EDITORIAL BRIEFS

Now for the indictments against vote buyers.

It the census man didn't yet you, the tax collector will.

That cold snap last week didn't seem to effect the crop of candidates.

Now here is some real news—when Bryan was in New York Monday he refused to talk on politics.

For the benefit of our Democratic readers we will state that recent frosts did not damage the mint beds in Charlotte.

They didn't stop at reading them out of the party at the Democratic mass meeting Saturday, but they proceeded to kick them out.

We really didn't know how bad the Democratic party was in this county until they told it on each other Saturday.

It will be noticed that some of the Democratic candidates in this State are of a retiring nature—but perhaps through force of circumstances.

The editor of the "Democratic Bible" did not have much "moral swasion" over the Democratic mass meeting in the court-house Saturday.

There is one thing certain, the Democratic leaders in Wake County can't say anything worse about the Republicans than they have said about each other.

Major Hemphill pleads for a cleaner journalism. The Major lived in South Carolina for a number of years and, doubtless, knows the need of the cause he advocates.

Mr. Bryan is now to take up the cause of Christianity. It is to be hoped that Christianity will not suffer at his hands as has the Democratic party.

No, the coming of Halley's comet does not mean Democratic success this fall, for Halley's comet, like "Democratic success," will fade away before the fall elections.

The Democratic press say they do not understand Gov. Kitchin's mind. The Governor, however, ought not to have any difficulty understanding theirs, if he reads the papers.

Who can say that the local theatre is not reforming, when neither the "Girl From Rectors" nor the Democratic mass meeting was permitted to exhibit in the Academy of Music?

If the mass meeting in Raleigh Saturday was held by the good Democrats, we certainly hope the bad Democrats will not get it in their heads to hold a meeting here.

Mr. Bryan says the time is ripe for the Democracy to return to Jeffersonian principles. But the present-day Democracy will have to be shown the way for they have never been there.

Those Wilmington officials accused of bribery are advised by the News and Observer "to try the case to the bottom." They will, no doubt, so deep to the bottom that it won't be heard of again.

The News and Observer says that no honest Republican will vote in a Democratic primary. And it has almost come to the pass in Wake County where no honest Democrats can participate in them either.

It is claimed that something remarkable happens every time Halley's comet visits this earth. But if it was responsible for that Democratic mass meeting held in Wake County Saturday we are indeed fortunate that the comet comes but once every seventy-five years.

Some of the speakers for the court-house ring Saturday said that Mr. Bailey was a Republican and that Bailey and Daniels were trying to get the Democrats of Wake County to adopt planks from the Republican platform.

Well, they are mighty good planks to adopt, and many Democrats in Wake County have already decided to adopt the Republican platform as a whole, and still others will follow their example before the votes are cast this fall.

BACK TO THE FARM MOVEMENT.

Preliminary Movement Will Be Held in St. Louis To-Day—Many Prominent Speakers Will Address Meeting—Propose to Locate Farm Colonies in Southern States.

St. Louis, Mo., April 30.—A nation-wide "back to the farm" movement, to be sponsored by philanthropists of the United States, will be inaugurated in this city May 5th, at a preliminary meeting of interested parties called by Governor Herbert S. Hadley.

Governor Hadley long has been an ardent advocate of a return of city dwellers to the farm and for months has been working out the details of a plan which he believes will solve the high cost of living problem and at the same time bring about more scientific farming.

He proposes to organize the National Farm Homes Association, with the philanthropists of the country as stockholders, to furnish farms, equipment and instruction for worthy applicants who are seeking to escape from the cities.

Prominent Endorsers.

Prominent men are taking an active part in the plan. Addresses will be made at the preliminary meeting by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, W. J. Bryan, Jacob Rits, B. F. Yoakum, Lyman Abbott, Jane Addams, Joseph W. Folk, Governor Hadley, Immigration Commissioner J. H. Curran, and others.

A committeeman from each State will be named at the meeting and a call will be issued for a final meeting, at which the association will be formally organized.

