In the Handsome Art Building is Gathered One of the Most Representative Collections Ever Seen in This Country.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 3.—There will soon be gathered together the most representative art collection ever seen in this country and the building to house this valuable collection of pictures is one of the handsomest structures on the grounds of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle.

restless waters of the cascades and the flashing foam of "Old Faithful," the reproduction of its namesake in Yellowstone Park. Its location is the most central of any of the exposition buildings and its architectural design is especially fitting for the position it has been given.

States and Europe, who have for years made the collection of famous old paintings their hobby. Paris and London have made large loans. At the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition the selection of pictures will be limited to the works of men who have been recognized in the great art competitions in all parts of the world.

G. L. Berg, art director of the exposition, has visited all of the leading galleries of the United States, collecting the pictures suitable for display at Seattle and writes that the pictures already loaned will constitute one of the greatest art displays ever assembled for international exhibition.

The Fine Arts building is a fire proof structure and was one of the first buildings completed on the exposition grounds. It cost more than $200,000 to erect the buildings.

Latta Park Theatrical Season Opens Monday. It will be interesting to the theatre-going public to learn that the opening attraction at Latta Park Monday night will be "Jolly James" Mackey, in a new version of the jolly good play "Jim's Cellar Door," in which he is depicted by Nat Goodwin in drama.

Boy. A pleasing story is interwoven in the play and Mr. Mackey has surrounded himself with a capable company in his support. Humorous musical numbers are introduced, among them being some of Mr. Mackey's original successes, all of which are said to be tuneful and catchy.

THE HILL O' DREAMS

My grief! for the days by an' done, When I was a young girl straight an' Comin' alone at set o' sun Up the high hillroad from Cushendall. I thought the miles no hardship then, Nor the road long weary to my feet— For the thrushes sang in the cool deep glen An' the evenin' air was cool an' sweet.

Countess in America. NEW YORK, June 5.—Among the arrivals from England to-day was the Countess of Aberdeen, president of the International Council of Women and leader in the anti-tuberculosis campaign in Ireland.

Houses For Messina. ROME, June 5.—With the shipment to-day of several hundred American wooden houses to Messina, a total of over 2,000 such temporary structures are now in use in caring for the sufferers from the earthquake last December.

Albert E. Herpin, Trenton's "sleepless wonder," has turned inventor. He says his wakefulness has made his fortune. He has invented a process for underglaze photography, by which he asserts he can reproduce portraits on chinaware at about the same cost as placing a photograph on paper.

WARM REPLY TO ATTACKS ON CUBA

Envoy at Washington Denies Extravagance—Alarm Expressed, However, at State Department—The Island's Sanitary Campaign is Neglected

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Because of persistent reports that conditions in Cuba are unsatisfactory and that President Taft is concerned about the financial affairs of the island, General Carlos Garcia Velez, the Cuban minister to the United States, made a statement on political and financial conditions on his country. He strongly intimates that many of the attacks are inspired by "an organized movement to misrepresent, and he produces facts and figures relative to the Cuban financial situation which he believes will speak for themselves.

ence of that fever, which had been stamped out by the American experts. The Cuban government has not issued the bonds for this loan yet, and what sanitary work it has done has been paid for out of current treasury funds. But this work has been confined to Havana and the country in its immediate vicinity.

There appears to be an organized movement to misrepresent in this country Cuban affairs and to spread alarm through the United States with a view of arousing public opinion against the Cuban government. The Cuban government would not have abolished the said tax, which is not a burden on the people of the republic, because it is paid by the foreign purchasers of our sugars, tobacco, cigarettes, etc., and in case of an emergency the export tax can be again enforced.

The epoch of extravagance upon which the Gomez government has embarked renders it practically certain that the sanitary loan cannot now be floated. No capitalists are likely to be found willing to risk their money in the hands of such a government. There are indications, however, that the Cuban executive has found other means of securing money. It came out to-day that the Marcano telephone concession had been renewed, although it is reported to have been given, without the formality of advertising for bids. A concession of this kind met with the disapproval of the provisional government, after the firm which had secured it had borrowed $750,000 in English bonds issued on the strength of the concession and had secured a contract for a further loan of $500,000 on similar security.

America Does Not Favor Peru. SANTIAGO, Chile, June 5.—The Mercurio publishes a semi-official statement on the relations existing between Chile and Peru, in which it contradicts a report in circulation that the State Department at Washington has made a declaration in favor of Peru. The Mercurio points out that such a course would be contrary to the attitude of cordiality maintained by the United States equally towards both nations. The journal declares the visit of President Montt to the northern part of the republic was made merely to investigate the administrative requirement of that section of the country. The statement concludes with the assertion that the Chilean Congress and people are determined to observe the existing treaties with Peru regarding the Tacna and Arica question.

"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and find it to be the best on the market," says E. W. Tardy, editor of The Sentinel, Gainsboro, Tenn. "Our baby had several colds the past winter and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always gave it relief at once and cured it in a short time. I always recommend it when opportunity presents itself."
