

The Caucasian AND RALEIGH ENTERPRISE.

Raleigh, N. C., January 30, 1913.

Entered at the Post-office in Raleigh, N. C. as second class mail matter.

Local Matters.

Pless Horton, an aged negro who was one of the oldest blacksmiths in Raleigh, died Monday morning at his home on Tarboro road.

Governor Craig has commuted the sentence of Will Logan, the Anson County man convicted for the murder of Fred Henderickson to life imprisonment.

Horace Stroud and Posh Wiley, two negro convicts at the State's prison, engaged in a serious fight Tuesday. Stroud cut Wiley before they were finally parted by the guards.

The spring term of the State Supreme Court begins next Tuesday. Monday will be devoted to the examinations of applicants for law license. Only a small number will apply for license at this term.

Jack Davis Run Over By Train at Cary—Both Legs Cut Off.

Mr. Jack Davis, a white man of Cary, was run over by a Seaboard train there Sunday morning and one leg was cut off between the knee and ankle and the other severed at the body. He was brought to Raleigh and placed in Rex Hospital for treatment.

Brought to Raleigh for Treatment.

Van Moore, a farmer living near Granite Falls, Caldwell County, was bitten by a rabid horse Saturday. The horse is supposed to have been bitten by a mad dog some time ago, but had shown no signs of hydrophobia until Friday. Mr. Moore was drenching the horse when it attacked him, biting him twice on the arm and leg, breaking the skin on his arm. The horse was killed at once and Mr. Moore took the train for Raleigh, where he will take the Pasteur treatment.—Statesville Landmark.

Negro Arrested for Robbing a Store.

Friday night the store of W. Furman Betts, situated on West Morgan Street, was broken into and the safe robbed of a valuable diamond and a small amount of cash. Monday morning Horace Jones, negro, was arrested.

Jones' arrest followed his visit with the check to the Raleigh Banking and Trust Company. Here he attempted to have the check cashed, and when questioned, fled from the building.

Mad Dog Creates Much Excitement in Raleigh.

A mad dog, which did most of rambling in the vicinity of Shaw University, bit another pet blooded dog, snapped at and narrowly missed biting a child and created fear among the people living on Blount and South Streets yesterday morning.

The dog first made its appearance on South Blount Street, no one being able to tell exactly where it came from, as it passed it snapped at child at play. From Blount Street the mad dog, foaming at the mouth, turned into South Street and attacked the pet dog of a family living on this street. Before being driven away the mad dog succeeded in biting the pet dog. The attacks of the dog soon became few and far between as pedestrians and people living in the neighborhood made for shelter within houses. Men gave chase, and overtaking the dog killed him before he succeeded in biting any people.

After the dog had been killed Chief of Police Stell sent for its head, which was taken to Dr. Shore at the Laboratory of Hygiene, and an examination plainly revealed signs of rabies. The pet dog, which was bitten by the one pronounced mad, was then killed by its owner.—From Tuesday's News and Observer.

Negro Boy Shot and Killed by Crowd of Young White Boys Near Raleigh.

Lindsey Smith, a seventeen-year-old negro boy, was shot through the head and instantly killed yesterday afternoon while on his way in a buggy to his home about two miles north of Raleigh, situated on the Louisville road. Either Mullen McDowell or Arnie Ruth, aged 12 and 15 years, respectively, is alleged to have fired the shot that killed the negro.

The shooting of the negro occurred about 4:30 o'clock on that part of the Louisville road near where it crosses Pigeon House Creek.

According to the particulars gathered by Coroner Separk the report is that five young boys, Mullen McDowell, Arnie Ruth, Joe Street, Walter Singleton, and Colman Porter, armed with a rifle and pistols, were out on the trail of some members of another gang, better known as the "Person Street Crowd." When the buggy, containing Smith and two girls, Nancy and Lettie Hodges, neared the bridge of the creek, it is stated that the crowd of boys jumped into the road and yelled that they were going to shoot. The negro boy, it is said, told them to shoot, whereupon McDowell and Ruth are reported to have fired in the direction of the buggy. The negro boy fell from the buggy and at the same time the crowd made for the tall timbers. One of them, Colman Porter, was not so lucky as the others, and was later caught by two negro men.—From yesterday's News and Observer.

State Anti-Saloon League Met Last Night.

Members of the State Anti-Saloon League were arriving in Raleigh yesterday afternoon to attend a meeting to-night. The principal object of their meeting at this time is to urge the Legislature to pass the "search and seizure act" so that any one's premises may be searched for whiskey.

Mr. John L. Weathers Killed by His Son at Eagle Rock.