Hadley's plan is made up of the best features of similar ideas in use in Europe, with minor additions by himself. It is proposed to incorporate the association for $1,000,000, the stock to be divided into one thousand shares of $1,000 each. These shares (it is expected, will pay dividends which either will be taken out by the stockholders or added to the capital.

Provision for Colonies.

It is then proposed to locate colonies on model farms in Texas, Missouri, Alabama and other States where land is cheap and fertile. Each farmer will be allotted forty acres; a home will be erected for him and fences, utensils and live stock furnished. Thirty-two of these forty-acre farms will constitute a colony. Each colony will include a central farm, presided over by an expert agriculturist.

Each colony will have a school, where scientific farming will be taught in addition to the usual curriculum.

Each group of thirty-two farms will cost, complete, it is figured, $50,000, thus allowing twenty colonies, or 600 farms, on the original investment, the number of farms to constantly increase as the tenants pay off their indebtedness.

Governor Hadley recently purchased a farm and is erecting a log cabin where he and his family will spend the summer.

BILL PASSES FOR BUREAU OF MINES.

The President's Signature Now Only Needed—A Director Provided.

Washington, D. C., May 2.—In addition to considering the railroad bill for two hours the Senate to-day discussed at length and passed the bill erecting a Bureau of Mines in the Interior Department. The bill had received the sanction of the House and now only requires the signature of the President. The bill places the Bureau in the hands of a director with a salary of $6,000 a year. A long and short haul amendment to the railroad bill, prepared by Senator Dixon, was the subject of lively debate.

Two Ministers Eaten by South Sea Cannibals.

Seattle, Wash., April 29.—Details of the eating by cannibals, on February 5, of the Rev. Horatio Hopkins and his assistant, the Rev. Hector Laurie McPherson, missionaries of the Presbyterian Church, on Savage Island, were brought by the barkentine Mary E. Winkelman, which arrived at Mukilteo, Wash., from the Tonga Islands in the South Seas.

While the barkentine lay at Tangatabu, in the Tonga Islands, a canoe-load of mission natives from Savage Island arrived at Fua, bringing news of the butchery.

The natives said that Hopkins and McPherson were teaching in the mission building, which stands on the beach in the little harbor of Savage Island, when 200 unconverted savages, howling war cries and brandishing clubs and spears, descended on them and took thirteen prisoners. The missionaries had 20 converts in training at the time, and only nine of them escaped.

Former Postmaster at Selma Dies Suddenly.

Selma, N. C., April 28.—Mr. J. T. Corbett, former postmaster of Selma, fell dead on Anderson Street this morning.

Mr. Corbett came down street to make arrangements to move his little girl to the Wilson Sanatorium, the child having swallowed some potash lye a short time ago, from which she is still suffering.

THE COST OF LIVING

Senator Overman Takes Queer Position on This Important Question.

TARIFF NOT THE CAUSE

Farmers Are Getting a Good Price for Their Products and Have Money to Put in Banks—Under Democratic Administration Many Had to Mortgage Their Homes to Keep Their Families From Starving—Democratic Machine Policies in Wake County Should be a Lesson to Republicans Who Want to See Their Party Grow.

(Special to the Caucasian.)
Washington, D. C., May 3.—It will be remembered that soon after the passage of the tariff bill that the politicians raised a howl about high prices and said that the tariff was responsible. An agitation was begun in Congress to have a congressional committee to investigate the high cost of living, which the Democrats all joined in declaring was a bad thing for the country.

Senator Overman's Queer Position.

The other day, when the question of appropriating sixty-five thousand dollars came up in the Senate to defray the expenses of this committee, Senator Overman of North Carolina led the fight in defeating the appropriation, and strange to say gave as his reason that he did not want to vote this money in order to furnish the Republicans with campaign arguments. The fact is that Senator Overman realized that the more the reason for high prices was examined the more it would help the Republican party, and so now he is trying to prevent the real facts from coming to the front through an official investigation.

