THE RUSSELL-BUTLER SCHEME A good many of us have wondered at the peculiar political tactics of Senator Marion Butler (Pop. Fusionist) and Governor Daniel Russell(Fusionist Rep) and tried to spy out what they are driving at.

A Raleigh special in the Washington Post presents this view of the matter: "It is known that Senator Butler and Gov. Russell are seeking to organize a new party in the State. Gov. Russell does not see any chance for co-operation next year between the Populists and Republicans, because these parties will be diametrically opposed on the lease question Populist party will be intensely hostile to the lease, while the Democratic State Convention will be captured by Col. Andrews, and will say The Republican State Connothing. vention, under the leadership of Senator Pritchard and the Federal officeholders, will declare for the lease. In this view Butler and Russell expect a sufficient bolt from both the old parties valuable crop up to date being that of to the Populist, or anti-railroad party. to give this party a clear majority of the votes, thus carrying the State on the Populist vote and electing a majority of both houses of the Legislature.

"This result would get rid of the fu sion of Republicans and Populists by organizing a new party. It would give Russell and Butler control of the State and make a cipher of Pritchard and emasculate the Democrats, Butler would succeed himself in the United States Senate and Russell would succeed Pritchard.

This scheme might succeed if the workers of it could hood-wink the peeple, capture a wing of each of the three parties and gather together enough of their dupes to enable them to form a new party. But, with all the political wanderings of many of the voters of this State in the past few years, it is almost impossible to believe they would suffer themselves to be delivered bodily into the hands of North Carolina's most selfish political bosses.

THE SOUTH'S SHARE OF PROS-PERITY.

The Jacksonville Times-Union says The prospects point to a cotton crop of 10 000,000 bales, and the price is now 81-16 cents per pound in New York. At this price a 10,000,000-bale crop, 500 pounds to the bale, would bring the comfortable sum of $403,125,000. This would be about $18 per capita for the whole south, and would bring into the south nearly $100,000,000 more than any cotton crop ever produced, the most 1882, which was worth $209;696,500.

"About 90 per cent of the cotton of the United States is grown in seven States-South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas. In 1890 the population of these States was only 10,250,000, and their percentage of the crop would average $35 per capita, or $175 per family "Cotton is only one of the products with the of the south, and taking the entire south, it is not always even the principal one. As a rule the south produces as much corn per capita as the north and in fact produces every crop grown in any part of the country. To many southern farmers cotton will be a surextradition. They have produced their plus crop. supplies at home. The year promises to be a very prosperous one to the southern farmer, as well as to the wheat-grower of the west."

PROGRESSIVE CHARLOTTE

The number of good citizens being added day by day to the population of Charlotte, men of energy, and some of considerable means, who are coming here from other places, is one of the most gratifying signs of the steady progress of the city. Charlotte is known far and wide as the most prosperous and enterprising city in the State

It is attracting good citizens from al quarters, and while there is no steady boom, there is a constant growth in population, in trade and in manufac turing interests. New buildings are be ing erected in nearly every part of the city. There are now in course of construction four important business buildings and numerous others have just been completed.

CAR FAMINE IN THE SOUTH.

Speaking of the mixed condition of The remarkable boom in business has reated a car famine on the Southern railroads. E. C. Spalding is general manager of several large equipment companies which own more than 12,000 reight cars, leased to railroads east of the Mississippi river, covering almost the entire territory from New England to the gulf. Every car which his concern controls is now in active service and he is not only running two shops in Atlanta to put old cars in good conlition. Every road in the Southern States is short of cars. Mr. Spalding says that the present demand for cars is greater than it has been for any period in the past five years, and is creasing daily.

We are on the verge of a great min ing era," remarked Clarence King, formerly chief of the United States geo ogical survey. "The time is not far distant when a man can start out of Denver and travel to Klondike, stopping every night at a mining camp. Already two American stamp mills are bounding away on the borders of the Straits of Magellan, and the day is approaching when a chain of mining camps will extend from Cape Horn to St. Michaels. I believe we are about to enter upon a century which will open up vast resources, and will be the
