

The Caucasian

AND RALEIGH ENTERPRISE.

Raleigh, N. C., June 15, 1911.

Entered at the Post-office in Raleigh, N. C. as second class mail matter.

Local Matters.

A Postal Savings Bank will be opened in the post-office at Raleigh some time in July.

The Central Methodist Sunday-school of Raleigh, will picnic at Fuquay Springs on Tuesday, June 20.

Mr. John Davis, of Raleigh, died Monday at the home of his brother, Mr. T. W. Davis, on North Salisbury street.

Jim Harris, a colored man about 65 years of age, dropped dead while walking on Cabarrus Street, this city, Thursday.

Joe Andrew, of Guilford County, who had served half of a year's sentence for larceny, was pardoned Saturday by Governor Kitchin.

Dr. J. L. McCullers, County Physician, has resigned. He stated that the duties that have been attached to the office were too much for him.

Caroline Alston, a colored woman of Raleigh, said to be 195 years old, died a few days ago. She has a daughter, Frances Perry, said to be over 75 years old.

Mrs. Martha Harris, widow of the late Dr. Hal Harris of this county, died suddenly a few days ago in Louisiana at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. M. Person.

Governor Kitchin offers a reward of $400 for the capture of the murderers of Mrs. Joel Hill, at Jamestown, Guilford County. This makes a total reward of $1,000 that has been offered for the capture of the murderers.

Mr. W. C. Norris, of Raleigh, suffered a stroke of paralysis Friday morning. He was dressing when the stroke came. It affected his right arm and one side of his face. Mr. Norris is a member of the firm of M. T. Norris & Brother of this city.

Mr. Percy Fleming, of Raleigh, had a narrow escape from death while doing some plumbing work back of Dughli's Ice Cream parlor. By mistake he took hold of a live wire and was unconscious when found. He was soon resuscitated. His hand was badly burned from the wire.

A force of twenty-five convicts from the State Farm in Halifax County have been sent to the South Atlantic Trans-Continental Railway camps near Waterville, in Haywood County. This force will aid in the construction of a railroad from Knoxville through Asheville to Rutherfordton. This road will be under State control.

Charles Stines, of Madison County, who was convicted February, 1905, of rape and sentenced to death, sentence having later been commuted to life imprisonment, was conditionally pardoned last week by Governor Kitchin. The principal witness against the defendant was a woman of bad character and afterwards told that she swore falsely. The solicitor recommended pardon.

Mr. Mills General Manager of Elkin and Alleghany Railroad.

Mr. John A. Mills, of Raleigh, president of the Raleigh and Southport Railroad, has been elected general manager of the Elkin and Alleghany Railroad also. Mr. Mills has taken an important part in financing the enterprise.

Mr. Holman Bernard Now at Fairport, Iowa.

Mr. Holman Bernard left Raleigh Monday, to report to-day at Fairport, Iowa, where he has accepted a position as special assistant in the Government Fisk Laboratory. Mr. Bernard has just completed his fourth year in medicine, but will spend another year at his studies before entering the duties of his chosen profession.

Mr. Coen Rowland Suffers Stroke of Paralysis.

Mr. Coen Rowland, who lives near Willow Springs, Wake County, suffered a stroke of paralysis Friday. Mr. Rowland was operated on at Rex Hospital last spring for an abscess in the stomach. The wounds never healed. The paralysis affected Mr. Rowland from the wounds downward over the rest of the body. Mr. Rowland is a bright young man about seventeen years old, and is the son of Mr. Bennett Rowland.

Montague Held Under $2,000 Bond for Murder of Robertson.

H. W. Montague, the young white man charged with the murder of J. B. Robertson, near Eagle Rock, Wake County, on Sunday night, June 3rd, was given a preliminary hearing before a justice of the peace in Raleigh Thursday afternoon and night and was bound over to the next term of court under a bond in the sum of $2,000, which was given. Montague plead self-defense and claimed that he did not shoot until after Robertson fired on him. Montague formerly lived in Granville County and several of his relatives from that county were here to attend the preliminary hearing.

Graham Oakley Arrested in South Carolina.

