AND RALEIGH ENTERPRISE.

Raleigh, N. C., March 6, 1913.

Entered at the Post-office in Raleigh, N. C. as second class mail matter.

Local Matters.

Capt. Orren R. Smith, of Henderson, who died a few days ago, was a former resident of Raleigh. He was a veteran of both the Mexican and Civil Wars.

A horse belonging to Mr. E. H. King, a grocer on Hillsboro street, was struck by a street car Monday evening and injured so badly that it had to be killed.

Dr. W. A. Withers, Professor of Chemistry at the A. & M. College, has gone to Marshall, Madison County, as a witness in the case of the State against Maud Hamlin, who is to be tried for the murder of her husband. Dr. Withers analyzed the stomach of the dead man and found arsenic, mercury and copper.

Hon. W. J. Bryan Speaks in Raleigh to Large Audience.

Hon. W. J. Bryan spoke to a large audience in the auditorium in Raleigh Sunday afternoon. His subject was Peace, and his speech was well received by the audience. He was a guest of Chief Justice Walter Clark at dinner Sunday evening.

Mr. Bryan went from here to Washington to attend the inauguration.

Mother and Two Children Die the Same Week.

Mrs. R. C. Carpenter died Saturday at her home in this city after an illness of about two weeks. Only a few days before the death of her two children occurred from pneumonia, resulting from a case of measles. Another little girl is very sick now.

Mrs. Carpenter is survived by her husband and one daughter.

Drops Eleven Stories But Escapes Death.

Mr. O. C. Feltler fell eleven stories down the elevator shaft of the new Citizens National Bank building Tuesday afternoon. He sustained contusions of the skull and several broken ribs. The injured man was treated and afterwards removed to Rex Hospital. He is in a critical condition but may recover. His home is in Mt. Rainey, Md.

Mr. William W. Wynne Passes Away.

Mr. William W. Wynne, better known as Mr. "Tip" Wynne, died Friday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alma Egerton, at Selma, at the age of 72, after several months' illness. The body was brought to Raleigh for burial. He was in the Confederate service and made an excellent record. Mr. Wynne leaves two brothers, Messrs. Robert N. Wynne and J. Stanhope Wynne, and a sister, Mrs. R. E. Turner, and a daughter, Mrs. Edgerton, and a son, Mr. William Wynne, of Raleigh.

Professor J. A. Bivens Dies Suddenly in Raleigh.

Mr. J. Addison Bivens, supervisor of teacher training in the Department of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, died suddenly at his home on Fayetteville Street, in Raleigh, Sunday night, of acute indigestion. He had not been feeling well for a week, but was able to attend the lecture of Mr. Bryan Sunday afternoon. He called Mrs. Bivens when he began feeling worse, but died thirty minutes later, two physicians not being able to give relief. He was forty-nine years old.

Mr. Bivens was born in Stanly County, to which he devoted the early part of his life.

Editor Bivens of the Stanly Enterprise was a brother of the deceased.

WAKE OFFICIALS IN ROW.

Board of Education Makes Demand for Part of Tax Fund—Commissioners Refuse, Now to the Courts.

Tuesday's News and Observer gives the following account of the row between its Board of Education and County Commissioners:

"Judge Carter will be asked to decide the legality of a claim the Board of Education has filed against the Board of Commissioners of Wake County, involving the amount of $6,300.20, which the educationalists claim is part of the county taxes which has been appropriated to other funds instead of the educational fund. The bill was presented yesterday to the Board, which promptly refused to pay.

"Part of the amount embraces money that has been deducted for the past five years from the educational fund as its share of the expense in listing and assessing the county taxes. The commissioners held that the Board of Education should pay its apportionment share of the listing expense, and took out the amount when they made their yearly settlement. The Board of Education differ with the commissioners, and say that the law does not state they should pay any of the expenses.

"The dispute is a friendly one and is referred to the judge merely to avoid any future trouble which may arise from settlement of the fund cash."

Will Name Arbitrators to Settle the Water Question in Raleigh.

It begins to look as though something definite may be done with the water question in Raleigh.

Arbitrators will be selected next Saturday at noon to agree on the price to be paid by the city to the Wake Water Company for the water-works property. Each side will present three names, allowing the other side to strike off two, the one name remaining on each side to be an arbitrator. These two shall select a third man.

SENATOR MARTIN COMES DOWN.

