There are five hundred men in England who want to succeed Marwood as hangman. That number of applications have been made.

As an illustration of the scramble for a living that a large number of people in London have to make, a late writer says that there are in that city 300,000 families who are in the habit of purchasing small articles, and that over 6,000,000 of unrefined pledges are sold every year.

THE BOY KIDNAPER. A Crank Who has Raised a Sensation in Georgia and Alabama by Stealing Boys. The following is the story of the little boy Joe Allen who was stolen and carried away from his home by a man named Ogletree, who seems to have passion for kidnapping boys.

The Worn-out Street-Car Horse. The wretched beast staggers along with his heavy load, looking miserable, and feeling worse than he looks. The driver urges him onward with the whip, and perhaps swears at him a little to make him go faster.

Poor street-car horse! He was overworked and underfed. He had hard life of it. Now that he is gone, the company will put another horse in his place. The other horse will be overworked and worked to death in like manner. Cruel business.

There are many men who overwork and underfeed themselves. They are in as bad a way as the nearly-died street-car horse. Sometimes they do it from a sense of solemn duty and stern conscientiousness.

COVERS THE POINT. The New York Sun is one of the papers that don't count much on civil service reform while the Republican party is in power.

The Republican party must be turned out of power. Until that end is accomplished, all efforts to purify any part of the government by legislation, or commissions, or examinations in grammar, geography, history, or the use of the globe, are no more than idle talk.

Abuse and corruption have taken such deep root under Republican administrations that it is absolutely impossible to eradicate them while the Republican party is in power.

There can be no such thing as thorough civil service reform while the administration of the government remains in the hands of men who do and will continue to do all they can to defeat it.

All other questions are subordinate to this, and people whether they be Democrats or be known by some other political name, who deserve reform, should sink all other issues in this.

Home Life of the Farmer. Mrs. "Polly Perkins," of Abbeville, S. C. writes to the Southern Cultivator as follows: "Your article on 'The American Farmer, in the South,' has been read by me, and I am sure you may view on the value of Economy to a farmer's wife, not in saving the 'profits' of the farm, but in being a better housewife."

Cremation in England. Fall Mail Gazette. Dr Cameron gave notice in the House of Commons on Saturday of his intention to introduce a bill legalizing cremation.

A Costly Kiss. There is an end to a peculiar case of social indiscretion in Evansville, Indiana, involving the Rev. M. Thayer, for many years editor of the Journal of that city and postmaster, and a leading member of the Methodist Church, and a gentleman of high standing in the community.

People living along the lines of railroad between Louisville and Chicago have been reduced from Chicago to Indianapolis to fifty cents with the indications of a further reduction to ten cents.

The roll of Federal employees now being prepared will contain the names of 300,000 persons in the service of the government.
