THE LABOR QUESTION. Mr. F. B. Thurber, the Anti-Mone

Rr. F. S. Thurber, the Anti-Mempelaist, Gives His Views.

New York, Sept. 21.—The Senate sub-committee on labor and education, had before them as a witness to day Mr F B Thurber, the leader of the anti-monopoly league. The witness said he believed that the unsatisfactory state of the relations existing between capital and labor which prevailed to a considerable extent in this country was due to the enormous changes consequent upon the discovery and utilization of steam and electricity, which, within a comparatively few years had revolutionized all departments of production and commerce, and to a great extent the affairs of society in general. Within the last fifty years new forces have arisen for which the laws are entirely inadequate, and these have been allowed to be monopolized by a few; with these forces had come a tramendous development of machinery and corporate organization, all of which had conferred great benefit upon humanity is a whole, but the development had taken place without proper regulation, and a corps of attendant evils has sprung up in consequence. He did not attribute all the ills of society to the effects of this kind of monopoly. There were many causes—as land monopoly, currency monopoly, transportation monopoly, tariff monopoly, combination in trade monopoly—traxation, intemperance and ignorance, which have a bearing upon the problem. In regard to the carrying trade of the world, highways on land could be monopolized, while on the sea the exaction of the carrier could be held in check by competition; a majority of our law makers were interested directly or indirectly in corporate enterprises and the statutes were enacted in that interest. The witness also spoke of the uses of money in influencing legislation in favor of corporations, and said that so powerful was the influence they possessed that the offenders could not be punished. The State, if it had censtructed milroads would not have watered stock, discriminated against persons and places, corrupted elections, debauched courts and

LATAGENTS FOR THE PEARL SHIRT.

Old and Only in the Way.

"As we walk through the street, how often we meet, some ?
Poor old man, whose life is naught but woe;
With age his form is bent, in his pocket not a cent,
And for shelter do not know where to go.
With relations by the score, who keep him from the door,
And meeting on the street they pass them by;
If you ask them why it's done, they will answer you and say,—
'We're poor, we're old, and only in the way!'

There was a time I bear, when the young were not so queer,
But since that time there's come an awful change;
Young men in health and might, their old parents they will strike,
And it happens every day; it's nothing strange.
Take this poor wreck of toil, his children him do spurn,
For death I'm sure he oftentimes does pray:
Himself and faithful wife, after toiling all their life,
When old, they find that they are in the way!

"My little song, I'm sure, is for rich as well as poor,
For take a rich man when he's growing old;
His friends will shake his hand, his relations round him stand,
Awaiting him to die, they want his gold.
Then let us from this hour do all that's in our power
To make the road for old folks light and gay;
And if they trouble on us cast, why let this be our last
To say, that they are old, and in the way.
So let us cheer them on,
They won't be with us long.
Don't let us sneer because they're old and gray;
And remember while we're young
The days to us may come,
When we will be old and only in the way!"