Graham Oakley is under arrest at Cresterfield, S. C., on the charge of bigamy. When the South Carolina authorities are satisfied with him the Wake County authorities will ask for his presence again in Wake, where he is wanted to complete a five years' sentence for house-breaking.

Graham Oakley and his brother, Ira Oakley, also an escaped convict, were disturbing factors in the community of Fuquay Springs.

Graham Oakley was arrested in Barton's Creek township, Wake County, four years ago, on the charge of breaking into the house of Mr. Ora Cash, a white man. Oakley was subsequently tried, convicted and sentenced to five years on the roads, but he escaped within a year.

Several Towns Bidding for the School for the Feeble-Minded.

At a meeting of the trustees of the School for Feeble Minded in Raleigh a few days ago a number of cities and towns made offers of money and lands for a site for the school. The selection was defeated for about two weeks and competition was left open until June 21st, up to which time any of the towns or cities may increase their bids and new ones come forward. The final bids must be in by June 21st. The trustees will meet June 22nd at Wilson and examine the site offered by that town and then visit the other proposed sites before a proposition is finally accepted.

Raleigh, Lillington, Kinston, Washington, Lenoir and Wilson have put in bids for the school. The last Legislature passed an act providing for the establishment of such a school in the State.

Meeting of Commissioners.

On Friday the Board of County Commissioners of Wake passed a resolution setting July 4th as Central Highway Day in Wake County. The resolution provided that during the week following all citizens along the proposed highway through Wake County be urged to go to work and construct this county's portion of the highway, or if they can not give their time, to donate an equivalent amount of money. The chairman of the Board is to appoint the supervisors of the work.

A committee to revise the jury list was also appointed Friday. The commissioners will hold another meeting on June 26th.

APEX HAS DISASTROUS FIRE.

Most of Business Section Wiped Out by the Conagration Early Monday Morning—One Fatal Injury.

Apex, Wake County, was visited by a fifty thousand dollar fire early Monday morning when the main business section of the town was wiped out. The fire was also the cause of one fatal injury. Graham Herring, formerly Apex, who was serving as relief operator at New Hill, attempted to board a passing through freight, so as to get to Apex and help fire, but when he tried to swing on he lost his hold and fell under the train. One leg was cut off and his skull fractured. He was brought to Raleigh and placed in the hospital, but there are no hopes for his recovery.

The fire was discovered about one o'clock Monday morning in a frame building owned by the Apex Land Company and was occupied by J. W. Jenks' meat market. The owners claimed there had been no fire in the place for the previous twelve hours. The fire spread rapidly to buildings occupied by the Merchants and Farmers Bank, H. C. Oliver & Co., wholesale merchants; Harwood Company, the Baucom drug-store, the store of R. J. Bowling, and others, and the residence of S. V. Hudson, postmaster.

All the buildings were totally destroyed, while the fire injured several others.

Loss in Buildings and Stock.

Building of Apex Land and Improvement Company, $2,500; $750 insurance.

B. H. Pate's building, $1,000; no insurance.

Apex Bottling Works, $1,000; no insurance.

W. H. Harward's general store, $15,000; $7,000 insurance.

R. J. Bolling's store, $1,500; $300 insurance.

A. V. Baucom's drug-store, $3,000; $5,400 insurance.

Merchants and Farmers Bank, $3,000 insurance; $1,400 insurance.

H. C. Olive Company's store, $7,500; $4,600 insurance.

S. V. Hudson's residence, $1,200; $800 insurance.

The stock of Pate & Company was damaged to the extent of $1,750, while that of the Watkins Seymour Hardware Company was damaged to the extent of $500. Mr. S. T. Bennett's stock was damaged about $1,000, the loss being covered by insurance.

The two-story brick building of Sellars & Mason was damaged to the extent of $1,000.

The library of Attorney Percy J. Olive was destroyed, the loss amounting to $1,500, there being about $750 insurance. His automobile was also burned.

The fixtures in the office of Drs. R. W. Johnson and J. C. Mann, valued at several hundred dollars were destroyed, the amount being partially covered by insurance.

The Seaboard Air Line water tank was also burned.

