Dunn, of Nebraska, and Greeted With Wild Applause—Governor Glenn Made the Longest of the Seconding Speeches—When Result of Ballot Showed Bryan to Be Victorious a Motion to Make the Nomination Unanimous Was Put and Carried With Great Demonstrations of Noisy Enthusiasm.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.

Immediately a pandemonium of sound and motion was unloosed, as delegates and spectators rose en masse and joined in the reverberating chorus of tribute to the Nebraska candidate. The standards of the State were wrenched from their places and borne through the hall to the platform, while banners bearing the portrait of the commoner were waved aloft, and the multitude joined in long continued tributes. At times the intensity of the demonstration threatened a panic. One woman was borne out fainting.

IGNATIUS J. DUNN'S ADDRESS. Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Convention:—Crises arise in the life of nations which endanger their institutions, and at times imperil the advance of civilization. Every people that has left its impress upon history has faced such crises. In most instances where the safety of the State, some great character, some master mind has been found, produced as it were by the conditions themselves, with capacity to direct and to inspire the energies of the people. This was true of the ancient world; it has been true of the modern world; it is true of this republic. We have such a crisis to meet to-day. The favoring winds of progress have gradually strengthened their hold upon the government until they now menace popular institutions. The question is, whether this government shall be restored to the control of the people and administered in the interest of all, or whether it shall remain an instrument in the hands of the few for leasing tribute upon all the rest.

Convention Hall, Denver, July 10.—At 3:30 o'clock this morning William J. Bryan, of Nebraska, was for the third time chosen to head the Democratic national ticket. The nomination was made at the first ballot, only 114 votes being cast against the Nebraska. The nomination was then made unanimous amid wild applause. Immediately following the nomination the convention adjourned until 1 o'clock to-day, when it will reconvene to nominate a Vice President.

The nomination followed a night of speech-making under the strain of which the delegates betrayed their weariness. Ignatius J. Dunn, of Omaha, Neb., placed Mr. Bryan in nomination and there were more than a dozen seconding speeches, the lengthiest of which was that of Governor Robert B. Glenn, of North Carolina. The nominating speeches began shortly after the convention convened at 7 o'clock and continued, with only sufficient intermission to hear the reading of the platform, which was adopted unanimously, until 3 o'clock this morning. There was no discussion on the platform, and the rules were suspended pending its submission to begin the nominating speeches in order to save time.

The only work now before the convention is the nomination of a Vice President and this work will be completed to-day. Who will be Bryan's running mate is a question that cannot be answered at this time. This is the only real contest before the convention and how long it will take to fight it out remains to be seen.

A RECORD DEMONSTRATION. The speech placing William J. Bryan in nomination awakened a whirlwind of demonstration rivaling in intensity and duration the record-breaking tributes of yesterday. The names of George Gray, of Delaware, and Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, were also placed in nomination with demonstrations of approval from their limited following. The tide of sentiment was unmistakably and overwhelmingly in favor of the Nebraska candidate and overshadowed his nomination before the session closed.

The platform committee was not ready to report when the evening session began, and after listening to political oratory, the rules of procedure were suspended and the convention proceeded with the speeches placing the candidates for President in nomination with the understanding that the usual vote would be deferred until the platform had been adopted.

DUNN STIRS AUDIENCE. The speech placing William J. Bryan in nomination was made by Ignatius J. Dunn, of Nebraska, a youthful orator of fire and eloquence, whose closing phrase stirred the vast assemblage into wild demonstrations. "I nominate," he exclaimed, "as the standard bearer of our party, the man who in the thrilling days of '96 and 1900 bore the battle-scarred banner of Democracy with fame as untarnished as the crusaders of old America's great commoner, Nebraska's gifted son, William J. Bryan."

TO LAUNCH THE SOUTH CAROLINA

Big Sister Ship of the New Michigan. Named in Honor of the Palmetto State, to be Launched at Cramp's Shipyard To-Morrow. Washington, July 10.—Another mighty battleship will be added to Uncle Sam's navy to-morrow, when the South Carolina, a sister ship of the new Michigan, will be launched at the Cramp shipyards at Philadelphia. Imposing ceremonies will mark the event. Later the vessel will go to Charleston, S. C., where the people of the State for which it is named will hold a great celebration.