Mr. John L. Weathers, aged fifty years, was shot and instantly killed by his son, Haywood Weathers, near Eagle Rock to-day, following a quarrel. The son, who is twenty-one years old, used a pistol, the ball piercing the father's heart. The trouble was caused, it is said, by the father's telling Haywood to haul some wood, the youngster refusing and the father threatening to thrash him. Haywood went up to his room, it is said secured his pistol and fired twice at his father, the first time missing, but the second time hitting him in the heart.

Mrs. Weathers and other children attempted to prevent the tragedy, but were not successful.—From yesterday's Raleigh Times.

Woman Aged 35, Mother of 27 Children.

This writer has clipped the following from an exchange. You don't have to believe it if you don't want to, but it is passed along for what it is worth:

"The birth of quadruplets recently makes Mrs. William G. Clark, of 1731 Hamilton Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, the mother of twenty-seven children. She is only thirty-five years old. The quadruplets, all boys, died because of an injury to the mother. This was the second set of quadruplets the woman has borne, and she is also the mother of three sets of triplets and five set of twins. Six of her twenty-seven children are still alive. The oldest, Roland, is nineteen years old, and the youngest, Hubbard, is two. Mrs. Clark's mother had twenty-eight children, including twins and triplets. Her grandmother had twenty-nine children, quadruplets and triplets among them. Mrs. Clark does her own housework."

HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY.

Data Gathered by ex-President Kemp P. Battle.

(Special to The Caucasian.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Jan. 28.—Volume II. of ex-President Kemp P. Battle's "History of North Carolina" is from the press and embraces the period of the institution's history from 1868 to 1912 inclusive. Volume I. of the former president's of this, the second oldest State University in the United States, is a record of the events of the University from the adoption of the Constitution of North Carolina in 1776, which made the requirement of the University a fundamental law, down to the death of President Swain, August 29, 1868. This second volume makes a connecting link at that date, and to quote the fitting words of the author in his preface: "I venture to hope that this minute and faithful narrative of the struggles of the University from seven teachers and sixty-nine students to over eight hundred matriculates and over eighty teachers, will be of permanent value to students of education and to students of State Government."

Significant of value to the State is the adoption of the resolution of Dr. Archibald Henderson by the State Literary and Historical Society looking toward the collection and preservation of all literature produced in North Carolina, or letters of literary value. The resolution provides for the installing of such a collection in the new Administration Building in Raleigh.

Proctor C. T. Woollen received a letter from North Judson, Indiana, Friday, stating that the weather was so bitterly cold in that section that everything was frozen over, and that it was impossible to fill an order for five dozen turtles, which Mr. Woollen had ordered for use in the medical department of the University. The prediction of the Weather Bureau of a few days ago, that winter was only in the hiding and would make its appearance later, seems to have struck Indiana.

"What Happened to Jones" is the title of a play that will be presented by the Dramatic Club of the University in a number of eastern North Carolina towns during February and March. Among the towns that will see this successful comedy are Raleigh, Greensboro, Wilmington, Goldsboro, Fayetteville, Wilson, Rocky Mount, and Washington.

White Man Clubbed and Robbed by Negro Near New Bern.

A special from New Bern to yesterday's News and Observer says: "An unknown negro attacked W. A. Stapleford, a merchant at Bridgeport, just across Neuse River from New Bern, this afternoon, and after firing at him with a revolver and falling to strike him with a stick, knocked him in the head with a stick and robbed him of $35. Mr. Stapleford recovered within a short time and proceeded on to the town and informed several of his friends of the occurrence. A posse was immediately formed and a search for the negro begun."

Little Girl Drowned in Streets of Greensboro. City Sued for $5,000 Damages.

Greensboro dispatch, 25: "The city of Greensboro is asked to pay to J. R. Bell the sum of $5,000 as the result of the drowning of little Anna C. Bell on a suburban street of the city last March and during the time of the heavy rains. The little Bell girl was on her way home from school on the day of the heavy rains of last March and attempted to cross a usually placid little stream which had been badly swollen. She was drowned in the attempt, and it is alleged, by the negligence of the city."

Six Deaths in One Family in a Year.

Ends Hunt For Rich Girl.

Often the hunt for a rich wife ends when the man meets a woman that uses Electric Bitters. Her young nerves tell in a bright brain and even temper. Her peach-bloom complexion and ruby lips result from her pure blood; her bright eyes from restful sleep; her elastic step from firm, free muscles, all telling of the health and strength Electric Bitters gives a woman, and the freedom from indigestion, backache, headache, fainting and dizzy spells they promote. Everywhere they are woman's favorite remedy. If weak or ailing, try them. Fifty cents at all druggists.
