Mrs. Cook Tells Truth

Dexter, Ky.—In a signed statement, Mrs. Cook tells the truth about how Cardui brought back her health and strength. She says, "I could not get any relief, until I tried Cardui, the woman's tonic. I suffered more or less for 10 years, and was so weak and nervous I could hardly do my house work. Now I am in better health than ever before, am regular as clock work, do not suffer at all, and gain strength every day." Thousands of women have been helped back to health by Cardui. Try it.

NATHAN MONTAGUE ELECTROCUTED.

Negro Confesses to Murder, Criminal Assault, Arson and Larceny.

Nathan Montague was put to death in the electric chair at the State Penitentiary yesterday (Wednesday) morning. The crimes for which the negro paid the death penalty were horrible in their details.

He murdered Mr. J. L. Sanders, his daughter, Miss Mattie, and his granddaughter, little Irene Overton, and criminally assaulted Miss Sanders at Mr. Sanders' home, near Creedmoor, in Granville County, and then set the house on fire to cover up his crimes.

On Tuesday Montague made a confession to Sheriff Wheeler, of Granville, admitting that he committed all the crimes of which he was charged. This was after the sheriff had brought to the penitentiary Lonnie Bridgers and Alvin Cook, the two negroes whom Montague first claimed committed the crimes.

The following is Montague's confession as told by Sheriff Wheeler:

"On the night of December 19th I went to Mr. Sanders' house to see about killing some hogs. While there Mr. Sanders asked me to cut some wood, and I did it. Miss Mattie Sanders toted in the wood. It was then I made up my mind about her. I helped to take in some corn to shell, and Mr. Sanders gave me supper in the kitchen. After supper I went back in the house, where Mr. Sanders was shelling corn. After a while he told me to go home. I spoke back, and we had words. I picked up a chair and knocked him down, hitting him over the head three times. Then I knocked the little girl, Irene Overton, over the head with the chair. Miss Sanders was there and ran out in the yard screaming that she would tell. I ran after her and had a struggle. She fought so hard that I used my knife on her and cut her, and hit her. She was unconscious in the yard. I dragged her body back into the house. I must have dropped my knife in the yard, for I thought I had it in my pocket. In the house I gathered up some things I wanted. Then I broke a lamp and poured the kerosene oil around. I set fire to it and got out. I don't know why I took some of her clothes with me. There was no one that had anything to do with it. I have told you the whole truth, and I feel better that I have told it. I am prepared to die."

The County of Hoke.

At a night session of the House Tuesday the bill to create Hoke County was under consideration and was passed on its final reading. The same bill had previously passed the Senate, and Hoke County will now be numbered among the other counties in the State. The new county is formed out of portions of Robeson and Cumberland Counties with Raeford as the county-seat.

FOR A STATE HIGHWAY.

Meeting Held in Raleigh Tuesday to Discuss Proposition.

Representatives from several counties met in Raleigh Tuesday to discuss plans for a highway traversing the State from east to west, a distance of about 469 miles.

Mr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, Mr. H. B. Varner and others made speeches. One of the propositions was for each county to build the portion within its county. There will be another meeting Raleigh April 20th for organization.

Letter From Hell.

I send you a letter. Please publish; and some one may find the book.

Jan. 24, 1911.

Dear Sir:—Since getting your letter I have looked in the libraries for the book, "Letter From Hell," but can not find it. I think it has been borrowed and not returned. I enclose the money you sent for postage.

Thanking you for the kind words about my father and husband. Yours respectfully.

The above letter explains itself. The book was written by one who, falling asleep, waked up in hell. Each day a letter was written to the upper world telling the horrible scenes of that day, and the next day more horrible still, and always closing with the words: "What next?" The closing words explain to you the reason for the title of these letters. Out of the woods after many days, where I saw no papers or books, I find that we, the people, are to have a $6,000 Governor, and one that, with "Josephus" to prompt him, can tell where to find the book that is wanted with the unique title as stated in the letter of my lady friend. He will see to it that when the people have elected their magistrates for two years that three from each voting precinct are appointed by the Legislature for a term of six years, as the custom is now, and that in some counties the people elect none as now, and all are appointed to do the law up at the dictation of those who have them appointed.

In my next, as the mail is at hand, I may tell other things that a $6,000 Governor should do with those who dare to think for themselves.

A SOLDIER.
