Boston Confident Of Closing Scenes Of Struggle For World Title

GIANTS HAVE NOT LOST SPIRIT OF CONFIDENCE

Optimists Believe That Manager McGraw Will Return Marquard to the Mound While Collins Is the Probable Twirler for the Triumphant Sox—Weather Prediction Is Favorable and Hosts Began to Gather on the Field Early

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Partisans of the New York Giants who went to the Polo Grounds early today prepared to witness a last ditch struggle with the Boston Red Sox in the fight for the world's baseball championship.

Of the five games played Boston has won three and needs only one more victory. New York has a single victory and the mixed satisfaction of one tie game. To win the series McGraw's men must capture—barring everything remaining game.

Although the sky was overcast this morning the prediction for the day was fair weather.

Giants Still Confident. There were plenty among the Giants supporters who expected confidently to see the team embrace the big championship.

"We'll be up here again Wednesday and beat you fellows out in the deciding game," was their retort to Boston when they were taking an unexpected brace when it looked as if they were just about down and out was pointed to as a reason why Boston's hopes of adding the series today stood a good chance of being shattered.

Boston's "come back" of 1903 when with three games gone the team found itself and took four straight from Pittsburgh, was cited as a basis for Giant hopes.

The attitude of the big delegation of Boston fans here for the game was entirely different. On the basis of results accomplished they believed that this day would see the struggle ended.

"Tessie is good for another one," a Bostonian shouted, alluding to the song of the Hub "rooters" which they claim has jinxed the Giants in the series.

Sentiments similar to those of the fans were voiced by the rival managers.

Playing Below Form. "The club has been playing far below its form," said Manager McGraw. "To win three straight or lose the series looks like a hard contest but I believe, as do the men of the team, that we can do it."

Manager Stahl of the Red Sox naturally was in a cheerful mood. "Everything apparently is in our favor and of course we expect to win," he said.

"The men believe they have the Giants on the run, but even a defeat for us today would leave us still two more chances to clinch the championship."

If the Giants were to take a brace today there was general agreement that they were due to start with the fielding end of the game. Errors, they say, have cost at least two of the games for the local men.

Wagner's work in cutting off hits has been particularly brilliant. The miscues by the Boston fielders have, with an exception or two, not been costly.

"Rube" Marquard was McGraw's indicated choice for the box today, although the manager made his usual reservation in favor of another boxman should the Boston selection, in his opinion, warrant a switch.

The big left hander has delivered the only game won by the Giants and he has had a good rest. Marquard at the top of his form, such as he showed in Boston last Thursday, would be a selection, that Boston, in McGraw's opinion, would find it hard to match even with Joe Wood going at his best.

The Lineup Given. But it was not at all certain during the forenoon that Wood would pitch. It looked as if either Ray Collins or Burt O'Brien might be Stahl's box selection. From a purely sporting standpoint many fans hoped it would be Collins against Marquard—a left handed pitching duel that promised a treat.

The batting order was:

- Boston. Snodgrass rf. Verkes 2b. Doyle 2b. Speaker cf. Becker cf. Lewis lf. Murrey 1f. Gardner 3b. Merkle 1b

SENATOR WORKS WILL SUPPORT MR. WILSON

The Progressive Republican Denounces Third Party Tactics Employed In California

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—In an extended statement given out by Senator John D. Works of California, a Progressive Republican, comes out openly for Woodrow Wilson and advises all Progressives to vote for the Democratic candidate for President.

In announcing his intention to vote for Governor Wilson, Senator Works says he does in effect throw all personal ambition to the winds; that the Progressives of California, his former friends, have already denounced him as a traitor and are urging him to resign his seat in the Senate.