The Democrats wanted to be permitted to denounce the tariff as being responsible for some great evil, but they are afraid for the facts to come out and contrast how much better off the farmer and all producers are under the present conditions than they were under the last Democratic tariff bill. North Carolina is largely an agricultural and wealth producing State, and there is no State in the Union where the great masses of the people are prospering under present conditions more than the people of that State.

While everything that the farmer and wealth-producer has to buy is higher than it ever was, yet the products of the State are selling for such a high price that every farmer to-day can buy all that he wants and still have money left to put in the bank; but under the Democratic administration he not only had no money in the bank, but could not buy what his family needed, and besides had a mortgage on his back.

A Striking Case in Point.

A letter which this writer has just received from a subscriber to The Caucasian in Wake County says:

"The present conditions in Wake County remind me very forcibly of the truth of a recent editorial in The Caucasian. The point was made that every patriotic North Carolinian, no matter in which party he was born, should want to see two strong parties in North Carolina, so nearly evenly divided that it would be easy for the people to turn out one party and put in the other. That editorial pointed out the fact that only by such a condition could the people get the best government from any party.

"The machine government which the Democratic party in Wake County has been giving the people is so bad that it has caused a revolution inside the Democratic party. A great mass meeting has been held by the citizens to denounce the bad, incompetent ring rule. If the Republican party had been about of equal strength with the Democratic party in this county, no such bad conditions could ever have occurred. The Democratic machine is drunk with power, and it has felt like it has had nothing to fear from the Republican party, so they have run things with a high hand and without any regard for the interests of the people and the taxpayers."

The conditions described by the writer of the above letter are more or less the same all over North Carolina, and it shows the absolute necessity for a strong vigorous Republican party. Every Democrat who wants to see his party purged and stand for good government ought to turn his hand and help carry the State Republican, so as to purify his own party and force it to respect the will of the people. And this is what will happen in North Carolina if the rank and file of the Republicans will re-organize their party and put at its head men who not only want to carry the State Republican, but who also have the character and capacity to lead the party to victory.

Victory can never be won under the leadership of pie counter bosses; first, because the bosses do not want to carry the State, and second, because the people would not follow them if they did.

MONUMENT MAY BE PUT ON MASON AND DIXON LINE.

Ex-Senator Gordon's Suggestion to Commemorate Passing of Sectionalism May Be Adopted.

New York, April 30.—The suggestion made by Gen. James Gordon, formerly United States Senator from Mississippi, in his speech February 24th before the Senate, that a monument be erected at some point on the old Mason and Dixon line in commemoration of the passing of the feeling of animosity to be developed into an actuality.

A committee of twenty-one members appointed from the New York League of Republican Clubs met yesterday in the Hotel Astor to perfect plans for the organization of the monument movement.

Benjamin F. Buck, who was chairman of the Japanese relief committee, was elected chairman of the Gordon memorial committee. The others chosen were: Arthur Day, treasurer, and Eliot Lord of No. 164 Fifth Avenue, secretary.

The permanent committee of one hundred from this State will be chosen soon and will act in concert with similar committees of all the other States in the effort to raise at least $250,000, the amount planned to be expended for the monument. At present no site has been selected.

MEMORIAL TO DANIEL BOONE.

Exercises Held at the Old Boone Homestead Near Salisbury—An Exact Replica of Hunter's Cabin.

Salisbury, N. C., April 30.—At Holman's ford, twelve miles from this city, near the banks of the Yadkin River and on the exact spot where Daniel Boone, pioneer, Pathfinder into the unknown West, and founder of Boonesboro, Ky., spent nineteen years of his life, patriotic North Carolinians to-day ceremoniously dedicated memorials to the famous figure of America's early history.

On the site of the old homestead a few yards from the river an exact replica of the cabin occupied by the intrepid hunter, has been erected. Standing directly in front of this log cabin is a handsome shaft built from granite mined from the very grounds upon which Boone fought the red men.

The shaft is mounted on a massive base and is in the form of an arrow-head. Ornamenting this is a bronze tablet bearing the name of Daniel Boone and the date of his residence in North Carolina. Both of these memorials were dedicated with appropriate ceremonies in which many of the direct descendants of Boone, and a score of others who boast of their relationship to the pioneer, participated.

