

"THE HOME CIRCLE"

WHINEYBOY AND SMILEYBOY.

Little Mr. Whineyboy came to town one day,
Riding on a Growleygrub, screaming all the way,
Howkeyberries in his hat,
Boreecheer leaves a-top o' that,
Round his neck a ring o' squeals,
Whineywhiners on his heels.
What do you think—that awful day
Everybody ran away!

Little Mr. Smileyboy came to town one day,
Riding on a Grinngergrif, laughing all the way,
Chuckleberries in his hat,
Jolly leaves a-top o' that,
Round his neck a ring o' smiles,
All of the "very latest styles."

What do you think—that happy day
Not a body ran away!

—Charles I. Junkin, in St. Nicholas.

SEVENTEEN RULES FOR WORKING THE BOY PROBLEM.

1. Go after them personally, systematically, persistently. Never give up.

2. Believe in boys. Don't call a boy a "bad boy."

3. Be interested in what they are interested in, whether it be baseball, pigeons or electricity.

4. Give them something to do. Let them know the requirements. Every member present every day, on time with his Bible, a studied lesson and a mind to learn. Organize the class.

5. Know them by name. Get acquainted with them, but don't nickname them.

6. Don't "don't" the boys. Teach positively instead of negatively. If he thinks he isn't wanted, he will go to the back-yard and take a short cut to the devil. If the house is too good for your boy it should burn.

7. Don't treat all boys alike. Study them as a farmer does his soil.

8. Allow for animal spirits. Don't cram a four quart boy into a pint cup. Direct his activity into proper channels.

9. Be tactful with the boys. It is an art worth cultivating.

10. Keep close to them. Meet them during the week; invite them to your home.

11. Give them men teachers, but the right kind.

12. Sympathize with them. They need it and miss it when it is withheld.

13. Love your boys. Dr. Sheldon says: "There is nothing in this world but what will yield if you put love enough into it." Get into their hearts and natures through the door of love.

14. Trust the boys. Judge Lindsay has proven the wisdom of this.

15. Be happy with your boys. Smile. There's no religion in a smile.

16. Confide in them, advise them, but don't scold.

17. In teaching, arouse interest and curiosity to gain attention and don't wait to apply lesson till the close of class period.—Marion Lawrence.

THINK JUSTLY.

"Whatsoever things are just." One evening a stout gentleman, jostled in a crowd at Brooklyn bridge, had a dent made in his hat. He said to a neighbor beside him, as they sat afterward in a car: "Not a day passes but I see something to convince me that men are no better than savages." "I am afraid you see only one side," said his neighbor; "there are lots of good things to be seen every day, too. I used to feel as you do—that people are very selfish; but when I began to study, I saw so many pleasant things that I got in the habit of making notes. Here is what I jotted down today." He took a note-book from his pocket and read:

"My hat blew off. I chased it, but before I reached it three other men were after it, and one of them caught it for me."

"At City Hall Park a woman in front of me dropped a glove without knowing it. Two boys made a dive for it and shouted, 'Lady, lady, you've dropped your glove!' Another act of kindness."

"As I reached Broadway, a truckman's horse fell; the drivers of three other trucks stopped, got down, and began to help raise the horse."

"When I went to luncheon, I left my umbrella in the restaurant. Before I reached the door a stranger tapped me on the shoulder and handed me the umbrella."

"When I entered the Havemeyer Building, the man just ahead of me carefully held the big door so that it might not swing back into my face."

"These little things," he said, "show something very different from savagery. Watch when we get off the car, and you'll see half a dozen men give papers to the newsboys. They know the boys can sell them again, and make a few extra pennies."

"When they reached the foot of the stairs, the stout man himself dropped behind his neighbor, and hastily slipped his paper into the hands of a ragged newsboy. Thinking justly made him act generously.—Sunday School Illustrator."

By his own verdict no guilty man was ever acquitted.—Juvenal.

coffee and tea without sugar if possible. Cream, sugar and milk, chocolate and cocoa should be dispensed with. No cheese, nuts or raisins should be eaten.

Noise and bluster bespeak the disposition and not the efficiency of soul. The great forces of spirit, like those of matter, work silently. The tornado is weak compared to the sunshine. The fume and fog of the engine are made by the worthless steam. The quiet tug of the moon bends the sea. The silent beckoning of the sun curves the sweep of the planets. It is so in life. The undemonstrative Grant was the invincible. The all-conquering Jesus was calm and serene.—Jenkin Lloyd Jones.

He is a wise man who constantly lives true to his better self in humble reliance upon Christ.

Texas Woman Near Death

Wills Point, Texas.—In a letter from Wills Point, Mrs. Victoria Stalings says: "I was afflicted with womany trouble, had a dreadful cough, and suffered awful pains. I certainly would have died, if I had not been relieved by taking Cardui." Now I am stronger and in better health than I ever was in my life. I can't say half enough for this great medicine." Do you need relief? Cardui will help you. Try it for your womany troubles. Its age is its guarantee. It cures.

$20.00 PAYS ALL EXPENSES
Personally Conducted Tour To Washington, D. C., May 29, 1911 via Norfolk Southern Railroad and Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company.

Including Attractive Side Trips to Virginia Beach, Mount Vernon and Arlington.

Prof. Frank M. Harper, Superintendent, Raleigh Schools, will take a party of students of the Senior Grades of the Raleigh Public Schools to Washington, D. C., for an Educational Tour on May 29th. Professor Harper will not restrict his party to any locality, but invites any one of good character to join.

The purpose of the tour is educational—a trip to no other place is so instructive and interesting as to the beautiful city of Washington, the seat of our National Government. The Congress will be in (extraordinary) session.

Interesting features of the program will be a reception at the White House, by President Taft, and a visit to the Capitol of the United States, where the North Carolina Senators and Representatives will welcome the party.

A side trip will be made to Mount Vernon, the home of our first President.

Still another equally interesting side trip will be to Arlington, the home of the great Southern Chieftain—General Robert Edward Lee.

The journey up and down the historic Potomac River on the palatial new steamer, "Southland," of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company, will be one delight after another. The entire trip will be full of interest.

Write Prof. Frank M. Harper, Raleigh, for illustrated booklet, giving complete details of the trip, or call upon any Agent of the Norfolk Southern Railroad.
