

The Caucasian AND RALEIGH ENTERPRISE.

Raleigh, N. C., April 3, 1913.

Entered at the Post-office in Raleigh, N. C. as second class mail matter.

Local Matters.

The "Search and Seizure" law passed at the last session of the Legislature went into effect Tuesday.

The Raleigh School Board is preparing for the erection of a $100,000 public school building for the Glenwood section of the city. It will have ten school rooms.

The home of Mr. L. A. Mahler, the jeweler, was entered Friday night by thieves and the entire house was ransacked and the rooms left in great disorder. Officers are trying to locate the robbers. It is not known just how much was stolen. Mr. and Mrs. Mahler are in Michigan, where Mr. Mahler is spending some time recuperating.

Dr. I. McK. Pittenger, Rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, left Tuesday for Zanesville, Ohio, to assist Rev. W. A. Henderson, the rector of St. James' Church, in work among the flood sufferers. Dr. Pittenger carried with him a contribution from the members of the Church of the Good Shepherd and Christ Church, this city, and also from others in Raleigh and different parts of the State.

The Raleigh postoffice was moved Saturday night and Sunday to temporary quarters in the Montague building on East Hargett street. The Revenue Department and Marshall's office will be moved to same building in a few days. There will not be room to hold Federal court in the new building, but the court will be held in the county court house. It will take about two years to make the enlargement and improvements on the Federal building.

Raleigh Votes for Commission Form of Government.

Raleigh voted Tuesday for the commission form of government by a substantial majority. The vote in favor of the new plan was almost four to one. Three commissioners will be elected in May.

Modern Dental Parlors.

The Modern Dental Parlors have opened offices over Powell & Powell, on Fayetteville Street, in Raleigh, and are making a bid for all classes of dental work. The prices and the kind of work they do is told in their advertisement which appears elsewhere in this issue of the paper.

Mr. Walter H. Page is the New Ambassador to England.

Mr. Walter H. Page, editor of World's Work, has been appointed by President Wilson ambassador to Great Britain, and Mr. Page has accepted. The new ambassador was from near Cony, Wake County, but moved to New York several years ago.

Raleigh's Police Justice Resigns.

Mr. Walter L. Watson, who has been Raleigh's police justice for the past twenty months, resigned Monday, and Mayor Johnson named Mr. B. F. Dixon to succeed him. Mr. Dixon will probably serve until the city election in June.

Woman's Baptist Missionary Union Meets Next Year at Hendersonville.

The North Carolina Woman's Baptist Missionary Union will meet next year in Hendersonville. The meeting in Raleigh last week was largely attended and was pronounced a success.

Mrs. Fannie E. S. Heck, of Raleigh, was elected President.

The Union resolved to raise $42,000 for missions this year instead of $39,000 raised last year, and made definite apportionments of the $42,000 among the Baptist Associations of the State for home mission work.

COULDN'T GET FAIR TRIAL.

Judge Carter Orders Case of Nipper Johnson Removed to Franklin County—Thought There Was a Frame Up in Favor of Guards.

When the case against J. M. Nipper and Jib Johnson, convict guards, charged with whipping prisoners, was called by Solicitor Norris in Wake court Monday afternoon, Judge Carter told the bar that he did not have the heart to try the case for the reason that justice could not be secured in Wake County; that he was willing to relieve the Solicitor the embarrassment of making such an affidavit and would make it himself. The jury that acquitted R. E. Howell made a grave error, the verdict of not guilty being travesty on justice, said Judge Carter. The judge stated that he understood that the county commissioners had engaged counsel to aid in the defense of Nipper and Johnson. The poor white man and the negro were always convicted but those with money and influence free. The county attorney denied that the commissioners had employed counsel but Judge Carter said the case should be tried in Franklin County.

Woman at Caraleigh Mills Receives "Black Hand" Warning.