For a time the whole town was threatened, but the fire was gotten under control about 4 o'clock.

Three persons were slightly injured by falling buckets and glass, these being Mr. Harvey McKee, Mr. Jesse Norris and Rev. J. R. Edwards.

MORE MILLS TO CLOSE DOWN.

Outlook Not Encouraging to Operatives and Owners of Cotton Mills.

The prospects are that many of the cotton mills in this and other States will close down during the summer months. A reporter of the Greensboro News tells of the view taken by the mill owners in that town:

"According to local people who are interested in cotton mills and who are pretty well informed as the situation existing in the cotton mill circles, the prospects for the remaining months of the summer are not at all flattering, and the opinion has been advanced by some that a number of mills throughout the State, as well as in other States, may be forced to close down for a few weeks in order to cope with the condition.

"There is known to be a general curtailment either going on now or prepared for and this process is believed by some will be extensive between now and the time of getting to the new cotton crop. The curtailment, as is anticipated in this and other Southern sections, is not a condition found here alone, but is one that exists in Northern as well as Southern mills."

FIRST BALE OF COTTON AT HOUSTON.

Sold for Over One Thousand Dollars Eleven Days Earlier than Former Record.

Houston, Texas, June 12.—Establishing a new crop record by eleven days for first appearance of the new cotton crop, a bale of Cameron County staple was received on the Houston cotton exchange to-day.

It grew on the farm of Ernest Matz and will be sold to the highest bidder. Part of the bale's journey from Cameron County was made by a special train because it was reported other "first bales" were en route for the exchange.

The cotton was sold at $2.05.84 per pound, the total weight being 493 pounds and the price $1,015. This was the highest price ever paid on the Houston exchange for a bale of cotton. It was classed as strict middling.

The 1910 Crop Was the Most Valuable.

Washington, June 12.—The cotton crop of 1910 was announced to-day to be the most valuable ever produced in the United States. Estimated in the Census Bureau's annual bulletin, the crop last year was valued at $963,190,000 compared with $812,090,000 for 1909.

Terrible Picture of Suffering

Clinton, Ky.—Mrs. M. C. McElroy, in a letter from Clinton, writes: "For six years I was a sufferer from female troubles. I could not eat, and could not stand on my feet, without suffering great pain. I had lost hope. After using Cardui a week, I began to improve. Now I feel better than in six years." Fifty years of success in actual practice, is positive proof, furnished by those who have tried it, that Cardui can always be relied on for relieving female weakness and disease. Try Cardui, to-day, now!

FOR SALE!

A Valuable Tract of Land.

Pursuant to the order of the Superior Court of Wake County in the case of Carrie L. Brantley against Reta G. Brantley and others, I will offer for sale at the court-house door in Raleigh, on Tuesday, the 11th day of July, 1911, the following piece or parcel of land adjoining the Gray Massey homestead, W. R. Brantley and others, bounded as follows:

Beginning at a stake on the Raleigh and Tarboro road near W. R. Brantley's house, thence nearly south to the fish-pond branch, thence down said branch to the little creek, thence up said creek to the said Massey's line to the road, thence down the road to the beginning. Containing fifty acres more or less.

Who Was There That You Knew?

In the shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or death or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there father or grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of him in that long ago day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was taken? Perhaps we can show you one; and in any case, we can tell you a story, stranger than any detective fiction, of 3,500 priceless photographs that were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs of the Civil War

THEY were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States of that day; they were bought by the United States Government for $30,000; they were buried in the War Department for 50 years—they are buried there still. But a duplicate set was kept by the photographer—who died poor and broken down; that duplicate set was knocked from pillar to post for nearly 50 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector. J. Pierpont Morgan tried to secure the collection—Ex-President Garfield and General Benjamin F. Butler said it was worth $150,000—yet with the help of the Review or Reviews, the entire collection has been gathered into 10 great volumes and is placed within your reach at less than the value of one of the photographs. It is the one accurate, impartial history of the Civil War—for the camera cannot lie. It tells the story of the War you never heard before. Taken under protection of the Secret Service, these photographs bring to light thousands of little-known phases of the war; they penetrate to strange places and record strange things.