The South Carolina and Michigan represent the initial attempt of the United States naval officials to construct a type of vessel, the principal object of which is the carrying of as many guns of even calibre as her displacement will permit. The new ship, like the Michigan, has a displacement of 16,000 tons, making it slightly less powerful than the vessels of the British Dreadnaught type, which have 17,000 tons. It is alleged by experts, however, that the South Carolina will be able to fire as many guns broadside as can be fired from the five turrets of the Dreadnaught.

To Celebrate Battle. Sulphur, Okla., July 9.—Confederate veterans from all over the Southwest will gather here on August 10th, to celebrate the anniversary of the battle of Oak Hill, or Wilson Creek, in Missouri, the first clash and the first great victory for the Confederate forces west of the Mississippi. At this meeting the Oklahoma and Indian Territory divisions of the United Confederate Veterans will be merged into a single state division.

WHAT BRYAN SAYS.

If Elected He Will Not Again Be a Candidate. Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., July 10.—When the news of his nomination reached Mr. Bryan he said: "The presidency is the highest official position in the world, and no one occupying it can afford to have his views upon public questions biased by personal ambition. Recognizing his responsibility to God and his obligation to his countrymen, he should enter upon the discharge of his duties with singleness of purpose. Believing that one can best do this when he is not planning for a second term, I announce now, as I have on former occasions, that if elected I shall not be a candidate for re-election." Then Mr. Bryan added: "This nomination is as pure a nomination from the people as was ever made. If elected, my obligation will be to the people. I appreciate the honor, the more, because it came not from one person or a few persons, but from the rank and file of the Democratic party acting freely and without compulsion."

NOBLES OF THE MYSTIC SHRINE

Annual Session of the Imperial Council. St. Paul, Minn., July 10.—Nearly $100,000 will be expended within the next week in entertaining the 60,000 Shriners and visitors who are expected to attend the thirty-fourth annual session of the Imperial Council, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. Already several hundred visitors have arrived, but the influx will not commence in earnest until to-morrow, when the special trains will begin to pour their hosts into the city. The work of decoration has been completed, and from the railway station to the auditorium, the principal streets are a blaze of color. All the shrine sessions will be held in the auditorium, recently completed by the citizens of the city and turned over to the municipality for public use. The building is particularly well adapted for the use of visiting nobles, and its enormous stage, one of the largest in the world, will afford space for unusual displays and ceremonial effects. The formal seating capacity of the new structure is greater than that of Madison Square Garden, and with stage floors which can be readily put in place, the building can be made to furnish comfortable seats for every Shiner present at the big convention. Local nobles have planned a week of elaborate entertainment of the visitors, including many excursions to nearby lake resorts, receptions, balls and other special features. The Arab patrols will be one of the features of the week, and the Shriners electrical parade will be one of the important evening events. During the week the visitors will be entertained on an excursion to the Mississippi, on which St. Paul is the head of navigation.

Georgia Suffragettes.

Atlanta, Ga., July 10.—Women of the Cracker State who favor equal rights are to-day testifying to the faith that is in them, the occasion being the second day's session of the Georgia Woman's Suffrage Association. The speakers include several suffragettes of prominence, among them Miss Laura Clay, of Lexington, Ky., one of the leaders of the movement in the United States. Governor E. H. Smith was congratulated by the suffragettes for having appointed a woman as State librarian, the only State office in Georgia which is open to the fair sex.

Hearst Dreaming Again.

Chicago, July 10.—That the Hearst Independence Party will poll a million votes this fall is the claim of the national leaders gathered here to-day for a sub-committee meeting. It is declared that this vote will be drawn from the ranks of the Democratic party and will render certain the election of Taft. The Hearst party will place a ticket in the field in every State. The national convention will open here two weeks from Monday.