A young woman living at Caraleigh Mills, near Raleigh, called on U. S. Commissioner Nichols Tuesday and asked for protection against some one who has sent her a "black hand" letter. The threatening letter was written in ink on a black-bordered handkerchief and accompanied by a miniature wooden coffin, near the head of which was pasted a skull and cross bones. The note written on the handkerchief is as follows:

"Beware of RALEIGH The Black Hand The 15th, of April Is a dangerous Day For You."

It is reported that a certain married man had been paying too much attention to the girl and that probably the wife of this man had sent the threatening note to the girl. Commissioner Nichols could not offer the girl any aid since the letter did not go through the mails. If any action is taken it must be by the county authorities.

Wake Court Adjourned Monday.

The March term of Wake Superior Court adjourned Monday afternoon. A number of minor cases were disposed of the last day. R. E. Howell charged with larceny and receiving was acquitted. The judge declared this verdict a travesty on justice.

Robert Aels, alias Robert Duntz, etc., after having previously been bound over to the next term of court Saturday entered a plea of guilty of stealing diamonds to the value of $700 from H. Habler's sons last summer and was sentenced to one year in the State's Prison.

Twenty-five years in the State's Prison at hard labor was the sentence given Amos Jackson, a negro, who pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree.

George Gerken, the young white boy charged with entering the room of a guest at the Yarborough Hotel sometime ago, was required by Judge Carter to pay the costs and give bond for good behavior.

BILKINS ATTENDS INAUGURATIONS.

(Continued from page 1.) Mr. Taft mite hev suited them. At this time Mr. Roosevelt did not. So they concluded to take chances an' punish somebody, even at a big risk. Mr. Roosevelt got more votes than they expected an' Mr. Taft got less of a panic, a big fall in values. But they will not be much hurt. The man who raises low-priced cotton, corn, wheat an' pork will be the fellow who will lay awake at nite an' hiz hair will grow thin on top of hiz head. But they rebuke Mr. Roosevelt, the man they were after. An' the country hez got a lesson hit will not forget soon. An' Josephus will ride around some in a boat at government expense. An' Mr. Bryan will make a few speeches—hiz long suit—an' the panic will go on and do more or less damage. Hiz hez not started yet. As soon az the result of the electshun became known in November a gude many people hurried to sell any cotton they had on hands. But little insite now. But the danger line had not been reached. But just wait! There iz four years of this business in front of us. Mr. Wilson, Mr. Bryan an' Mr. Daniels will prove very expensive luxuries. Their official salaries will amount to nothin' az compared to what they will cost the people of the country.

There iz no sentiment in business, no charity. There iz friendship in some cases, of course. But most of hit iz outside of ordinary business affairs. The Bankir in New York or Chicago does not care enough for the farmer, merchant or other citizen in North Carolina to send him a penny unless hit iz for value received. The North Carolina farmer or merchant doesn't care enough for the New York or Chicago banker to send him an apple or a peach, free. He hiz but little ordinary interest in him. That bein' true, there iz even less sentiment in politics. But for the name of the thing there would in many cases be far less honesty in politics than the surface actually shows. Justified bonds an' public sentiment iz about awl that holds many politicians anywhar near rite. I would not hev any man or any class or men lose faith in mankind. But do not tie too closely to politics. An irresponsible party an' an irresponsible man are both things which will bear watchin'. A man who iz capable of ruinin' a great country like this would use better judgment in selectin' hiz right-hand men, hiz cabinet. A few more mistakes an' the calamity will become perpetual, an' will resemble a drove of steers turned loose near a water course—can't drink unless they are standin' in the water up to their knees, at least.

I went an' had a talk with the President a day or two after he got in the chair. He seemed to be mighty glad ter see me. After I told him who I wuz he called one of hiz secretaries (he wuz about forty) an' told him to take down the name of Major Zeke Bilkins, Bilkinsville, N. C. "What are you a candidate for?" asked the President. "Nothin', sez I; you couldn't run me down with a pack of hounds an' give me any office in the United States." But the Secretary kept a writin' an' the President wouldn't let him stop. The
