Those to be Used in the Public Schools for Next Five Years

Many Changes Made From the Books Now in Use—New Geographies, Histories and Arithmetics—The prices at which the books are to be sold have not been made public.

The list of books to be used in the public schools of North Carolina for the next five years have at last been adopted.

The books announced as adopted for five years from September first of the year are:

Spelling: Reed's Primary Speller and Reed's Word Lessons, by Chas. E. Merrill & Co., and "A Spelling Book" by Foust & Griffin (re-adopted); Alfred Williams & Co., Raleigh.

Reading: Webster's Dictionaries, by American Book Co. (re-adopted); The Howell Primer, by Howell & Co.; The Halliburton Primer, by D. C. Heath & Co.; The Howell First Reader, by Howell & Co.; Graduated Classics, 1, 2, and 3 (re-adopted); B. F. Johnson Company, Richmond; The Baker-Carpenter Language Readers 1 and 2, by McMillan Company.

Writing: The Old North State Copy Book, by North State Publishing Company (re-adopted); The Berry Writing Books, B. D. Berry & Co., Chicago. (Only the Medial System of writing was adopted.)

Drawing: Progressive Lessons in Art Education, The Prang Educational Company.

Arithmetic: Milnes.

Geographies: Dodge's Primary Geography and Dodge's Comparative Geography, Rand, McNally & Co.

Language and Grammar: Hyde's Lessons in English, Book 1, D. C. Heath & Co. (re-adopted); Grammar and Composition, Book 2, by Robinson & Row, published by Row, Peterson Company; Modern Grammar by Bahler and published by Newson & Co. (re-adopted for use in grades above the seventh grade in the public schools).

History of North Carolina: Hill's Young People's History of North Carolina, D. H. Hill, publisher (re-adopted). Connor's Makers of North Carolina History, recommended for supplementary work in primary grades. Thompson Publishing Company of Raleigh.

History of the United States: No adoption. Referred to a committee for report and recommendation on or before January 1, 1912. Histories now on list to be used until that time.

Physiology and Hygiene: Ritchie-Caldwell Primer of Hygiene, Ritchie's Primer of Sanitation, World Book Company with Thompson Publishing Company of Raleigh, as State agents. Culler's Physiology, Book 3, for use in grades above the seventh grade. Lippincott & Company. (Re-adopted).

Civil Government: Peele's Civil Government of North Carolina and the United States. B. F. Johnson Publishing Company (re-adopted).

Agriculture: Agriculture for Beginners, by Barkett, Stevens and Hill, Ginn & Co., Publishers (re-adopted).

Supplementary List Recommended. The Story of Cotton, by E. C. Brooks; Rand, McNally & Co. Jackson & Davis' Industrial History of the Negro Race (for negro schools); Negro Educational Association, Richmond, Va.

The Heart of Oak Books, 1 to 7, by C. E. Norton; D. C. Heath & Co. Southern Prose and Poetry, by Mims and Payne; Charles Scribner's Sons.

With Pen and Pencil (language lessons for primary schools), by Sarah Louise Arnold; Ginn & Co. Language Through Nature, Literature and Art, by Perdue & Griswold; Rand-McNally Co.

There is still talk of scandal in connection with the contest which had waged and waxed warm since the 8th of June. The committee was not unanimous, and it is predicted that some leaks will follow that will make interesting reading.

Socialist Party Will Wage Active Campaign in West Virginia. Parkersburg, W. Va., Aug. 15.—The first formal action by any political party in West Virginia toward opening the State campaign of 1912 was taken here to-day by the State Executive Committee of the Socialist party, which met and decided to put a full State ticket in the field and to arrange to stump every county in the State. It was also decided to start two weekly papers in Parkersburg and Huntington in the interest of the party campaign. The Socialists claim to have a fighting chance in about five counties in the State to elect county tickets, and will centralize their forces in those counties.

Death of Mrs. W. H. Kitchin. Scotland Neck, N. C., Aug. 15.—Mrs. Maria Arrington Kitchin, widow of the late Captain W. H. Kitchin, and mother of Governor W. W. Kitchin, died at her country home, Gallberry, this morning at about 4 o'clock after a lingering illness for several months.