"Wilson is a real and sincere progressive," said Senator Works. "He has proven it by his course and conduct as a public officer and as a candidate. He is running on a sane progressive platform. Nothing of benefit to progressive principles or honest politics can be gained by voting for either Taft or Roosevelt. The best service Progressive Republicans can render to their party, and to their country, under these unfortunate circumstances, is to vote for Wilson. It will help to teach dishonest manipulators of politics a wholesome lesson. If you do you will be denounced as a Democrat by the Republicans, and as a traitor to the Progressive cause by the Progressives as I have been already."

You may lose all chance of future political preferment. You may make so many political enemies by being honest and standing by your conscientious convictions that you cannot be elected to any office. You may be made the victim of personal abuse because you have stood for the truth and for common honesty. But all these things count for nothing as against the abiding conviction that you have done what you sincerely believed to be right. What we need in politics, just now, more than anything else, is courage; courage to stand firmly for right, honesty and justice. Nothing else will do so much as this to purify politics, drive out of it all selfish privilege seekers, dishonest politicians and corrupt bosses, and protect the rights and interests of the people.

The regular Republicans, so-called will take the same course if they are wise. Taft cannot carry California. Everybody knows that. Therefore a vote for him is worse than a vote thrown away. It is a vote for Roosevelt and the destruction of the Republican party in the State. With the new party scheme defeated the Republican party can be reunited as a progressive party as it was before some of its members were led away from it into a sham Progressive party by men who assume to be its leaders, and who care more for political success than for the honor of any party.

All good people in California should unite in the effort to rebuke the men who have resorted to this scheme of dishonest politics and to defeat every candidate who has received his nomination by any such means, be the office for which he is a candidate high or low. This is a time to test the sincerity of people who profess to believe in honesty in politics.

The Senator adds that no kind of sophistry or evasion can conceal the fact that the methods by which the Progressive party secured control of California was fraudulent. "It is pitiful," said he, "that a great movement for reform in politics in California that has achieved so much and promised so much more should have been brought to this sorry pass."

"The merits of the respective candidates or their parties," continues the statement, "have nothing to do with the question. It is a question of common honesty and justice. It is to be regretted that the law of the State did not allow the Progressive party a place on the primary ballot."

Stahl lb.....Herzog 2b. Wagner ss.....Meyers c. O'Brien p.....Marquard p.

A switch was to be expected with Devore back in the lineup if Stahl's final choice, instead of Collins, was Wood or another right handed hurler.

There was no more trouble about getting seats today than on any preceding day of the series. The early crowds were easily accommodated and later comers found plenty of space.

There was general interest in the announcement that should the Giants win today the National Commission had ruled that a coin be tossed to decide the place of the next game.

If New York should win the game, and also the toss, a set of tickets already prepared will be placed on sale by the local club—the upper stand seats to be reserved and sold under restriction in advance; the lower stand seats to be disposed of at the gates.

WEBBER CALLED IN BECKER CASE

Keeper Of Rendezvous Where Alleged Murderers Met Takes The Stand

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Aiming to corroborate and strengthen the testimony of "Bald Jack" Rose, the State today was ready to call "Bridgie" Webber to the stand when the trial of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, charged with the murder of Herman Rosenthal, was resumed. Rose testified that it was at Webber's gambling establishment that the gunmen met just before the murder.

No inkling of his plans has been given by the defense. John F. McIntyre, chief counsel for Becker, intimated last night that he might not call any witnesses at all, simply letting the State's case go to the jury and attempt to brand it as incomplete.

The defense has a number of witnesses under subpoena, however, and no definite announcement that these will not be called has been made.

After his rest over Sunday Becker appeared somewhat refreshed when he came into court today. As heretofore, his wife sat near him. The jury, too, had a quiet Sunday and a refreshing automobile ride.

Sheehan Is Called. Winfield S. Sheehan, secretary of Police Commissioner Waldo, was the first witness called. His appearance was a distinct surprise.

Sheehan, a former newspaper man, was asked to identify his signature on a communication addressed to Becker and attached thereto were letters identified by the witness as having been in his opinion written by Becker.

