J. G. Criswell, a painter living at 530 North Mulberry St., Hagerstown, Md., states: "I had kidney trouble with a severe pain across my back, and could hardly get up after sitting down. I took Foley Kidney Pills and soon found the pain left my back. I could get up and down with ease, and the bladder action was more regular and normal." Try them. Bowen's Drug Store.

AMUSEMENTS

Della Clarke in "Introduce Me." Laughter, romance and heart interest are the ingredients that have been employed by Della Clarke in her new comedy, "Introduce Me," to be seen at the Academy of Music Saturday afternoon and night.

"The Winning Widow." "The Winning Widow," which will appear at the Academy of Music next Monday afternoon and night, is a splendid musical comedy entitled "At Home and Abroad" and is a musical comedy in two acts. There are several principals who furnish the fun, songs and specialties, and they are backed up by a beautiful chorus handsomely gowned.

Novel Parade is Promised. Something entirely new in the way of circus parades will be seen in Charlotte on Friday, October 25, with Ringling Bros.' World's Greatest Shows. The peoples of a hundred nations and tribes will be observed. A large menagerie will be displayed in open dens, fifty corps of musicians from savage tom-tom players to modern brass bands, will furnish the music and teams of camels, llamas, elephants and zebras will be driven like horses. An endless panorama of world wonders will be unfolded before the eyes.

In originating and building this year's street spectacle, the Ringling brothers have far surpassed all former records. Hundreds of Italian and French artists and property builders worked last winter in the foreign shops of the show at Stoke-on-Trent, England, to turn out this parade. Only the best of materials were used. The wagons, dens, chariots and floats are hand-carved. The costumes were designed in France. The flags, banners, scarfs and standards are from the looms of Japan.

The parade is three miles long. It displays handsome horses and two-thirds of the elephants in America. There are 1,200 men, women and children in the line. Among them are Oriental rajahs, ambers, pashas, caliphs, sheiks, barbarian chiefs and savage despots. The grandeur of empires and kingdoms is reflected by retinues in regal floats, sumptuous coaches of state, gorgeous chariots, and palanquins and richly decorated howdahs.

In the children's section there are pumpkin carriages, floating bubbles of silken netting and aerial clouds, peopled with the characters of fairyland. All the myths of Mother Goose-land are to be seen. There are golden barges, ships of war and aeroplanes. The fete-day scenes of quaint countries are reproduced.

The performance in the main tent is in keeping with the street spectacle. The acts take place in three rings, on two stages, on the race-course and in the dome of the tent. The talent of the world is there assembled. There are 75 artists. Of these 300 were selected last winter by the foreign agents of the show from the amphitheatres of Asia, England and the European continent. There are 50 clown among them. They are as funny a band of fellows as ever cracked a merry jest.

Here is a woman who speaks from personal knowledge and long experience, viz., Mrs. E. H. Brogan, of Wilson, Pa., who says, "I know from experience that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is far superior to any other. For croup there is nothing that excels it." For sale by all dealers.

You Can't Do Better, Sam than take a few shares right now with Ed Keesler in the Mutual. You promised a year ago to take 10 shares, but four series have opened, and most of our friends went in and are delighted, yet we are still out, and are poorer than when we were married. "Well, Mollie, I'll take some next year, but I'll not do it with Keesler, I'll go into the Virginia or Alabama concern. They're not always giving us rot about home, and the babies, the nest egg, rainy days. What are my kind--not advising us how to conduct our private affairs, what kind of liquor to drink, cussing out a fellow if he gets behind in his accounts, or has a little pleasure in life." "LISTEN TO ME, SAM!" Before marriage and since you've done little but "have your little pleasure." God knows you've not supported me or your children. If I had taken advice of this same Ed Keesler I'd never have married you and might today be happy instead of the miserable creature you've made me. Now, I've taken my first stand, I'm going into the Mutual today. From this hour I cease to support you, and I'll have a home for my little ones or die in the attempt. I'll get it through the Mutual, which makes homes possible, and which is eternally and everlastingly fighting the things that destroy them." The Almighty's with Mollie, boys, and no human agency can beat that combination. E. L. KEESLER, Sec. & Treas. Phone 344 25 S. Tryon Street

MR. W. C. DAVIS OF FARMVILLE DEAD The following from The Farmville Herald, Farmville, Va., is the account of the death of Mr. W. C. Davis, father of Mrs. A. C. Porter of this city, Mr. Stanley Davis of Greensboro and Mr. Frank Davis of Bristol, Tenn. Capt. W. C. Davis, brother of Mr. S. Baxter Davis, and well known to many of the citizens of Farmville, died at his home in Crewe on Sunday night last and was buried in the town cemetery on Tuesday, services being conducted by his pastor, Rev. Mr. Franklin, the other ministers of the town taking part. The funeral was an impressive one, being attended by many officials of the Norfolk & Western and an unusually large concourse of friends. For 40 years the deceased served that company efficiently, honestly and well and only retired from service on account of ill health. No man enjoyed more of the confidence and respect of the people of Crewe, was a valuable member of the town council and will be remembered as the good citizen, the kindly neighbor, the consistent Christian. His epitaph can be condensed in this brief but comprehensive sentence: "Well done, good and faithful servant."

OFFICE OF Mechanics' Perpetual Building & Loan Association Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 25, 1912. WE APPRECIATE Very much the confidence of this community, another testimonial of whose good-will we have had in the sale of 2,500 shares in our last series—the 60th. This means $250,000 added to the wealth of the community and is a gratifying endorsement of our record, of the continuance of which we are jealous. Our books are still open and we welcome new shareholders, whether large or small. Impartiality in all our dealings is and has always been our rule and our smallest shareholder can feel sure of equal consideration with the largest. We are strictly mutual and have no favorites. We hope to make this series one of our largest and cordially invite the whole community to help us make this an accomplished fact. Our books will be open until December 1st, and applications for loans will be received at any time until that date. Again expressing our appreciation of your continued confidence and help, we are Yours very truly J. H. WEARN, President R. E. COCHRANE, Sec. & Treas.