Mrs. Kitchin was about sixty-five years of age, had lived in this community all her life, and was well known all over North Carolina.

WOMAN "TIGER" IS ARRESTED.

She Was Registered at a Hotel in Wilmington Under Assumed Name—Mrs. Kelly is a Woman of Considerable Means.

Mrs. Helen A. Kelly, a wealthy woman of Winnabow, Brunswick County, was arrested in her apartments at a hotel in Wilmington a few days ago on the charge of selling whiskey. A special dispatch from Wilmington to the News and Observer gives the following account of the arrest:

"Charged in a United States warrant with selling whiskey without license, Mrs. Helen A. Kelly, of Winnabow, Brunswick County, was arrested at a local hotel late yesterday afternoon by United States Deputy Marshal C. O. Knox. She was registered at the hotel under an assumed name, and it is stated that she represented herself to be under the care of a physician preparatory to an operation and did not leave her room from the time of her arrival until her arrest.

"The warrant for her arrest was issued by United States Commissioner George Harris, of this city, and she waived preliminary examination, giving $250 justified bond for her appearance at the next term of the United States District Court, which will be held here the first week in November. J. W. Brooks, a prominent wholesaler, is surety on her bond. Mrs. Kelly made application for a revenue license covering a period for the last eighteen months, and judging from her action in waiving examination before the Commissioner it is likely that she will submit to the charge and throw herself on the mercy of the court.

"It is understood that Mrs. Kelly was aware that Revenue officers were looking for her at her home in Winnabow, which is about fifteen miles from this city, and she said that a friend advised her to go to a local hotel, register under an assumed name and feign illness.

"Mrs. Kelly's premises were searched Monday by Deputy Marshal Knox and Revenue Collector James Holland, the latter of Dunn, and they found a full barrel of rye whiskey and a large number of empty bottles and corks. On their information the warrant was issued. Mrs. Kelly is a widow and is understood to be in splendid financial circumstances."

LEAVING THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

A Confederate Soldier, a Life-Long Democrat, Renounces the Party of False Promises—Others in His Community Will Do Likewise—Orders Ten Copies of Butler's Raleigh Speech and Wishes Copies Mailed to His Democratic Friends.

Editor of The Caucasian.

Dear Sir:—I enclose order for ten copies of Butler's Raleigh speech, and I would like to have some of them mailed direct to some of my Democratic friends.

I think if you people will set up a good clean ticket, and work for the white vote, you will get a good many more votes than you got in the last election. There are a good many Democrats down here who say they will not vote that ticket again unless there is a change, and so far as I am concerned, if God is so kind as to spare me to vote again, I am sure that I will not vote it, for the last campaign and the last Legislature was enough for me. I have stuck to the party long enough for nothing but the name. I have voted for it for forty-five years, and was fooled for about thirty years, but have not been fooled for the last fifteen; have been clinging to the party for the name-sake, hoping that it would reform, but I see no chance for reform within the party, and I am getting tired of voting just to be taxed to keep pets and henchmen in office to live higher than I do on my few, hard-earned dollars. So you set up the very best ticket you can, men who will economize, and if I live I will be with you, if no one else is.

Yours truly,

[The above letter is from a Confederate soldier who has been cured of the habit of voting the Democratic ticket. The lies the Democratic politicians told on Butler in the last campaign caused him to become disgusted with the party of false promises. He knew the charges were false, and also knew that Butler was a friend of the Confederate soldier.—Associate Editor The Caucasian.]

Was First at the Resurrection.

The Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer sends that paper the following paring shot from one of the book agents who was on the job at Raleigh for two months trying to get the Commission to select his books:

"One irate bookman, a Virginian, who feels that the Text-Book Commission has not done the right thing in its work of adoption on a number of subjects, declares that the Commission has not only found that North Carolina was—

"First at Bethel, Farthest to the Front at Gettysburg, and Chickamauga, and Last at Appomattox," but that some North Carolina woman was also first at the resurrection, and the commissioners are seeking out some historian who will accord to this State this latest claim."

