STORM AT CAPITAL.

Sixty Mile an Hour Wind Strikes Washington—President Caught in Rain.

Washington, D. C., June 27.—A deluge of rain and hail, accompanied by thunder and lightning and a wind that attained a velocity of sixty miles an hour to-day, forced an adjournment of the Senate, caught President Taft in the open on the Chevy Chase Golf Links, caused the destruction of a building at the Soldiers' Home and played havoc with shade trees. The storm lasted only twenty minutes and was the climax of a day of intense heat, the thermometer on the street level registering 102 degrees.

While the storm was at its height, lightning struck one of the big dairy stables at the Soldiers' Home and within a few minutes the structure, with its contents, was in ashes. The loss is $50,000.

Eighty cows were driven from the burning building, as were seventy others in an adjoining stable, which for a time was imperiled.

President Taft had with him on the Chevy Chase Golf Links, General Clarence Edwards and Major A. W. Butt when the storm broke. Because of the suddenness of the downpour the three were drenched. Led by the President, they fled to the nearest shelter, the caddy house where they remained until the downpour ceased and the resumed their game over a soggy course.

At the Capitol, the beating of the hail and rain on the glass roof of the Senate Chamber caused such a din that Senator Borah, who was speaking, could not make himself heard and the Senate was obliged to adjourn.

Parks and streets throughout the city were littered with prostrate trees and stripped branches. A century-old elm in the White House grounds was up-rooted.

Death of A. S. Dockery.

Mr. A. S. Dockery, of Rockingham, N. C., a member of the bar at that place and former legislator, died Tuesday afternoon at his home after a long illness with typhoid fever. He was born in October, 1876, and was one of the most popular young men in his section. He was a son of Mr. Henry C.

Dockery, of Rockingham, N. C., who survives him, also his widow and their little child; his stepmother Mrs. H. C. Dockery; a brother, Mr. John C. Dockery, of Rockingham; a sister, Mrs. Grimes Haywood, of Raleigh; two half-brothers, William and Henry Dockery, and two half-sisters, Misses Sara, Lily and Sallie Dockery, of Rockingham. He was a cousin of Mr. Claudius Dockery, of Raleigh, United States Marshall, who with Mrs. Dockery his gone to Rockingham. All the other members of the family were with him at his death.

FOUR DEAD IN WRECK.

Three Italians and One Russian Killed on Tram Road Near Wilmington.

Wilmington, N. C., June 28.—As the result of an accident this morning on the tram road of the Waccamaw Lumber Company at Makatoka, about eighteen miles from the company's plant at Bolton, four foreign employes of the company were killed and one man seriously injured.

Three of the dead men are Italians and the other is a Russian. The matter has been reported to the coroner of Brunswick County and an investigation will be held.

The Thirty-Three Living Confederate Generals.

(From the Augusta Chronicle.)

Colonel Charles Edgeworth Jones, perhaps one of the best-posted men in the South on Confederate history and whose historical works on Georgia have been widely read and quoted, contributes to the Augusta Chronicle's stories and had laid down the list of 474 Confederate officers of all grades. Of these, but thirty-three are still living. Mr. Jones says so far as his knowledge goes the lists are absolutely correct.

The survivors are divided up as follows:

- One lieutenant-general; 5 major-generals; 27 brigadier-generals.
Lieut.-Gen. Simon B. Buckner, Rio, Hart County, Kentucky.
Major-Gen. L. L. Lomax, Gettysburg, Penn.

Brig.-Gen. Henry H. Walker, New York City.
Brig.-Gen. Marcus J. Wright, Washington, D. C.

Will Hear From the People in 1912. Clinton News-Dispatch.] If the Republicans were in power and were running the State government exactly like the Democrats are now running it, Josephus would foam at the mouth, tear his hair, stand on his head, and swear that the whole State was going head-long to the devil. And all of his little me-too's would take up the cry like so many frogs in a pond, and sing the songs of crime and high taxes, but as it is, Democrats that are responsible for crime that they refuse to punish and for the enormous taxes that they are piling up on the people you never hear one of them croak. But the chances are, they will hear from the people in 1912. Now, see if they don't.

Yonug Boy Drowned Himself Rather Than Take Whipping.

Clarkton Journal.] Quite a sad incident occurred seven miles south of here last Monday. Mr. Alford's eleven-year-old son had been to the store and bought ten cents worth of sugar without being authorized to do so. At noon Mr. Alford told his son he was going to whip him for it. The son left the table and did not return. After a few minutes they parents went to look for him. They called him but he did not answer. After searching the barns and not finding him, Mrs. Alford went over and looked into the well. There she saw the body floating who had rather drown himself than take a whipping.

Bearded Woman.

The bearded woman is not a fiction. A bearded woman was taken by the Russians at the battle of Poltava and presented to the Czar. Her beard measured over a yard. The great Margaret, Governess of the Netherlands, had a very long, stiff beard. Mlle. Boes de Chene, born at Geneva in 1834, was exhibited in London in 1853, in her eighteenth year. She had a profuse head of black beard. There are other instances of bearded women about the authenticity of which there is no room for doubt.—Exchange.