The picturesque cabin which was dedicated to-day, the relics of the great pioneer that it contains, and the unique tablet designed to perpetuate his memory are fruits of the work of the Daniel Boone Memorial Association, incorporated by the General Assembly of North Carolina in 1909. The association was created a corporation, "with power to hold lands, erect suitable memorials, collect historical materials, and such other things as are necessary to perpetuate the memory of the life of Daniel Boone in North Carolina."

The significance of the selection of the date for the dedication lies in the fact that April 30th is the 160th anniversary of the departure of the Boone family from Bucks County, Penn., for their new home on the banks of the Yadkin River and the 141st anniversary of the departure of Daniel Boone from North Carolina for Kentucky.

ROOSEVELT HONORED AT COPENHAGEN.

Presented With Two Loving Cups and Royal Porcelain Works—He Will Make the Nobel Prize Speech at Christiania To-day.

Copenhagen, May 3.—Mr. Roosevelt left here at 9:30 to-night for Christiania, where he will arrive shortly after noon to-morrow. The feature of his visit there will be the Nobel prize speech which will be delivered on Thursday afternoon.

An enormous crowd gathered at the station to bid farewell to the Roosevelt party.

Colonel Roosevelt was the recipient to-day of two loving cups, one bearing the Danish Coat of Arms and the other the American arms, and also four plaques from the Royal Porcelain Works, upon which were pictured several wild beasts.

The municipality gave a dinner at the City Hall in honor of the ex-President.

The Lord Mayor presided and all the members of the Cabinet were present. The Mayor proposed the health of the guest of honor and the company cheered enthusiastically as he concluded "long live Roosevelt."

Governor Hughes Confirmed.

Washington, D. C., May 2.—Governor Hughes, of New York, was to-day confirmed by the Senate to be associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States to succeed the late Justice Brewer. Mr. Hughes was nominated by President Taft on April 25th, and favorable action upon the nomination was taken this morning by the Senate Judiciary Committee to which it was referred.

RANK AND RIOTOUS

Democratic Mass Meeting in Raleigh Saturday Was a Rough House.

TWO MEETINGS HELD

Meeting First Called at Academy But After a Tilt Adjournd to the Court-House—Here Bailey Attempted to Call the Meeting to Order, But Could Not on Account of Cat Calls, Yells, and General Disorder—Bailey and Daniels Finally Leave and Hold Their Meeting in Street, While Ring Hold Meeting in Court-House—A Disgraceful Affair.

The most disgraceful meeting ever held in Wake County was pulled off in Raleigh Saturday by the Democratic leaders who were fighting for control of the party organization.

The leaders on both sides may have had their Democracy on straight, but if they all had their character on straight it is high time they were getting up affidavits to that effect and get same before the people. If there was any Democratic leader in Wake County whose character was not assailed it was because his name was not mentioned—and probably for want of time. There were about seven hundred persons present, counting the colored population and all. Some were drunk, some were drinking, and some were just naturally mad because the other side wanted to control, while others came only as spectators and became so disgusted that they would not participate with either side. The lie was passed so frequently that the reporter may not have gotten it in his notes every time, but will, at least, try to give the readers of The Caucasian an idea of what transpired during the meeting. The Bailey faction and Jones faction were both boisterous, each determined that the other should not get control of the meeting.

Object of Meeting.

When the Democratic Committee of Wake County met in Raleigh some days ago to set a date for their primary, Mr. J. William Bailey and his friends asked for two primaries, but were out-voted by the "Court-House Ring" and only one primary was ordered. (At this same meeting Solicitor Armistead Jones was elected County Chairman.) After the meeting Mr. Bailey and about fifteen other Democrats signed a call for a Democratic mass meeting to be held in Raleigh on April 30th to discuss "Men and Measures." During the meantime Mr. Bailey sent out letters and circulars over the county charging the members of the Democratic ring, composed of county officers and others, with being corrupt, charged that some had bought votes and that certain members of Legislature had not acted in good faith. But during this time the "ring" was not idle, for they had men out in the county drumming up men to come to their rescue at this meeting, and it was charged that they even paid men to come to Raleigh to help hold down Bailey and his crowd.