J. B. BISSETT MURDERED

Was Killed Near Eastern Limits of City Saturday Night

Bissett Was in Company With a Married Woman of Raleigh, Who Declared Her Husband Was Home Drunk—L. J. Norris Charged With the Crime.

The lifeless body of J. B. Bissett, dressed only in under-clothing, was found about midnight Saturday, beyond the Soldiers' Home, east of Raleigh, the fatal wound being by the left collar-bone, the bullet having ranged down toward the heart and severed a vital artery. Nearby were the man's top clothes and the garments of a woman.

Mrs. William R. Yearby was arrested Sunday morning as the woman in the case and confesses that she and Bissett and L. J. Norris, a pressman formerly of Richmond, Va., were driving in a hack; that having no companion for Norris, he left them and she and Bissett drove to the woods one and a half miles east of the city where Bissett's body was found. She says some man she could not recognize rushed upon them and fired at Bissett while he was on his knees begging for mercy. She ran to the hack and drove home. She says she had told Bissett and Norris that her husband, who is a salesman in the Globe Clothing Store here, was at home drunk.

The woman, her husband, and L. J. Norris, and the negro hackman, Haywood Penny, are being held awaiting developments. Yearby, the husband of the woman, insists that he knows nothing of the shooting.

Mrs. Yearby was formerly Miss Ada Pool and married Earl Austin a number of years ago, when she was fifteen years old, and they had two children before they separated. Austin died over a year ago and five months ago she married Yearby. She insists that the man who did the shooting was not her husband. She describes him as a stout man with a black coat or black shirt.

Bissett, the murdered man, was a native of Nash County, and for a long while ran a near-beer place here until its reputation became so bad that the alderman refused to renew him license. For several months he has been running an eating house, Chief-of-Police Stell says, too, that Mrs. Yearby has been suspected for some time of being a bad woman.

VOTERS SHOULD THINK FOR THEMSELVES.

Democratic Politicians Trying to Keep Them in Ignorance of Their Party Record—The Caucasian Doing a Good Work.

Editor The Caucasian:—I am now getting old and cannot do much even for a good cause as your paper, The Caucasian, is representing and faithfully fighting for, but I will do what I can, believing I am helping to free the people of the State from a galling yoke the Democratic politicians have put upon their necks. Is it not strange, indeed, that our people of North Carolina refuse to take hold of the polls, so to speak, of their political salvation when offered to them, while they ought to see and know that they are sinking each day and years by the heavy burdens laid upon them by the Democratic party. It is to be hoped, though, that the scales or prejudice which has so long blinded them will begin to fall from their eyes by reason of the hard knocks and the cruel stabs they have recently received from the Democratic politicians of this State. You are doing a splendid work through The Caucasian, Mr. Editor, and it only remains for the people to read it, to study it, and to accept the great truths it shows them in order to gain their political salvation. Now will they do that? Let us hope so. Let us hope that the people of North Carolina will not always stay fooled by the siren songs of the bosses of the Democratic party who try to keep them ignorant in order that they can enjoy the offices of the State. They do not want the people to read Republican papers, nor hear Republican speeches, fearing they will get on to their tricks and refuse to support them. I appeal to you, North Carolinians, as intelligent men: Is not this sufficient evidence to convince you that something is very wrong and is wanted to be kept hid from you by them? They do not want you to prove all and hold fast to that which is good, which is every man's duty to do, but they want you to hear only their side and know nothing except what they declare to you on the stump and in their partisan papers; notwithstanding they belie their words as you can plainly see by burdens heaped on you by their acts, namely, increasing the value of your taxable property all out of reason, to get your hard-earned dollars for their own pockets, refusing to let the people elect their justice of the peace and their County Boards of Education and supporting book trusts, and all other trusts that's operating in the State, to the detriment of the taxpayers and the people at large, and against the spirit and patriotism of our Republican form of government. Now will you continue to stand for such? Will you continue to remain ignorant of these facts by refusing to hear evidence on the other side and taking only the evidence that the Democratic bosses are pleased to give you? Let me now, an old man near seventy years of age, admonish you to use the same common sense in studying politics and in casting your vote as you do in other matters of life; and in so doing, you will not likely make many mistakes, and besides, you will not stick to a political party any longer than it sticks to honest principles?