On the ground that the witness had given only his "opinion" as to the authenticity of Becker's signature, defense counsel objected to the introduction of the papers in evidence. Justice Goff sustained the objection.

"Bridgie" Webber on Stand. "Bridgie" Webber was sworn. He had known Herman Rosenthal and Jack Rose for 15 years. Becker, he had known for two years, having first met him in Jack Rose's place, and the next time in front of Webber's poker rooms.

"He used to come to my place often," said Webber. "Did you ever have conversation with Becker about Rosenthal."

"Yes, with Harry Vallon and Jack Rose, the latter part of June. Becker said 'The is trying to do me in every way. He's trying to see Waldo, the commissioner, and now he's going to Whitman. That has got to be stopped; he's got to be croaked before he gets to Whitman.'"

"I said, 'Charley, that's a pretty dangerous thing to do, to murder a man.'"

"That's all right," said Becker. "He's got to be stopped."

"Bridgie" told of a subsequent meeting with Becker.

"What are you doing to about that Rosenthal?" Becker said to me," Webber testified.

"He's doing me; he's got to be croaked."

"I said, 'Charley, he's going to be taken care of. You're liable to see it in the papers any day.'"

Becker Insistent. The witness then told of meeting Rose and telling him of Becker's insistence that "the job" be done. Webber described the inception of the murder plot. Rose had agreed to get the four gunmen together at his poker rooms on the night of July 15. On that night he (Webber) saw Becker and Jack Sullivan at a prize fight, left them and went to his poker rooms.

"Lefty" Louie, Jack Rose, Harry Vallon, "Gyp the Blood," Sam Schepps and "Dago" Frank appeared on the scene," Becker said.

"Rose asked me if I knew where Rosenthal was," Webber testified.

"I went to the Metropole and saw Rosenthal all there. I came back to my place and said, 'Rosenthal is in the Metropole.' Then they all got up but Rose went out."

Congratulated Them. "Bridgie" said he met Becker after the murder near his poker rooms with Jack Rose and Jack Sullivan.

"I congratulate Jack, a good job," said Becker, the witness testified.

"This is terrific, Charley," said Rose. "They've got the number of the machine."

"Never mind," said Becker. "I'll take care of you and the gang."

Then Becker said the witness continued, "I passed the Cadillac about 11:30 in my machine and told the chauffeur to go slow so that if I saw that Rosenthal up against the wall there I could have taken a shot at him."

"Bridgie" was turned over to the defense.

"You've been a gambler all your life, haven't you?" Mr. McIntyre asked.

"Yes."

"You kept a place in No. 9 ePill street, didn't you?"

"Yes."

ONE ESCAPED GANGMAN FOUND IN MANGER OF A STABLE

RAWLINS, Wyo., Oct. 14.—One of the second gang of fugitives from the Rawlins State prison who escaped Sunday afternoon was caught early today by Bert Talbert, proprietor of a livery stable, who was wounded when the fleeing convicts rifled his stalls.

Talbert heard a noise in a manger of the stable. He flashed a light, then jumped upon a man hiding beneath a pile of hay. It turned out to be a convict named Gilmore. The fugitive surrendered, claiming he had been forced into the jailbreak.

Convicts Well Armed. Word received today located Warden Alston at Point of Rocks, on his way to Rawlins.

The prison authorities say they have no idea how the convicts secured guns when they escaped. Seven of the convicts were armed with knives stolen from the dining table.

Neale, the cell-house keeper who was overpowered, says his life was spared at the command of Pazo, the Mexican ringleader.

Of the men who escaped, one of the most desperate is named Richardson. He was serving a life term for murder and was considered the worst man in the penitentiary. Another, Burke, was serving a term of from 20 to 35 years for murder. Others were Elliott (negro), sentenced for five years for horse stealing; Gilmore, for two years; Stewart, serving a sentence of from three to six years, and Blackstrum, sentenced for four years for burglary.

