AND RALEIGH ENTERPRISE.

Raleigh, N. C., April 6, 1911.

Entered at the Post-office in Raleigh, N. C. as second class matter.

Local Matters.

Beginning Sunday the Seaboard will run its "Shoofly" train from Raleigh to Weldon, instead of stopping at Norlina as heretofore.

Governor Kitchin has granted a pardon to Elijah Childress, of Jackson County. He was convicted at the February term, 1910, of the crime of manslaughter and sentenced to four years in State's Prison.

Over $75,000 has been subscribed for a Y. M. C. A. building in Raleigh. The A. & M. College will also erect a Y. M. C. A. building on the College grounds. Mr. John Rockefeller subscribed half the amount necessary for the building.

The Biblical Recorder Company will erect a three story brick building on West Hargett Street at a cost of $15,000, and will be headquarters for the different departments of the Baptist denominations, as well as for the Recorder.

Governor Kitchin has named Mr. Leo D. Heartt, of Raleigh, as a director of the Soldiers' Home, to succeed Capt. J. J. Thomas, deceased, and Maj. John W. Graham, of Hillsboro, as a director of the North Carolina Railroad, to succeed Mr. Allen J. Ruffin, deceased.

seized with candidates for judge to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge J. S. Adams. Among the receptive candidates are Frank Carter of Asheville, Thos. A. Jones, A. S. Barnard, Merrimon and Chas. A. Webb. Of course there are others yet to be heard from.

Governor Kitchin has set Friday, May 12th, as the date for the election of Norman Lewis, the negro who murdered Chief-of-Police Stallings, of Spring Hope. The Supreme Court has heard the appeal of Lewis in the case, and which affirmed the judgment of the lower court, was certified to the Governor, and he set the day of election.

Governor Kitchin has assigned Judge H. W. Whedbee, of Greenville, to hold court in Northampton this week. The appointment is because of the death of Judge J. S. Adams, of Asheville, who was to preside. His sudden death at Warrenton on Sunday shocked the entire State. Judge Whedbee had just finished a one week term of court in Raleigh, and had gone to his home.

The cast of the city of Raleigh against Swift & Company, meat packers, for selling spoiled meat here, pending for a year, closed in the Superior Court Friday by the imposition of a $100 fine in one case and suspension of judgment in the other two. The fine was imposed in the case in which a dressed hog, in very bad condition, was delivered by the packers to a dealer in the city market. Fines aggregating $1,000 in the police court are now dwindled to $100.

Cases From Ninth District Before Supreme Court.

T. C. Johnson vs. W. B. Lassiter, appellant, from Guilford.

James McLellan vs. N. C. Railroad Company, appellant, from Durham.

Funeral of Mr. K. H. Parker.

The funeral of Mr. K. H. Parker, of Benson, who died Monday a week ago, was held Thursday. Mr. Parker's death resulted from an attack of pneumonia. He was one of the leading men in Johnston County and stood high in his community. Mr. Parker was sixty-three years old.

Congress in a Wrangle Over the Rule

Washington, April 5.—The second day of the extra session of the Sixty-second Congress opened with a wrangle over the rules to be adopted by the new house which developed into a filibuster led by Representative Mann, minority leader.

After the routine business had been transacted, Representative Henry, chairman of the new rules committee, sent to the desk a special rule providing that the new rules of the House should be the order of the day; that four hour's debate should be had upon them, and that the Republicans should have the privilege of offering a substitute for the Democratic rules.

Representative Norris, of Nebraska, leading insurgent, wanted to be allowed the privilege of offering amendments to rules as offered by the Democrats.

The debate on the rules themselves will probably occupy the entire session to-day.

Annual Convention of Baptist Young People's Union.

Statesville, N. C., March 30.—The second annual Baptist Young People's Union Convention of North Carolina, which will be in session at the First Baptist Church of Statesville, April 18th to 20th, will be a gathering of no little importance to the Baptists of the State. Among the speakers for the occasion are some of the most prominent Baptist leaders of the South, and it is expected that a large number of delegates from all sections of the State will be here to avail themselves of the opportunity to hear them. The first convention of the kind, which was held in Durham last year, was well attended, and now that the Baptist Young People of the State are better organized, the convention here will be more largely attended. The visitors will be the guests of the Young People's Union of the First Baptist Church while here.

Negro Mute Kills Brother With Stone

Monut Airy, N. C., March 29.—A mute negro named Gunther, who lives near this city, became enraged at his brother, a young negro, on Sunday afternoon, and ordered him to leave his house, the quarrelsome brother refusing to do so until the mute used force. He returned, however, and renewed his efforts to interrupt and worry his mute brother. Finally the mute becoming greatly wrought up over the bad conduct of his brother, threw a stone at him, crushing his skull. The injured man lived until this morning, when he died. The officers were promptly notified and arrested Gunther, who it seems, was trying to make his escape.

DESERTED YOUNG BRIDE.

Young Lady, of Kittrell, N. C., Lands in New York Without Funds or Friends.

New York, April 4.—Much mystery surrounds the case of a youthful and very pretty bride from Dixie Land who was last night sent to the Almshouse on Blackwell's Island pending an investigation by the State Board of Charities.

The young woman said her name was Laina Massenburt, that she was nineteen years old, a native of Kittrell, N. C., a small village of Vance County, and that she had been married in the town of her birth to the young man whose name she now bears.

The marriage, according to the girl, took place ten days ago. Then on Friday last—it may be noted that the day was not April 1st—her husband told her to go to New York, and that if his relatives did not meet her at the "depot," to inquire for them any one would direct her to their house. He himself was so busy that he could not accompany her, but he wanted her to meet his folks and he would join her very soon.

Early Sunday morning a demure figure attired in a neat traveling dress and wearing a picture hat alighted from a train in the Pennsylvania terminal and sat down on a bench to await the arrival of the Massenburts. None came. The hours went by and the shades of evening fell.

The weary watcher became very hungry and finally found courage to ask a negro porter where the Massenburts lived. The darkey showed his white teeth in a broad grin, and explained how big New York is and how little any one knew of any one else.

The distraught girl broke down. The porter invoked the assistance of Mrs. Hess, of the Travelers' Aid Society, who brought the wail to the Municipal Lodging-house at No. 428 East Twenty-fifth Street. There she told Superintendent Yorke and Mrs. Hess her story.

For some reason of her own, the girl would give but scant information about her husband. She would not say what his occupation is, but admitted that she had known him for "some time." Asked if she had a marriage certificate, she said no, but that her husband did.

Superintendent Yorke communicated with the State Board of Charities, and was ordered to send the girl to the almshouse and that she be kept there pending the investigation which the board has instituted.

The girl reached New York with only $3.75 in her purse.