"The wise changes, but the fool never," is good Bible teaching.

Disappointed at Selection of Some of the Text-Books.

Statesville Landmark.]

The Landmark is pained to note that in the list of books selected for use in the public schools, that noble book, Webster's Blue-back Speller, is conspicuous by its absence. This means that another generation of North Carolina children will be deficient in spelling.

TORTURED FOR FIFTEEN YEARS

by a cure-defying stomach trouble that baffled doctors, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said: "He can't live much longer." "Whatever I late distressed me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. Its surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents at all druggists.

Man Wanted at Sanford, N. C. Captured in Mississippi.

Laurel Miss., Aug. 14.—Deputy Sheriff Boutwell to-day arrested L. C. Freeman, alias L. H. Hall, a white man who recently escaped from jail at Sanford, N. C., where he is charged with having committed burglary and highway robbery. He is being held in the local jail pending the arrival of an officer from North Carolina.

STOPPED THOSE PAINS.

Timberville, Miss.—Miss Gertrude Gatlin, of Timberville, writes: "I did not know anything could stop those womanly pains, from which I suffered for two years, until I tried Cardul. I had been troubled with various female ailments, but they were cured in a little while, thanks to Cardul." Cardul is especially adapted for use by ailing women. It relieves headache, backache, dragging feelings, irregularity, nervousness, misery, and womanly weakness. It is safe. It is reliable. It does the work. Will you try it? Please do.

PUBLICATION OF SUMMONS.

In the Superior Court—April Term, 1911.

North Carolina—Wake County. Ben M. Mooneyham vs. Minnie G. Mooneyham.

To Minnie G. Mooneyham: This is to notify you that your husband, Ben M. Mooneyham, has brought suit against you to the April Term, 1911, of Wake Superior Court, for divorce from the bonds of matrimony, and that the summons issued for you has been returned by the sheriff with this endorsement thereon: "After exercising due diligence, the defendant, Minnie G. Mooneyham, is not to be found in this county." You are, therefore, further notified to appear at the July Term, 1911, of Wake Superior Court, which convenes on the 10th of that month, and answer, demur or plead to the complaint which will be filed in this court during the first three days of that term, otherwise the plaintiff will demand to be allowed to prove the allegations of his complaint and have judgment accordingly.

MILLARD MIAL, Clerk Wake Superior Court.

J. C. L. HARRIS, Attorney for the Plaintiff.

NOTICE TO CAMPBELL M. LOUSTALL.

North Carolina—Wake County. In the Superior Court—July Term, 1911.

Tena M. Loustall vs. Campbell M. Loustall.

To Campbell M. Loustall: You are notified that your wife, Tena M. Loustall, heretofore brought suit against you for divorce from the bonds of matrimony, to the April term, 1911, of Wake Superior Court, the summons having been issued on the 5th day of that month and returned that day by the sheriff of Wake County, with this endorsement thereon: "After diligent search, Campbell M. Loustall is not to be found in Wake County." You are further notified that the complaint and a copy thereof for you, was deposited in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court of Wake County, on the 6th day of June, 1911, and you will appear at the September term, 1911, of Wake Superior Court, which convenes on the 25th day of that month, and answer, demur or plead to the said complaint, otherwise the plaintiff will demand to be allowed to prove the allegations of her complaint and have judgment accordingly. MILLARD MIAL, Clerk Wake Superior Court.

This July 15, 1911. J. C. L. HARRIS, Attorney of the Plaintiff.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

Having qualified as executor of the last will and testament of Anna Williams, deceased, late of Wake County, North Carolina, this is to notify all persons having claims against the estate of said deceased to present them to the undersigned, duly verified on or before the 5th day of August, 1912, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment. This 5th day of August, 1911. JOHN WILLIAMS, Executor.