Will Now Go After Simmons' Scalp—Martin's Friends Charge Simmons With Treachery.

Writing of the defeat of Senator Martin, of Virginia, by the progressives in the Senate who are in favor of Kern, the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, says:

"The defeat of Senator Martin was the result primarily of a willingness on the part of other conservatives to sacrifice him to save themselves. This was especially true of Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, who had previously stood staunchly by Martin, but who, finding his own fortunes at stake, let it be known that he would abandon the Virginian.

"Those friends of Senator Martin who remained loyal to him to the last were incensed at the action of other supporters who in the beginning were prepared to tie their fortunes to his, but who seeing that the Virginian was doomed, quit a sinking ship and went over to the enemy.

"These friends did not hesitate to say in private conversation that the 'knife' had been freely used by former Martin men during the past three days and several of them expressed the hope that those conservatives who retreated would be rewarded by meeting the same treatment at the hands of the progressives that was meted out to Senator Martin. And it is by no means certain that this fond hope will not be realized. Progressive Democrats who led the fight for Senator Kern are eager for the scalp of Senator Simmons next.

"In his campaign for re-election to the Senate, Simmons told the people of North Carolina that if he failed to secure the chairmanship of the Senate finance committee he would resign his seat. Today there were half a dozen or more Senate progressives who said they were willing to 'call the Simmons bluff.'"

A Few of Taft's Appointees Condemned, But No Postmasters.

Washington, D. C., March 1.—The first important break in the Senate deadlock on Taft's appointments came to-day when the Senate executive confirmed the large number of promotions in the army, navy, marine corps, revenue cutter service, public health service and diplomatic service. It was the result of a general agreement upon promotions along general definite line of merit.

SUFFRAGETTES JEERED

Rioters Break up the Parade in Washington

The Women Marchers Have to Fight Their Way Through the Surging and Jeering Crowd—Troops From Fort Meyers Called to Rescue the Suffragettes.

Washington, March 3.—Five thousand women, marching in the woman suffrage parade today, practically fought their way foot by foot up Pennsylvania Avenue, through a surging mob that completely defied the Washington police, swamped the marchers and broke their procession into little companies. The women, trudging stoutly along under great difficulties, were able to complete their march only when troops of cavalry from Fort Myer were rushed into Washington to take charge of Pennsylvania Avenue. No inauguration has produced such scenes, which in many instances amounted to nothing less than riots.

Later in the afternoon the pageant was turned into an indignation meeting by the suffragists and the Washington police were roundly denounced for their inactivity and resolutions were passed calling upon President-elect Wilson and the incoming Congress to make an investigation and locate the responsibility for the indignities the marchers suffered. Miss Helen Keller, the noted deaf and blind girl, was so exhausted and unnerved by the experience in attempting to reach a grandstand where she was to have been a guest of honor, that she was unable to speak later at Continental Hall.

The scenes which attended the entry of "General" Rosalie Jones and her "hikers" on Thursday, when the bedraggled women had to fight their way up Pennsylvania Avenue, swamped by a mob with which few policemen struggled in vain, were repeated today but upon a vastly larger scale. The marchers had to fight their way from the start and took more than one hour in making the first ten blocks. Many of the women were in tears under the jeers and insults that lined the route.

PRESIDENT FINLEY SPEAKS.

Gives the Railroad's Side of Freight Rate Question—Thinks Difference Should Be Settled by Conference.

Goldsboro, N. C., March 1.—President Finley, of the Southern Railway Company, who was one of the speakers at a banquet given last evening by the Goldsboro Chamber of Commerce, spoke on "The State of North Carolina," with special reference to the relations of the Southern Railway Company to the State and what the management of that Company is endeavoring to do for the State.

Mr. Finley said that he proposed to speak in the profound conviction that the interests of the State will best be promoted by policies that are best for the interests of the people and for the interests of the railways. He said:

"A great deal has recently been said on the subject of the Virginia cities rates from the West. It is most important to have a clear understanding regarding the conditions that have led to the establishment of the Virginia cities rates. I shall refer to this matter only so far as may be necessary to make clear the responsibility for the establishment of those rates.

"The fact that some of the lines operating through North Carolina have competed for the Virginia cities business at the rates established by these other companies, but at a margin of profit at which they could not afford to carry all of their business, does not, in any way, make them responsible for the Virginia cities rates.

