

MAKE STRONG FIGHT IN VERMONT.

Both Colonel Roosevelt and Governor Johnson Will Make a Tour of That State—Four Women on National Committee.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 8.—Woman suffrage was insured voting strength on the Progressive party National Committee to-day when four women were officially elected members. They were:

Miss Jane Addams, noted settlement worker, Chicago.

Miss Frances Kellar, chief of the Immigration Inspection Bureau, New York.

Mrs. Charles D. Blaney, San Francisco woman suffragist and delegate to both the Republican National Convention and the Progressive party National Convention.

Miss Jean Gordon, New York.

Women delegates who participated in the convention held a caucus and selected the four representatives of their sex to serve on the committee.

First Fight in Vermont.

Colonel Roosevelt and his associates have decided to make their first big national fight in Vermont, where the State election takes place in September.

Vermont they regard as a Taft stronghold and they are anxious to make the best possible showing in that State.

Both Colonel Roosevelt and Governor Johnson will make campaign tours through the State and Senator Dixon will also take a hand in the fight.

Members of the notification committee met Colonel Roosevelt and Governor Johnson at a reception arranged in their honor this morning.

Colonel Roosevelt was the center of a lively group in the main lobby of the hotel when the committee arrived.

He, with Governor Johnson and Albert J. Beveridge, the Progressive candidate for Governor of Indiana and permanent chairman of the convention, had just come from a photograph gallery, where they had pictures taken to be used in the campaign.

In one picture the Presidential nominee posed with a group of cowboys.

Colonel Roosevelt and Governor Johnson were then escorted to the Florentine room, where members of the notification committee filed in and shook hands.

The ceremony was soon over and then the nominees gathered with the members of the National Committee.

Some of the State delegations to the convention did not wait until they had returned home to begin the work of organizing their States.

The Wisconsin delegation and others met for adjournment of the convention and selected a State Chairman, State Secretary, and a State Executive Committee.

In several instances State leaders telegraphed orders before departing from Chicago for the beginning of active campaign work.

Miss Jane Addams, of Chicago, and other suffrage leaders were among those who expressed more than hope for the Progressives in the fall elections.

Many predicted that the aid of the suffragists would be one of the biggest factors in the final determination of the Presidential election.

Great Week, Says the Colonel.

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 8.—The showing made by the first National Convention of the Progressive party, Colonel Roosevelt said to-night on his way to Oyster Bay, was one which, in his opinion, would give the country a new impression of the strength of the movement and lend impetus at the outset of the campaign.

"It was a great week; it was a great convention," said the Colonel.

When the movement to form a new party was started, he continued, many of the men who had led the fight against him in the Republican Convention said no Progressive Convention would be held, or, that if one was held, it would be a failure.

By this time, he thought, they probably had changed their minds, and realized that they had made a mistake in what they had done at the Republican Convention. Even the leaders in the new party, he said, were surprised at the size and character of the convention.

In the new party, Colonel Roosevelt said, he would have opportunities which he could not have had in the Republican organization. He referred to the Progressive platform as containing planks which he desired but could not have had in the Republican platform had he been the nominee of that party.

Denies He Knew Wife Was Deaf and Dumb; Knew for Annulment.

New York, Aug. 10.—Denial that he knew before the wedding that his wife was deaf and dumb, was made by Chief M. Orowitz, who is suing for an annulment of marriage.

Orowitz says he had no chance to talk to his wife until their wedding day. Justice Lehman refused the wife's application for alimony pending her decision of the suit, but granted her $30 for counsel fees.

TWO NEW PARTIES.

The Plain Duty of North Carolina Progressive Republicans.

Shelby Highlander.]

What attitude are the Republicans of North Carolina going to take toward the split within the party ranks? There are now two new parties!

The Saturday Evening Post this week says that two new parties have now taken the place of the old Republicans—the Tories, or reactionaries on the one hand, and the Progressives on the other.

Where will North Carolina Republicanism go?

If the rank and file of Republicans in this State count for anything, the party in its State Convention next month will commit itself to the Progressive—the Roosevelt wing—and will instruct its electors to support Colonel Roosevelt.

That is what they are doing in a number of Northern States. New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Illinois, Kansas, Nebraska, Michigan, Iowa, the Dakotas, and the entire Northwest, are some of the places where the Roosevelt sentiment is literally taking the country by storm and none of these States—to say nothing of many other States not mentioned—will stand for a dishonest nomination secured by theft!

