A post was erected by the direction of the surveyors of the old roads of Kent, some years ago, bearing the following inscription: "This is a bride path to Favorsham; if you cannot read this, you had better keep the main road."

A cowardly fellow having kicked a newsboy for pestering him to buy an evening paper the lad waited till another boy accosted the "gentleman," and then shouted in the hearing of all bystanders; "It's no use to try, him, Jim; he can't read."

A Scotch minister told his neighbor that he spoke two hours and a half the Sunday previous. "Why, minister, were you not tired to death?" asked the neighbor.

"Aw, nae," said he, "I was as fresh as a rose; but it would have done your heart good to see how tired the congregation wa."

PIANO FORTES.

The last new addition to our different styles is attracting the admiration of both artists and populace. We mention specially, some of the claims of this new Piano. Believing the exterior should be as beautiful to the eye as melody to the ear, we have paid great attention to getting them up in a style that is conceded by all who have seen them to be the handsomest Piano-Forte made. They are an entirely new style, with four round corners, heavily carved legs and lyre, base, richly moulded, and contains our latest improved new scale and action. The tone is melodious, and its adaptability to passages of every shade of expression, from the softest murmur, to the Crescendo, and the FF, gives the performer every advantage of the Concert grand.