Meeting at the Academy.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Bailey in the Academy of Music at 12 o'clock. Before the meeting the lower floor had been divided into sections by placards for each township, but when the meeting was called to order it was noticed that the cards had been removed—but thereby hangs another tale.

Mr. Bailey stated that the meeting had been called by forty of the best Democrats in Wake County and over the "ring." That it was called for the purpose of giving the people a voice in the government. That since the meeting had been called the "ring" had sent men all over the county calling for help. "We had erected cards so as to divide the delegates into townships, but after a conference between Sherwood Upchurch and W. B. Jones, representing the 'ring,' they proposed that the cards be taken down, but we have met here to put down 'ring rule,' and we will do it, and we want every man opposed to 'ring rule' to adjourn to the court-house with me." (Mr. Upchurch, manager of the Academy, had told them they could not use the building unless both sides were represented.) The crowd was immediately in an uproar. Mr. Bailey and Mr. Joseph Daniels left the hall and the crowd then piled into the court-house. Chairman Armistead Jones called on the men to come close; to come into the bar.

Meeting at the Court-House.

Quite a little excitement was caused when Senator "Buck" Jones went up to Mr. Bailey and said if he said he ordered those placards down at the Academy he was a "G-d-d—lar, and that he said it, too."

Solicitor Jones mounted a chair amid cries of "Jones, Jones." There has been an attempt to stifle the voice of the people," said Mr. Jones. Part of the crowd cried for "Buck"

Jones; others saying, "down with him." A general uproar then began all over the house, people standing and yelling.

"Buck" Jones mounted the table and his supporters greeted him with loud yells, and pandemonium reigned.

Mr. Bailey, in the judge's crowd, attempted to speak also, the crowd yelling "Jones, Jones," and "Bailey, Bailey," this situation, and his voice was drowned out.

Messrs. J. J. Bernard, Bailey, Solicitor Jones, George Norwood, J. N. Holding, R. C. Strong, and W. B. Jones, in turn, tried to restore order, but the house was in an uproar, with cat calls, yells, announcement of ball games, with a good sprinkling of "cussing" on the side.

Armistead Jones, Chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee, and Solicitor of this Judicial District, stepped to the side of Mr. Bailey, and with intimidating gestures, said: "Without reflecting any more on the Democratic party, you God-damned scoundrel, you, I make this proposition, that you call Dan Hugh McLean, of Harnett County, to the chair to call this meeting to order. You've been reflecting on me and the Democratic party all through what you've said, and I'm not going to stand it."

A man who said he was from Method, whirled around and around in a frenzy, threatening to thrash "any damned one of 'em."

After other futile attempts to speak, Bailey and Daniels and their following withdrew from the court-house to hold a meeting in the streets.

Mr. Jones and his followers asked the crowd to stay in the court-house and about half of the crowd staid. Mr. Rufus Dunn was elected chairman of the court-house meeting. Solicitor Jones then made a speech in which he stated that Bailey's object was to stifle the party. That when he was fighting for white supremacy J. W. Bailey was enjoying an office under Russell's administration, and further charged that Bailey was in accord with the Republican party in the campaigns of 1898 and 1900. He also charged that Bailey spent money right and left for Locke Craig, yet he comes and says put a stop to buying votes.

Bought Votes.

At this juncture Mr. J. Sherwood Upchurch asked to be heard, and coming to the stand, he said: "I am up here to correct a lie, and infamous lie, that Will Bailey stood on the platform and told and I said to him what no gentleman would have taken. As to using money, he acted a scoundrel, for he came to me and asked if I could carry the Fourth Ward for Craig. I told him I thought I could deliver the goods, and he gave me a check and said that after the election he would pay me for my services. After the election Bailey came to me and said: 'You are the only man that did not throw me down.' Later he told me that I had sold my vote, and I replied, 'You're a lie, for I voted for the man that Joe Daniels could not control. I voted for Will Kitchin.' I loaned the Academy of Music for the use of the Democratic party and would not take a cent for it. Bailey put placards in so that he might seat those of his gang and had the police at the door. He wanted to keep out those opposed to him. When he said that I threw the people out of the Academy, he lied."