FOR CONQUEST OF HOLY LAND

American Zionists in Convention in Atlantic City.—Prominent Hebrew Scholars and Men of Affairs in Attendance. Atlantic City, N. J., July 10.—To formulate plans for a peaceful conquest of the Holy Land, and the restoration of the chosen people to the country now held by the usurpers, the hosts of Mohammed, is the object of the eleventh annual convention of the Federation of American Zionists, opening to-day for a session of six days. Some of the most prominent Hebrew scholars and men of affairs in America are here and will address the delegates, who represent about 400 societies in different cities of the United States and Canada. Aside from considerations of the future, when the dream of the restoration of Palestine to the Jewish people will pay much attention to the practical work of Jewish colonization in Palestine which is now being carried on. The political phase of the international movement, in its relation to negotiations with the Turkish government, will also be fully discussed. Officers for the coming year will be elected.

RALEIGH NEWS AND GOSSIP

A Day's Budget From the State Capital. BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT. Superior Court to Convene on Monday; No Capital Case Yet Docketed.—Little Interest Manifested in Denver Convention.—But Coming Republican Convention in Charlotte, However, Arouses Much Speculation as to Candidates.—Baseball Matters Discussed.—Miscellaneous Items Practically Completed. Special to The Chronicle. Raleigh, July 10.—A two weeks' term of Superior Court for the trial of criminal cases will convene here Monday with Judge Walter H. Neal, of Laurinburg, on the bench. Of the 120 cases docketed up to to-day, none of them is a capital case. It is probable, however, that two negroes will be tried for murder this term. Larceny is the crime most of the defendants are charged with.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES. There is some real interest in the Denver convention, but this cannot be said of what the Republicans will do when they assemble in Charlotte. Local Republicans claim that they will make big gains in the Legislature and declare if the right man is nominated he will be elected Governor. Who the right man is, however, they do not agree on. Some say he is Dr. Cyrus W. Thompson, of Onslow; others that he is ex-Judge W. P. Bynum, Jr., of Greensboro; and still others that he is Prof. J. Brantley of Sunbeam. They do not think much of Col. John W. Fries, of Winston-Salem, because he is not enough of the politician. Dr. Thompson is a campaigner and there are few men in the State who are better debaters. He, they say, would ask Mr. Kitchin for the "pleasure of his company," and would talk to the Democratic nomination in the Legislature, legislation, etcetera. Dr. Thompson seems to be the favorite in Raleigh.

INTERESTED IN BASEBALL. Although Newbern hopped out of the Eastern Carolina League informally, interest in the game has by no means flagged. There are now four clubs in the association and each of these has a strong team. Wilson exhibited more strength in the first series and led the other clubs with ease. Raleigh, however, has added to her team and will go in the game with Wilson this afternoon with a hefty bunch. Wilmington also has a good team and Goldeboro will be in the running.

THE MASONIC TEMPLE. Masons throughout the State will read with pleasure that the Masonic Temple is practically completed. It but remains for the rubbish to be hauled away and a few finishing touches to be administered before the structure will be ready for its occupants. Most of the rooms have already been leased. The Carolina Drug Company is now installing a supply of drugs and will be established by the end of the month. The Raleigh Savings Bank is preparing to locate here and it will have the choice location.

Soldier-Rioters Arrested. Washington, July 9.—As the result of a serious riot late Tuesday night at Riverview, a resort on the Maryland side of the Potomac, about 14 miles below here, 25 privates of the United States army are under arrest at Fort Washington, Md., and Captain Edward Macon, who endeavored to suppress the outbreak, suffered a broken arm and many of the rioters sustained painful injuries. The participants may be court-martialed.

Potters Begin Convention. Atlantic City, N. J., July 10.—Delegates from the various locals of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters in this country are gathered here for the opening session and immediately settled down to the transaction of the business which will occupy their attention during the next week or ten days. At the opening session reports were presented by National President Thomas J. Duffey, of East Liverpool, O.; Vice President Frank Hutchens, of Trenton, N. J.; and Secretary Mervyn Wood, of Wood. Seventy-one resolutions will be introduced and passed upon by the delegates. Most of these deal with the inner workings of the organization and do not affect the wage scale.