The Second "Authentic" Snake Story

Mooreville Enterprise.] Mr. W. B. Goodman, of Amity, had quite a thrilling experience in his bedroom several morning ago,

Caught in the Rain

Douglasville, Texas.—"Five years ago I was caught in the rain at the wrong time," writes Edna Rutherford, of Douglasville, "and from that time, was taken with dumb chills and fevers, and suffered more than I can tell. I tried everything that I thought would help, and had four doctors, but got no relief. I took Cardul, the woman's tonic. Now, I feel better than in many months. Cardul does one thing, and does it well. That's the secret of its fifty years of success. Try Cardul.

FATAL ACCIDENT NEAR SALISBURY.

Ralph and Samuel R. Johnson Killed in Wreck on Southern White Returning From a Fishing Trip.

A special from Salisbury to Sunday's Charlotte Observer says: As a result of a railroad accident at Majorica, 6 miles west of Salisbury, about 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, Ralph, the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Johnston is dead and Samuel R. Johnson, a son of Mr. Johnston, is in a critical condition at the Whitehead-Stokes sanatorium. Samuel and his younger half-brother had been on a fishing trip at Second Creek and, as crowds of others had done before, caught an incoming freight train to Salisbury. The train had hardly gotten under way before a coal car was derailed, wrecking the train, piling a number of cars on top of each other, tearing up the track for some distance and catching the two beneath the wreckage. When extricated it was found that Ralph's legs were both cut off and Samuel had a broken and smashed arm, was injured otherwise and was in a critical condition. An east-bound passenger train was running close behind and a made-up train was rushed from Salisbury. The passengers were transferred and the suffering man and boy rushed to Salisbury and taken to the sanatorium, where Ralph died shortly after. Samuel was taken to the operating room and at last accounts was in a serious condition.

Rural Carriers May Be Allowed to Toot Their Own Horn.

"To add to the picturesqueness of country life, rural mail carriers some day may announce their arrival by the blowing of bugles. This suggestion has been made to the Postoffice Department by a citizen of New Hampshire, who adds in his letter that the bugle also would serve a useful purpose in giving country dwellers who might wish to purchase stamps from the carrier knowledge of his proximity."

Reading the above press dispatch caused the local editor of the Union Republican to grow reminiscent and with pencil and pad in hand he "penned" the following bit of ancient history: "History repeats itself." In our boyhood days when the old stage coaches from High Point and other points rolled into Salem, their coming was heralded with the then familiar notes of the stage horn. These coaches carried both mail and passengers. It is the revival of the old custom which was much appreciated by those who gathered in the olden time to greet the incoming coaches at the old Salem Tavern, as many at present gather at the union passenger station upon the arrival of trains. To those who survive, the horns of the R. F. D. carriers will awaken pleasant memories."

Lightning Kills Few.

In 1906 lightning kills only 169 people in this whole country. One's chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chance of death from liver, kidney or stomach trouble is vastly greater, but not if Electric Bitters be used, as Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from virulent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was then completely cured by Electric Bitters. They're the best stomach, liver, nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. Only 50c. at all Druggists.

A Large Timber Deal.

Statesville Landmark.] One of the largest real estate deals ever consummated in this part of the country took place a few days ago, when Mr. W. J. Grandin, of Tidiot, Pa., bought the holdings of the Yadkin Lumber Company, in Caldwell, Watauga and Wilkes counties, the total acreage being estimated, it is said, at nearly 60,000 acres, and embracing some of the finest timbered lands to be found in Western North Carolina and excellent water power sites. The area of this deal extends from the waters of John's River, Caldwell County, to Stony Fork, Wilkes County, and across the Blue Ridge Mountains into Watauga County.

Dr. Stiles at Wilmington.

Dr. John A. Ferrell, Secretary of the North Carolina branch of the hookworm extermination, stated today that Dr. C. W. Stiles, the discoverer of the hookworm, has gone to Wilmington to open up the marine hospital, where he will conduct some special research work on the hookworm disease. Dr. Stiles intends to have at least ten patients under his treatment daily.

Why He Wore His Hat in Church. Chicago Tribune.] To illustrate the "officiousness" of some churches Rev. John Timmohy Stone, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, speaking at the First Presbyterian Church last night, told a story of a man who sat through the service one Sunday morning wearing his hat.

When requested to do so by an usher he removed his hat smilingly. The usher afterward asked him if he had worn the hat purposely of if it was merely absent-minded negligence.

"No," said to man. "I have been attending this church regularly for nearly two years and so one has ever spoken to me in all that time. I just thought I would leave my hat on my head this morning to see if it would serve as an introduction to some one. I am glad to meet you."

when he heard an unusual racket in a closet near his bed. He entered the closet to find the head of a big blacksnake shooting out over the top of a bag of peanuts. He killed the monster, and after laying the reptile out in the yard, returned, and lifting a quilt, discovered, to his horror, two others. These were soon despatched. The snakes were supposed to be after mice and the mice were supposed to be after the peanuts, while Mr. Goodman was after the snakes. He is a son of our townsman, Mr. J. A. B. Goodman, and the story is authentic.
