges after they had been given wide publication by other papers, and they were published in good faith and without malice, believing at the time, and believing now, that said reports were true. Before these cases could be tried, Judge Adams sued an criminal warrant for libel, and sends to a lawyer in Clinton and had a special Democratic deputy sworn in to serve this indictment and to arrest Senator Butler at his voting precinct on the day of the election. Senator Butler was arrested on that warrant as he was going to vote and the officer said his instructions were to allow him no bond. But a bond was promptly prepared and tendered to this officer, Mr. F. B. Hammond, which he accepted under the advice of counsel. We understand the same methods were carried out in Raleigh in the arrest of Mr. Lester F. Butler, the officer being directed to accept no bond.

This proceeding is remarkable, to say the least. It is all right for Judge Adams to pursue his remedy in the courts and prove his innocence of the charges if he can, and he had his remedy in the civil suits, but to send to a criminal warrant and have Senator Butler arrested while he was in North Carolina making speeches for the party that Judge Adams claims to be the head of as Chairman, and on the day of election, to have him arrested by a special Democratic officer appointed for that purpose, thereby ignoring the sheriff, deputy sheriff and the constables of the county, with instructions not to accept bond but to take and carry bodily to trial, has caused much unfavorable comment in this section by everyone, both Democrats and Republicans. It was needless and uncalled for, at that particular time, and was planned and carried out in the most objectionable manner. We are glad that Judge Adams has decided to relinquish the Chairmanship of the State Committee. We at least approve of that.

So It Goes.

The Charlotte Observer wants the next Legislature to give the people of the State local self-government. The Statesville Landmark says, "Don't." The Landmark thinks it will bring up the liquor question and thinks we have had enough of such stuff. Whether we shall have liquor or not, is not the only local self-government the people have a right to. The people have voted for prohibition. If they find, after a thorough test, that it is a bad thing, then let the people vote it out. The people have a right to say who their officers shall be and who shall educate their children. They have a right to say who shall control county affairs, who shall look after their schools, who shall be justice of the peace and tax collector. In many places they have not this right. This is what the Observer means, and the folks are with the Observer.—Hickory Mercury.

How is Your Digestion?

Mrs. Mary Dowling, of No. 228 Eight Ave., San Francisco, recommends a remedy for stomach trouble. She says: "Gratitude for the wonderful effect of Electric Bitters in a case of acute indigestion, prompts this testimonial. I am fully convinced that for stomach and liver troubles Electric Bitters is the best remedy on the market to-day." This great tonic and alternative medicine invigorates the system, purifies the blood and is especially helpful in all forms of female weakness. 50c. at all Drug Stores.

CHICKENS FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS.

They, as Well as the Old, Will Enjoy Caring for Them and Will Make Them Pay.

(From The Progressive Farmer.) March and April are the months to market spring chicks to make a good profit. Early chicks grow much faster than the later ones, if properly cared for, and give many times the profit, therefore why not have hens which will not only lay in winter but can be relied upon to hatch chicks for spring market, instead of raising scrubs?

If farmers' wives would get good winter laying hens, they would find a much easier way to make their plan money, than they are now pursuing, and if more of the boys and girls were encouraged to engage in the poultry business, there would be a diminished rush of our young people to cities. A good poultry paper for the children to read, a setting of pure bred eggs to care for, will be the first steps in getting them interested, and then the fever will grow. MRS. J. C. DEATON.

The Future Life in the Country.

(From The Progressive Farmer.) Our Home takes occasion to observe that travel on the railroads is increasing every year. It is a quick way to go and people do not regard the fare as they did in former days. If by going on train to town a farmer can save half a day's time at home he considers it economy to pay the fare and go by rail. Labor is scarce and high and a man's time must be taken into account. "Twenty-five years hence," says Our Home, "those who are living will see the development of inter-urban electric lines that will connect all the principal towns in the Piedmont section of the State. The modern electric cars are provided with telephones so that communication can be had at any point along the line of travel. We think we are living in a tolerably fast age now, but we have just begun to develop." We believe this transformation will take place in less than twenty-five years, and the farmer is to be the chief beneficiary. Electricity will do more than any other agency to add to the comforts of life in the country and the trend of population is going to be reversed from the old order. It is going to be outward from the towns into the country. Within a decade, life in the country will be all that mortal man could wish for in the way of enjoyment and happiness.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Amusing Uses of Words.

A colored janitor of Springhill, Ill., during a panic, observed: "I'm not afraid of de smallpox; I've been assassinated three times!" On another occasion he announced proudly: "My wife had an attack of hieroglyphics last night!"

Another negro, congratulating a sable member of the legislature upon his supposed re-election, received "I regret to say, Sambo, that I've been seriously dis-elected."

Still another African thus reported a doctor's diagnosis: "He 'lowd I had a flagellation ob diseases. Fust, the salvatin glands don't insist my indigestion, an' makes a torpedo liver, so'se I'm liable to go off any minute!"

An alderman in a Western city, proud of office, amused everybody by his pompous language. Once impatient because of a delayed train, he exclaimed: "If do wish this road would run on skeddadle time!" Objeeting to baby-carriages on crowded streets, he said: "The sidewalkers are for the pedestinarians." He proudly approved of a new street-cleaning machine because it took up the "mofcobs."

A self-conceited ignoramus, on being asked if he intended giving his children academic educations, replied: "That's the kind of education I got, and if it takes every shilling, my children shall be macadamized as their father was!"—Sophie Bronson Titterington.

Medicinal Vegetables.

Cranberries correct the liver. Carrots are excellent for gout. Asparagus stimulates the kidneys. Watercress is an excellent blood purifier. Honey is a good substitute for cod liver oil. Parsnips possess the same virtues as sarsaparilla. Celery contains sulphur and helps to ward off rheumatism. Beetroot is fattening and good for people who want to put on flesh. Potatoes are good for torpid liver but should be avoided by gouty people. Lettuce has a soothing effect on the nerves and is excellent for sufferers from insomnia. The juice of a lemon is excellent for a sore throat, but should not be swallowed, but used as a gargle. Onions are good for the complexion and also a good nerve tonic.—Exchange.

Watched Fifteen Years.

"For fifteen years I have watched the working of Booklen's Arnica Salve; and it has never failed to cure any sore, boil, ulcer, or burn to which it was applied. It has saved my many a doctor bill," says A. F. Hardy, of East Wilton, Maine. 25c. at all Drug Stores.

The life of a man as measured against the slow changes of nature makes him appear but one of the more transient of God's creatures. It is well to remember, however, that man is not preparing to live, while other things are spending all their days on earth. Man's real greatness appears when he emerges upon the real life beyond the grave. Here he is "of but few days," but beyond the veil he is immortal. present.—Boston Transcript.
