DEATH OF PARISH PURMAN. The Sudden End of the Brilliant Career of the Famous "Intensive" Farmer of Georgia. lence News and Courier.

COLUMBIA, Sept. 15.—Farish C. Fur-man deed at his residence, near Milledge-ville, Ga, last night, after three weeks' ifiness. He was the son of Dr. John H. Furman, of Sumter county, in this State, his mother being a daughter of Judge Fariah Carter, of Georgia. He was born thirty-seven years ago. Fariah Carter Furman attended the Citadel Academy during the war, and subsequently graduated with distinction at the South Carolina University. In 1869 he married a daughter of Prof. Jos. Le-Coute, of Columbia, settling in Milledgeville, Ga. He practiced law, was ledgeville, Ga. He practiced law, was county judge and was sent to the State Senate in 1876. He took an active part in the Georgia capital campaign, but afterwards abandoned politics and de-voted himself to the law and to farming. The results of his experiments in cotton culture have been published all over the United States and in several parts of Europe. He contributed to many public addresses. At the time of his death he was engaged in raising a company for the manufacture of sul-phur from Georgia pyrites, and also of a special fertilizer or perfect cotton plant food. He had been quite successful in Alabama and Georgia, and had entered South Carolina on this mission, but on reaching Columbia he beard that the caterpillars had appeared in his crop, and hastened home apparently in the most robust health and full of energy and eathneissm, but on the next day be was taken ill with fever, from which disease hedied last night.

Young, pure-minded, highly gifted, physically and mentally, full of energy and enthusiasm, he gave promise of the greatest usefulness in the field where the South most needs expansion. So often it is that the professions steal the brightest intellects of the South from agriculture, that the death of Farish Furman is doubly to be deplored. Scientific agriculture has lost one of its noblest exemplars.

Fever Raging at Gunymas, Mexico. WASHINGTON, Sept 17.-From Yuma Arizoga, it is learned that there are conflicting reports concerning the true character of the fever raging at Guay-mas Mexico, 250 miles from Yuma, but tost it is attended with fatal results The latest news indicates increasing mortality, people are dying at the rate of three to six daily. The statement is made regarding the city of Marzstan where in addition to the fever the black vomit prevails. The railroad from Guaymas enters Arizona Territory at Noisies and it is recommended that steps should be promptly taken to preventithe importation of the fever into the United States. SALEM NOTES. The Drought Ended-Graded School Grounds Belected-News Dots and SALEM, N. C., Sept. 17, 1888. To the Editor of the Journal Obsc. ver. The drought has been broken, but the rainfall did not amount to much here. It rained enough, however, to give the farmers a chance to try to prepare ground for sowing wheat, and they have been busy breaking ground, but say more rain is needed before much headway can be made.

The grounds have been selected and staked off for the graded school building in Winston, and I learn that it is the intention of those who have charge to complete that structure at an early On Friday night last an impromptu concert, on the occasion of the opening of the eightieth session of Salem Academy, was given in the chapel of the Academy, under the direction of Sig. D'Anna, assisted by Mrs. H. E. Fries, Miss Gertrude Siewers and Mr. W. H. Hester. Like in all former concerts given under Sig. D'Anna's training and supervision, the different parts of the programme were successfully rendered. on Saturday night a promenade concert was given in the public square here, the proceeds of which are to go towards defraying the expenses of a handsome and convenient chapel, recently built by E'm Street Sunday

THE WILD APACHES

Out on the Warpath and Kill One Man CHICAGO, Sept 17.—A special dispatch from Tombstone, Arizona,dated Sunday night, says: Eight hostile Apaches jumped a camp at Antelope Springs ten miles from this city, this merning Only two men were present at the time of the attack, Gen Woodward and Amos Williams. The first was killed at the first fire, but the latter escaped and brought the news to this city this even ing. Twenty armed citizens immediately started in pursuit of the hostiles but there is little probability of their being overtaken. The Indians came from the direction of Sonora. They were mounted on bareback horses, and some were without bridles, hence it is be-lieved that the animals had been stolen from ranches south of here. Several persons left here for Sonora during the past week, and their fate will be anx-lously anticipated; it is feared they have fallen victims to the savage marauders. The main body of the hostiles are encamped near Casas Grande, Chihuahua. Their overtures for peace have been re-jected by the Mexican authorities, who are organizing troops to go to the moun-tain fastness. News was received here to-day via Sonora to the effect that Co Terrazas, while reconnoitering the posi-tion of the hostiles, had been captured but this report as yet lacks confirme

Discovery of a Sunday Fire. Sunday afternoon at a late hour, as chief of police Harrison, sergeant Irwin and peliceman Boyte were patrol-ing College street, they were attracted by a crowd standing around the build-ing occupied by the Mountain House bar, from the closed windows of which smoke was issuing. A window was forced open and the room was found to be full of smoke, while the shelves behind the bar were ablaze. A cigar box full of matches had ignited in some manner and fired the bar. The mage is triffing. The New Postal Notes.

