WHO CAN READ?

The Raleigh News and Observ can't get over the habit of writing her death an hour later at the hossuch rot as the following:

'The Wilmington Star says: 'Re publican newspapers are not considered safe investments in this State. The late William H. Smith, known as 'Blow Your Horn, Billy,' of Johnsotn County, shut down the Republican daily in Raleigh in the seventies with the practical remark: 'You can't publish a paper for a party that can't read.' Times haven't changed. so much since then."

This will hardly meet the approval a special order of business in the Asof a single intelligent man in the State.
