Progress of the Court Martial at Annapolis.

ANNAPOLIS, September 1.—The court met at 10 s m and took up D M Young's Case, which was began yesterday. Wm P Cyne, fourth class, testified that Young did not molest or annoy him. Young was not present. The witness was put through a slight mock drill in the wash room; thinks Young was present a short time; don't think he said anything in the presence of the accused that tended to intimidate the witness. The mock drill took place between 8 and 9 p m. It was usual for the cadets to visit the wash room after supper hour to make their toilets. Don't think the accused was making his toilet during the drill. Cross-examined by the accused: Don't remember if the accused was in the wash room while we were drilling or not. The fourth class men were put behind the partition in the wash room. The presence of the accused in the wash room tended to intimidate while I was not drilling. We were drilling a very short time. His presence alone and not his actions

Edward H. Durrell, a fourth class man, testified that the accused never annoyed or molested him. The accused was present in the wash room when the witness was put through a mock drill. Don't know for what purpose he was there. The accused took no part to my

Cross-examination by the accused. Could not be positive accused was in the wash room while the drill was in progress; saw him as soon as I was allowed to go standing up by the basin in the wash room. Did not regard the ac cused as one of the party detaining me.

Mark L. Bristol testified that the accused did not molest him either on deck or in the wash room, and did not see accused at the mock drill.

This concluded yesterday's course, and the court proceeded to read the records. It then took a recess until 2 p. m. During the recess Wood, a member of the court martial, received a dispatch which necessitated his being detached. Another member will have to be appointed. The court adjourned to Monday.

Getting Ready for Count DeChambord's Funeral.

VIENNA, Sept. 1.-The Archduke Louis Victor will represent the Empe-Count DeChambord Monday. It is stated that the Count before his death directed that his body should always remain at Garitz, and that it should never be taken to France, even if the monarchy should be restored. He said in his last days: "They would not have me living and will not want me dead." Requiem, masses will be celebrated throughout France Monday for the repose of the soul of the dead Count. Emperor Francis Joseph yesterday re-ceived all the Orleans Princes here. Three hundred Frenchmen have arrived at Goritz to attend the funeral of the Count DeChamburd. It is expected that 2,000 more will be present on the day of the funeral. The Countess De-Chambord has received the Orleans l'rinces with regal ceremonies.

Suspected Dynamiters Arrested.

GLASGOW, Sept. 1.—Six persons sus-pected of having been connected with dynamite attempts here last July, when a large gasometer in the city was blown up and other property destroyed, have been arrested. Their names are Peter Calaghan. Thomas Devaney, Patrick McCabe, Patrick Dunn, Terry McDonald and Henry McCann. The police decline to reveal the source of the information which led to their arrest. They were all arrested at the same time in different parts of the city. The houses in which they lived were searched by the police. They are charged with the blowing up of the largest gasometer in the city, destroying the rail-way shed, and attempting to destroy with dynamite the acquaduct of the Forth and Clyde canal.

The contract for the enlargement of the Buford House was yesterday given out, and work is to commence at once. A four story addition is to be made to the rear of house, fronting on Fourth street, and will contain forty rooms. The fame of Charlotte's hotel accommodations is still spreading, and as a result there has been a decided increase of aker bought for three dollars per acre travel to our city, and how it has been with the Buford is best explained in $3,086.41 realized from eight acres of the following telegram sent from Charthan the preceding year. The dollars lotte to the Atlanta Constitution: "The Buford House, at Charlotte, North Carolina, Scoville Bros, proprietors, the "daddy" dollars were authorized, registered during the month of August seventeen hundred and fifty guests, averaging over fifty-five arrivals per day. The Buford is the most popular hotel in the South. Their business is increasing so rapidly they will add forty additional rooms very soon."

Besides the addition of the forty rooms, the enterprising proprietors are water went rushing down the gutter to put a steam elevator in the building.

A $3,500 Fire in the Country. At an early hour yesterday morning loss is $3,500, upon which there was no insurance, Mr. Rumple never having carried insurance except in the ginning season, and was preparing to renew his policy. This is a severe blow to a very worthy man. Mr. Rumple had just put in a lot of brand new machinery, including a new gin, feeder and condenser, and was ready to begin fall ginning. On the day before a sill in the engine room caught fire and was extinguished twice, and it is thought that the sill caught fire for the third time early in the morning and burned the buildings down. There was no cotton about the ings and machinery. In this disaster which has come upon him so suddenly and with such force, Mr. Rumple has the sympathy of his friends in Mecklenburg. He is a man of energy, and we trust will soon retrieve his loss.

The Dollar of Our Daddies.

It is reported in first financial circles that an organized warfare is to be made on the dollar during the next session of Congress, and those who hate it are really encouraged to believe that they will be able to stop its coinage. This fight, which has been made with great regularity in the past, has not been waged with the vigor that will probably be displayed this time. Whether it will be successful remains to be seen. but there seems more probabilty of success in this case than in any of the efforts which have preceded it. The coinage of silver dollars in the year just ended has been about thirty millions, or two and a half millions more go out very slowly. Of the whole amount of silver dollars coined since not one-fourth are in circulation; and to get them in circulation seems to be almost an impossibility. The standard silver dollars in the Treasury four years ago were thirty-two millions; a year later they were forty-seven milllons; one year ago they amounted to over ninety millions, and money has to be appropriated to create storage room for them.

Yesterday one week ago, a party of railroad hands got into a fight near the Junction, and while Albert Hargrave and another negro were knocking each other, a Mecklenburg negro named Alex Williams took up a pick Hargrave a terrible blow on the forehead. The row finally quieted and Hargrave resumed work with the other hands, working until sundown. Sunday and Monday he remained in bed from the effects of the blow, but Tuesday and Wednesday he was at work again. Thursday he was seized with opisthotonos, or jerking back of the head, and bad a series of fits. Dr Wilder was summoned to attend him and found that the blow from the pick had fractured Hargraves' skull in a bad manner. Dr Wilder gave Hargrave all the attention possible and yesterday morning sent him to his home in Lexington. where he could be cared for, with instructions to go to Dr Payne of that place for treatment. Williams was yesterday arrested and lodged in jail here to await the result of Hargrave's injuries.