From the poor run so far made on the new postal notes, it would seem that they are not destined to become popular enough to make them profitable to the government, and the chances are that before long they will be withdrawn. Most people would just as willingly send a dollar bill as a postal note in a letter. The notes are also easly counterfeited, and Underwood's Counterfeit Reporter declares that as a place of work they are a discredit to the government. As a whole, they are a lamentable failure, at the notes have already been raised in such a manner as almost to dety detection. This, if true, will make people wither chary of using them.

ASHEVILLE'S NEW HOTEL. Battery Porter Selected as the fite for a $100,000 Building-A Big Deal by Charlotte Capitalists.

Col Frank Coxe has bought Battery Porter, a beautiful eminence near the centre of Asheville, upon which to build a large and splendid hotel. The hotel will be run by Mr. H. C. Eccles, whose reputation as a hotel keeper extends throughout the United States, and who will keep the new hotel up to the Central in style. The new building is to cost, exclusive of furniture, the sum of $100,000 and work is shortly to commence on it. "It is the intention," remarked Mr. Eccles to the reporter yesterday, "to make the hotel as comfortable in December as it will be in June, and to keep it open the year round.' Mr. Eccles' visit to Asheville this summer was made for the purpose of investigating into the prospects for a new and elegant hotel for that place, and on his favorable report of the enterprise, Battery Porter was bought by Mr. Coxe for the hotel site.

Mr. John Wadsworth, of our city, will run a livery stable in connection with the new hotel, and this is another evidence that it is to be tony and strictly first class. The new hotel will be opened to the public by the beginning of next season. Coxe, Eccles and Wadsworth are a team that can't be beat in the South. The Asheville Citizen, in speaking of the new enterprise says: "Battery Porter has been purchased by a company who are making all arrangements for the immediate erection of a large, elegant building, with all modern improvements and hotel appointments. Seventy-five thousand dollars will first be expended, to be increased as the occasion may require. The extensive grounds surrounding the hotel will be beautified and given all the attractions and comforts of an elegant park. The eminence gives the best views of the grand mountain ranges to be had immediately within the city; and altogether the new hotel will be such in all respects as to render it without a peer in the South. Notwithstanding the Asheville, we have long since recognized that the rapidly increasing demand, winters as well as summers. would necessitate the building of such a hotel, and we are truly gratified to state that it will soon be an active, livsented. Julius D Dreher is president | ing fact, and we trust a joy forever."

Gone to the Penitentiary. Mecklenburg's fall quets to the State penitentiary were sent off to Raleigh in charge of officers, last night. There were seven in all, and their names and sentences are as follows: Jack Brawley, sentenced by the Superior court to five years for an assault with intent to commit rape; A A White, colored,false pretense, five years; Morris Barrett colored, sheep stealing, two years; Jim Williams, colored, larceny, ten years; Chas Pritchard, white, larceny, two years; Dave Wade, colored, larceny, four years; Jno Owens, colored, larceny, four years. All were sentenced by the Inferior court, except the first named in the list.

An Accident on the Air Line. The passenger train due here yester day afternoon from Atlanta at 4.20 o'clock, came in an hour and a half late, the delay having been caused by an accident to the engine, while it was spinning along near Gastonia. The parallel rod that connected the driving wheels on the left side snapped in two and demolished that side of the engine Fireman Hartis to save himself leaped from the cab and struck the ground a considerable distance off, falling on his head and receiving painful injuries. Engineer Fogus remained at his post while the breken rod, revolving with the wheel was knocking the side of the engine to pieces. The engine did not leave the track and was shortly stopped, when it was found that she was too badly broken up to pull the train on to the city. A freight engine that was fortunately at Gastonia, was pressed into service and the train was pulled in safely, but considerably behind time As the train arrived at the depot here fireman Hartis alighted in a badly used up condition. His head was cut and it looked like all the scalp had been taken off the top. His injuries were attended to by a physician and he will soon be firing up again.