Mr. J. N. Holding was called upon and responded. "I am not going to talk long. The proceedings of this day shows that nominations should be made by primary and not a convention. The mass meeting was called by J. W. Bailey for all Democrats, yet when we attempted to go, we were barred.

"When I went up to quiet the crowd Bailey says that if I cannot quiet the crowd, nobody else shall. It is an effort to split the party. I have been sick for several years, but when a man tries to put me out of a Democratic meeting, he will have a hard time. What are they trying to do? They are trying to get in their ring and shut you out two months ahead of the primary. That meeting will probably endorse Bailey for the Senate. They wanted to get a little ring here, nominate their men, and try to force them upon the people. J. W. Bailey has charged every chairman of precinct committees as being corrupt. They are your neighbors, and he has charged that they are frauds and corrupt, and I ask you to put your stamp upon it. Don't keep your mouths shut, but tell the people all about it."

Mr. Armistead Jones offered a resolution providing that the Democrats should vote at the primary on whether they wanted the county officers put on a salary. The resolution was adopted.

Senator Jones was called for and responded, expressing his heartfelt thanks for the kind sentiment of the crowd. "You know that Joseph Daniels and Josiah William Bailey are trying to thwart the will of the people. When Mr. Bailey said that he had anything to do with the matter at the Academy, he tells what is false, and I told him so. He made another statement that he knew was false, and that was the salary of the sheriff of the county was $10,000. Joe Daniels, when claiming his Democracy, has always preached what he called straight Democracy, yet he knows that this salary bill is what

OIL TRUST OUSTED

United States Supreme Court Upholds Tennessee in Her Fight Against Trust.

MISSISSIPPI ALSO UPHELD

Standard Oil Company Had Violated Tennessee's Anti-Trust Law and Had Been Ordered to Leave the State—Retail Lumber Dealers of Mississippi and Louisiana Had Been Ordered to Disband by the Courts in Mississippi Because They Had Violated Anti-Trust Law of That State.

Washington, D. C., May 2.—The hands of the States in their fight against "trust" were upheld to-day by the Supreme Court of the United States with telling effect.

The association of retail lumber dealers in Mississippi and Louisiana was disbanded by affirmation of the decree of the Supreme Court of Mississippi, the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky was ousted from Tennessee by the approval of the decree of the Supreme Court of Tennessee. Both the State Courts had held violated the anti-trust act of the respective States.

Justice Linton announced the opinion of the court in the Mississippi case. It was his first utterance from the Supreme Court bench on the "trust" question. He said the members of the association had obligated themselves not to deal with any manufacturer or wholesaler in lumber, who sold to consumers in the localities in which they conducted a business sufficiently large to meet the demands of the public.

He accepted the findings of the State courts and declared that it is an illegal combination and conspiracy under the Mississippi statute.

The proceedings in the Standard Oil case were begun in 1907 under the Tennessee anti-trust act.

The charges against the Standard originated out of a transaction at Gallatin, Tenn., the Standard of Kentucky had oil stored in tanks in Tennessee from which it procured a supply to serve merchants throughout various sections of the State. The Evansville Oil Company of Evansville, Ind., sent a salesman to Gallatin to sell oil. He obtained a number of orders, whereupon the agent of the Standard Oil offered to give the merchant ten gallons of oil per barrel to countermand their purchase orders with the Evansville Oil Company. Four of them accepted. The Standard and two of its agents were indicted under the State Anti-Trust Act. One of the agents was convicted, but the Standard escaped punishment on the ground that it could not be fined under the act but could only be ousted.

Quater proceedings were then begun against it with the charges based on the Gallatin transactions. The States courts issued an ousting decree from which an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court of the United States. Justice Holmes announced the opinion of the court. All the contentions of the company were disposed of favorably to the State.