North Carolina Republicans can legitimately instruct their electors for Roosevelt and still retain their party name, if they so choose, and this should be done.

If North Carolina does this, Roosevelt will come to this State to campaign and to make the Old North State a campaign battleground will be an advertisement for the State such as he has not had for more than fifty years.

Fatal Railroad Accident.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 12.—Five persons were killed and several injured late to-day when the westbound Olympian train of the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound Railroad broke through a bridge a half mile west of Keechelus, sixty-seven miles east of Seattle.

Tar Heel Woman's Kills Herself.

Meredith, N. H., Aug. 13.—A pathetic suicide here is that of Mrs. Ridyn, the wife of Gustave F. Ridyn. Mrs. Ridyn came to Manchester last winter from Chatham County, North Carolina.

Although in comfortable circumstances, she was possessed with a mania for work, always being in the fear that she would eventually have to go to the poor farm. She went to work as a forewoman in the Amoskeag Mills, and in spite of the remonstrations of her husband, kept at her work until she first failed physically and then mentally. Mrs. Ridyn took poison.

In United States Court yesterday before Judge James E. Boyd the matter of the injunction issued against Collector Brown by Judge Pritchard was heard and disposed of in favor of the complainant, N. Glenn Williams.

This was a case that has been before the court for several months, arising when the United States Commissioner refused to grant a new distiller's bond to Williams on a large number of barrels of whiskey which had been seized.

Collector Brown was about to seize this whiskey according to law, when Williams went into the court and secured an injunction on the Collector. Judge Boyd yesterday, after hearing the arguments of counsel for Williams and for the Collector, continued the injunction and accepted the bond.

Slept With a Bag of Money on His Head But Now Has an Aching Void.

Asheville Gazette-News.)

Each day another victim comes forward and tells to the investigating committee how much he or she contributed to the fund that Mme. Nina Lester, the palmist who recently left this city for parts unknown, was raising. The latest runs something like this:

A man in this city, who is considered by all who know him to be a conservative business man, wanted to engage in a new line of business, so he consulted the Madam and she advised him to get five $100 bills and put them into a bag, then tie said bag! over his heart and sleep with it thus, and to report to her the next day. He did so, and she then told him that she would have to sleep with the bag tied over her heart in order to work the "conjure."

He readily agreed to this and was told to call the next day and she would give him the advice he asked and return the money. He has called at the house, 18 Merrimon Avenue, every morning since, but of course the Madam has failed to show up.

In company with the question, "What is a Democrat?" comes another equally as puzzling: "What is a tariff revenue only?" These two nuts Democrats have as yet failed to crack.—Union Republican.

"What is a Democrat?" they are asking. We will answer that. He is an individual with the power of speech abnormally developed, and an unlimited capacity for pie.—Randolph Bulletin.

GOOD MANAGEMENT OF COWS

Best Season for Animals to Come Fresh is Autumn—Calves Are Then Easier to Raise.

Major Henry E. Alvord, in the Iowa Homestead, says: "If the prime object is to produce the greatest quantity of milk of the best quality and at the greatest profit from any given number of cows within a year, the evidence is overwhelming that the cows should be managed so as to calve in the autumn months. For like reasons September is the best month in most parts of the country for a heifer: to drop her first calf in order to best develop as a cow, and this almost regardless of the age of the animal at first calving. Calves born in the fall are easier reared and make better cows than those born in the spring or summer. It seems needless to rehearse the stock arguments on this subject, based upon the long experience of successful dairymen, but a brief recapitulation may be useful. The cow or heifer calving in the fall needs the most healthy and nutritious pasture first following the strain and while coming into full flow. Just at the time when some falling off is likely to occur, the animal is brought to the stable and receives good care. The winter feeding and the returns from it may be depended upon to exceed the mid-summer results for a like period. At the stage of milking and of gestation, when another dropping off in the milk yield may be looked for, the fresh pasturage induces a fresh flow, lengthens the milking season and increases the product. December and January are good months in which to control and supervise the service of the bull."

SUNLIGHT FOR MILK UTENSILS

One of the Best Known Disinfectants—Nothing Better for Cans After Being Washed.