The North American Review For October presents a most attractive table of contents. Senator N P Hill writes of "Gold and Silver as Standards of Value," and maintains that silver should be coined as well as gold, not for the purpose of inflating the currency, neither in the interest of the silvermining industry, but for the broader and more equitable purpose of preserv-ing uniformity in the value of metallic money, and of preventing such contrac tion of the volume of money as would produce anancial disaster. In "Some Aspects of Democracy in England", A V Dicey makes clear to the American reader how it is that, while all the forms of monarchy and aristocracy persists in Britain, the democracy, or, in other words, public opinion, absolutely con-Under the title of "Co-operative Distri-bution," the Rev Dr R. A Congregation Turn Out and Catch a | The Inspection Postponed. Sunday night last while Rev Steele, colored, was preaching at his church near Sugar creek, his congregation was disturbed by a woman's shrieks, and everybody rushed out of the church to the residence near by of Sam Wallace, colored, where they found his wife in a state of great excitement. She said that some one had tried to burglarize the house, and the whole congregation started out to hunt the man. They soon captured a one legged negro named Jas McCopin, alias Morris, from Cabarrus county, and brought him to town before Esquire McNinch, who bound him over to court. McCopin had in his possession an axe, some crockery and a bucket of butter. Mr W A Roberts, who lives six miles from Charlotte, came to town and identified the axe as his property. His house had been plundered while he was at church, and a lot of provisions, besides the axe, were taken. McCopin will be tried before Justice McNinch on this charge next Saturday. McCopin has served a term in the penitentiary for horse stealing, and has a bad charac-

Opening of the Graded Schools. The city graded schools opened yesterday morning with eight hundred and forty scholars in attendance on the first roll call, about two hundred more than attended the opening last year. In the primary department of the white school, Prof Mitchell has fifty new scholars. Yesterday afternoon the new furniture ordered for the extra rooms at the white graded school arrived and the extra rooms are being fitted up to-day. This session, the grade has been increased and the efficiency of the school greatly enhanced. The Bingham scholarship, mentioned by us a few days ago, is a standing one and does not expire as long as our graded school lasts, so that there is a chance for a free scholarship in Bingham's school every year to some Charlotte boy. The cometition for this scholarship will be lively, as will be that among the girls for the Female Institute scholarship. The opening day found the school rooms fairly crowded and it looks like there is a probability of some children having to be left out for want of room. would be well for parents not to keep their children waiting, but to start them to school at once. Those who go now are at least safe for the session and stand in no danger of being crowded

Haif, Columbia ! A racket occurred in the State House at Columbia on the 15th, that will be interesting reading in Charlotte as the younger of the principals, the son of Col J P Thomas, has lived here and is well known by our people. A special to the Charleston News and Courier says that "Mr J P Thomas, Jr, the Governor's private secretary, was standing in the corridor of the State House in front of the Governor's office, quietly talking to two gentlemen about an absent friend, when Col James N Lipscomb, Secretary of State, came up and injected into the conversation an offensive remark about Mr Thomas' friend. Mr Thomas said, "Mr --- is my friend; you have a right to form your own opinion of him, Colonel, but I do not agree with you." Col Lipscomb thereupon renewed his assertion in a loud tone. Mr Thomas walked quietly into his office. Presently Col Lipscomb went to Mr Thomas' inner office and met him at the door, saying angrily, "You virtually said I lied just now." Mr Thomas replied, "No, I didn't. I merely took up for a friend." Col Lips-comb suddenly rushed forward and slapped Mr Thomas' face. Mr Thomas replied with several blows. They then grappled. Col Lipscomb weighs over 200 pounds and Mr Thomas is of slight build. In their struggle they moved to the other end of the office when Mr Thomas picked up an iron cup from the stove and was dealing his opponent energetic blows on the face with it when which thousands of dollars others came in and separated them. Col Lipscomb retired much battered and his face covered with blood. Mr Thomas was unhurt. The attack on Mr Thomas has caused much comment unfavorable to Secretary Lipscomb."

Benjamin Butler's Guests. Mrs Stonewall Jackson and daughter Julia, who are now in Boston, are the guests of Gen Ben Butler. On their arrival in that city they were met at the depot by Adjutant General Dalton, of his excellency's staff, and escorted to the Revere House, where they have since been entertained. The Boston Herald tells how they spent Sunday: Sunday merning at the breakfast table Governor Butler presided over quite a family party. On his left sat Governor Jarvis and wife and Lord Coleridge. On the right Mrs Jackson, Mr McGebee, Lieutenant J McCiellan and Miss Julia Jackson, while at the foot of the table was Mr J D Johnson. The Lord Chief. Justice had proposed attending worship at St Paul's church in the morning, but did not carry out his intention. Hon G Coleridge spent the day with Mr Sydney Bartlett. The rest of the party attended the new Old South church in the morning. Afterward the gentlemen, including Gov Butler and Lord Coleridge, on invitation of Judge Devens, partook of lunch at the Union Club, about twenty other gentlemen being inbution," the Rev Dr R Heber Newton gives an instructive historical sketch of the rise, progress and fluctuations of co-operative merchandizing in the United States during the past fifty years.
