PRETTY GIRL WAS LURED FROM HOME

"White Slave" Dealer is Sent Up by Chicago Court—Young Girl's Testimony Convicts Him—Other Case to Be Heard.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—A pitiful story of a beautiful girl snatched from the streets of Paris and lured to the United States to-day resulted in the conviction of Henry Lair, charged by the government with promoting "white slave" traffic in this country.

Marie Peuroy, 19 years old, is the chief witness for the government. When 14 years of age, she said, she met in the streets of Paris, Jules Dufour, who later introduced her to Louis Paynt, now in the government prison at Atlanta, Ga. Paynt induced her to come to America and brought her to Chicago, where she was turned into the hands of Lair, who came from San Francisco.

WHITE MAN GIVES BLOOD TO NEGRESS

Blood of a White Man is Transferred to a Negress in an Effort to Save Her Life.

New York, Feb. 1.—What is believed to be the first case of blood transfusion from a white man to a negress was reported to-night at Bellevue Hospital.

The patient, Julia Herring, a 27-year-old negress, was brought to the hospital suffering from internal hemorrhages. The surgeons in attendance decided that the only hope of saving her life lay in the transfusion of new bloods.

Several offered their blood and Gustav Labrink, 25 years old, employed at the hospital as a messenger, was chosen for the operation.

The negress, the surgeons report, rallied almost after the operation, but late to-night she died.

WOMAN KILLED BY STRAY SHOT

Brother of Mayor Busse of Chicago, Fires Revolver Accidentally and the Shot Pierces the Heart of Mrs. Lucius Tuckerman.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—While admitting that the shooting was accidental, the coroner and police to-day began a further investigation of the death of Mrs. Lucius Tuckerman, killed last night by a bullet from the pistol of George A. Busse, brother of the mayor.

Among the first witnesses called was Miss Bertha Lambke, the maid to whom Busse says he was showing the revolver when the weapon exploded. The bullet crashed through the window of the Busse home and then through the window of the Tuckerman home, piercing the heart of Mrs. Tuckerman as she stood before the mirror arranging her hair.

Brigadier General Alfred Griad, father of Mrs. Tuckerman, said to-day that no warrant would be issued for the arrest of Busse. Mayor Busse to-day says if the police think it necessary his brother will be placed under arrest. General Griad and the family of Mrs. Tuckerman expressed sympathy with Busse, and expressed the belief that the shooting was accidental. Busse was not taken into custody.

The Guild administration will probably go down in history as marking the greatest advances ever made in placing humanitarian and sociological laws upon the statute books of Massachusetts. Among these are laws providing medical inspection in the public schools and in the factories, prohibition of the sale of poisonous patent medicines, more complete care for feeble-minded children, opening factories and shops to truant officers for the detection of children illegally at work, prohibition of night work for women and children, enforcement of ventilation in factories, requiring medical and surgical supplies to be kept in factories and a free employment bureau.

HOW THE GERM IS FOUND IN BLOOD

Simple Test For Locating the Germ Proves a Success—Governor Told by the Surgeon—Red Spots on Blue Glass Slides Indicate Presence of Tuberculosis.

To-day's American Journal of the Medical Sciences, which contains Rosenberg's personal description of his work in the discovery of tuberculosis germ, says: "By far the most unusual feature of the technique of the discoverer is his absolute freedom from puzzling scientific terms which would tend to confuse the lay mind, and the fact that any physician possessing a microscope and the requisite chemical reagents required in locating the tuberculosis germ can arrive at the same definite conclusions as Dr. Rosenberg himself."

"A patient suspected of having tuberculosis germs in his blood is brought before his physician and a tourniquet is bound tightly about his arm in order to bring the veins into prominence. From any vein of sufficient size at the elbow the blood is drawn with a hypodermic syringe, after the stain at the spot selected has been first sterilized chemically to insure the removal of every possible means of infection or contamination from the stain itself."

"After twenty-four hours' time the blood is settled in the vial, and this sediment, which has gone to the bottom of the flask, is drawn through a siphon-like tube through a hollow glass tube. Being spread upon small glass slides, this blood is dried on a small strip of metal, held firmly in place by a small, even gas flame. Thoroughly dry, it is almost indestructible except through dredging of the glass slide itself."

"These slides are next immersed in distilled water, and the water corpuscles are removed by this means. "Immersed in carbol fuchsin for five minutes, the entire slide is stained red, immersed again for five minutes in what is known as Fappenheim's solution, the entire slide is stained blue, with the exception of the tuberculosis germ itself, which remains red."

"There is the entire Rosenberg secret. Under the microscope these red germs are revealed against the blue field."