Sunlight is one of the best of disinfectants and it is free to everybody. There is nothing like good sunning and airing for milk utensils after they have been thoroughly washed and scalded, says the Farmers Mail and Breeze. The drawing shows a handy sun rack on which cans, pails and strainers may be conveniently hung. It is just as useful for kitchen utensils. Such a rack may be made from the upper portion of the main stem of a tree, leaving as many stubs of limbs for brackets as will be needed. Or holes may be bored slantwise into any soft wood post and brackets inserted.

Points of a Dairy Cow.

The cow is a machine to convert food into milk. Thus she must have a large middle and strong constitution to insure best results. She must also have a large udder, large milk wells, large crooked milk veins and good sized teats. Her head should be lean and angular in appearance, with the eyes standing out prominently. The neck should be rather long and clean in appearance, the shoulders pointed and the backbone rather prominent. The skin should be loose and soft to the touch.

Sell Nonpaying Cows.

Very few men will hesitate in disposing of a nonpaying cow if he can be convinced that she is in that class. It is ignorance alone that keeps so many poor milkers as work milking poor cows.

Least Waste of Cream.

If the milk is separated immediately after it is drawn and before the animal warmth has time to escape there will be the least possible waste of cream.

CLEAN SKIN OF MUCH VALUE

If Pores Are Kept Open Cow is More Apt to Be Healthy—Use Comb and Brush Every Day.

Nature has given all living creatures a wonderful covering for the body. The skin is a most perfect and yet an exceedingly simple system of carrying off impurity and at the same time of providing the body with needed nourishment from the air, through the mysterious channels of absorption.

Every cow's body is completely covered with this network of cells. If these are kept clean and open, so that they may do their work, the cow will be more apt to be healthy than if they become closed. This has been most strikingly proven by covering the bodies of animals with a sort of varnish which will not admit air, and the poor creatures soon die, their heart and lungs being fairly engorged with blood, just as would be the case if they were smothered.

Do we need anything more to prove that it stands us in hand to keep the bodies of our cattle clean by the use of a brush and comb not now and then, but every day, regularly? If this be not done, the pores of the skin get closed with the dust which is always present in our stables, especially at this time of the year, when we are feeding hay and other food that is apt to fill the air with flying particles. At once the cow begins to suffer. She cannot digest her food as she would otherwise, and she requires more food and richer food to maintain life in a good degree.

POINTS IN CARING FOR MILK

Liquid Placed in a Clean Bottle is Practically Free From Outside Contamination.

The nine rules given below will prove of considerable value to any dairyman:

1. Bottle milk is practically free from outside contamination and is the preferable form for purchasing it.
2. Can milk is liable to contamination from dust, from heat, and from strong-smelling substances in the refrigerator.
3. The top and outside of the bottle should be rinsed off with warm water before being opened, as the milkman usually carries the bottles by the top or neck, and more or less dirt and bacteria are certain to be transferred to the outside of the bottles.

Simple Method of Cooling.

4. Place the milk at once in a refrigerator, in cold water or in a cellar. Keep the covers on the bottles as it prevents material falling in, and also prevents absorption of odors.
5. Wash and scald the bottle as soon as empty.
6. Clean vessels only should be used for holding milk sold by measure. These should have tight-fitting covers.
7. Never mix fresh and stale milk, as all becomes tainted or sour in a short time.
8. Milk slightly sour can be sweetened by the addition of a small amount of lime water. Pasteurization will add to its keeping quality. This latter is not good policy, but is a remedy for a common evil.
9. Do not buy milk because it is cheap, for usually it is the dearest in the end.

DAIRY NOTES

An old stagnant pond is no place for a cow to slack her thirst. Cows differ somewhat in the amount of roughage they will take.

Every dairy farmer should organize a cow-testing association of his own. A "boarder" in the dairy herd is a sign of an owner who is satisfied with life as it is.

The mangel is excellent for stock feed, being greatly relished by milk cows in winter.

When butter refuses to "gather" the cream may be too sour or the temperature too low.

Provided you cow is a good one, the more she is fed along right lines the more she will give.

Stringy milk is brought on by a fermentation in the udder caused by a certain form of bacteria.

Milk left in the pail of the skimmer calf means sour milk in a very short time these hot days.

To be sweet and clean it is desirable that the cow stable be white-washed at least twice a year.