"It is now well known, however, that conferences have been in progress between representatives of the State of North Carolina and the railways in an effort to reach an understanding on questions as to the effect of the Virginia cities rates on points in North Carolina. The railways, in deference to the sentiment of the people of the State on the subject and not because they consider the carrying of such business at present tariff rates economically unsound, have offered, in connection with a proposed adjustment, now in process of being worked out between the State and the railways, to withdraw from the business from the West to the Virginia cities through North Carolina. It is also proposed that the effect of the Virginia cities rates on points in North Carolina shall be considered in conference in an effort to reach an agreement as to reasonable adjustments which may be put into effect through an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission. I will not burden you this evening with other features of the conferences between the State and the railways. It is my most earnest hope that the negotiations, thus entered upon, may result in removing every ground of controversy between the people of North Carolina and the railways on this subject.

"It would, I believe, be most unfortunate if the people of any State and the railways, which are so important to their progress and development, should become involved in controversy on questions of railway charges. Much the better plan, in my opinion, is that of meeting in conference. In such a conference all matters at issue should, in a spirit of fairness on both sides, be discussed in all their economic relations and every effort should be made to arrive at an amicable agreement that will work substantial justice. I believe that, if after full and free conference in which all facts and arguments presented shall have been considered in a spirit of reciprocal fairness, any questions remain as to which agreements cannot be reached, they should be submitted to those tribunals which have been constituted by the laws of the land for their adjudication."

WEBB BILL BECOMES LAW.

Congress Passes Two Measures Over President Taft's Veto.

President Taft vetoed the Webb liquor bill, but the bill was again passed over the President's veto by more than the required two-thirds majority. The President's veto was based on the grounds that the bill is unconstitutional.

He also vetoed the sundry civil appropriation bill carrying $113,000,000, because of its provision preventing the Department of Justice from using its anti-trust appropriation in the prosecution of their unions and farmers' organizations. The House re-passed the sundry civil bill over the President's veto.

Government After the "Coal Tar Trust."

New York, March 3.—Dissolution of the so-called "coal tar trust" is asked by the Government in a civil suit filed in the United States District Court here to-day under the Sherman anti-trust law. The defendants named are the $15,000,000 Barrett Manufacturing Company, of West Virginia; its fourteen subsidiaries, the American Coal Products Company, holding concern for the corporation, and a number of their officers and directors. Suppression of competition in the sale of coal tar, coal tar pitch and felt for roofing purposes and monopolistic control of the trade are charged.

SOME GOOD STORIES.

An Impossibility.

(From Judge.)
Dr. Crabbe had almost succeeded in dismissing Mrs. Gassway, when she stopped in the doorway, exclaiming: "Why, Doctor, you didn't look to see if my tongue was coated?"
"I know it isn't," said the Doctor, wearily. "You never find grass on a race track."

Champion Kansas Bore.

(From the Topeka Capital.)
"I used to know a man," says Abe Peters, "who was the worst bore I ever met. He used to stop me whenever he met me and start with a line of talk, generally about himself, and stay with me for an hour or more. He was an absent-minded man and had a habit of catching hold of a button of my coat and holding on to that while he talked. He would hang onto that button and just ramble on and on 'till I was nearly ready for the bug-house. One day a happy thought struck me. I got out my knife quietly and cut the button off and slipped away. He kept right on talking. An hour later a friend of mine came along and found the bore still standing there with the button between his fingers and talking about the year of the big snow in Michigan. He hadn't noticed that I was gone."

Have Found a Money Trust.

A dispatch sent out from Washington a few days ago says:

Three divergent reports were presented to the House today by the members of the committee, which conducted the money trust investigation.

The majority report signed by Chairman Pajo and the six other Democratic members of the committee, found that a money trust exists, according to their understanding of the term. This report names as the "most active agents in bringing about the concentration of money and credit," J. P. Morgan & Co., First National and National City Banks and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., of New York, Lee, Higginson and Kidder, Peabody & Co., of Boston.

Howan Farmer Wanders for a Week While Family Search for Him.

A Salisbury, N. C., dispatch of March 2nd says:

"After a mysterious absence of a week George Goodman, a well-known Rowan County farmer, returned to his home near Salisbury last night, walking in upon his family. He left in a mysterious manner and his friends have been searching at various places in this State, also in Idaho and Illinois, where Mr. Goodman formerly lived.

"His mind has been a blank for a week. He does not remember leaving home, where he has been, nor what he has done. When he came to himself he was in Concord."