So far as known two men were killed yesterday. They were Charles Strosser, a barber, and Antone Pazo, leader of the convicts.

Those Who Escaped. The following are among the men who escaped Saturday: Bert Dalton, bandit and member of the Whitney gang; Tom Roberts, alias S. H. Norwood, alias Red Mike; Chance Knowlton, Lawrence Williams, Joe Turner, Charles Jones, George Wilson, Frank Barnes, Mike Reagan and Roy Smith.

Last June fire partially destroyed the broom factory at the penitentiary. The convicts made an effort to escape but went to the aid of the prison guards, formed a bucket-brigade and saved the greater part of the building and supplies. Signal bravery on the part of some of the convicts resulted in the commutation of the sentences of eight of them and one was paroled and another pardoned.

On Wednesday, October 2, Frank G. Wigfall, a negro, was lynched by a mob of convicts after he had been lodged in the penitentiary to save him from a throng of citizens who had gathered about the jail. Wigfall had attacked an aged woman. At breakfast time the negro laughed and joked about his crime in the hearing of the convicts. Two score prisoners overpowered the solitary guard in that part of the prison, took the negro and forced him to jump from the railing into an open corridor at the end of a rope. The prison authorities have not been able to learn the names of the lynchers, the convicts having threatened to kill the first man who squealed."

Its reply to the representatives of the powers was handed to the Austro-Hungarian ambassador here this morning. HARD FIGHTING IS ENCOUNTERED

Attack On Byelopelye Exact Toll Of Death From Each Army

LONDON, Oct. 14.—That the Montenegrin troops lost one hundred killed and wounded in their attack on the town of Byelopelye, in the Sanjak of Novipazar, is stated in the official report of the battle received by the Montenegrin consul general here.

The Turkish troops who fled after the battle of Sienitza are said to have suffered heavily.

The report also confirms heavy fighting by the Montenegrin column under General Martinovich. It says that his advance guard encountered a body of Turkish troops from Tarakosh and these are reported to have lost three hundred killed and wounded during the battle while the Montenegrin casualties totaled 100.

General Martinovich burned several Turkish blockhouses, put their garrisons to flight and then with his troops crossed the river Bayana.

The Malissori tribesmen in the neighborhood of Scutari have joined forces with the Montenegrin troops.

The stock exchange here today while much quieter than on Saturday, still erratic, dealers awaiting the opening of the continental Bourses.

In the meantime the situation in the Balkans caused a loss of 3-8 in consuls, establishing a new low record of 72 3-4.

Continental favorites moved with uncertainty. Canadian Pacific opened at 267, dropped to 266 1-2 and jumped back to 269.

Other American securities remained at about Saturday's level, pending the opening of Wall street.

PODGORITZA, Montenegro, Oct. 14.—The Montenegrin troops yesterday occupied another position still closer to the town of Gusinye, according to the official report of General Vukotitch, commander of that division of the Montenegrin army.

The Montenegrins also occupied yesterday two other Turkish positions commanding Gusinye.

The outbreak of hostilities totaled up to yesterday morning 266 killed and over 800 wounded. Those more severely injured are being conveyed to Cetinje, as the hospitals here are crowded.

MEANS IMMEDIATE WAR IF DEMAND IS REFUSED.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Greek note to Turkey demanding the release of the confiscated Greek vessels is in the nature of an ultimatum which official circles here think it is certain Turkey will promptly refuse to comply with. It means therefore immediate war.

There is no doubt that Turkey knew the seizure of ships before the breaking out of hostilities was an act of war and according to the most reliable information from Constantinople, the Ottoman government intended this action to be provocative.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 14.—The Turkish government declines to allow the powers to intervene in the question of Macedonian reforms.

Its reply to the representatives of the powers was handed to the Austro-Hungarian ambassador here this morning. While thanking the European nations for their friendly interest in the Balkan situation, which the Ottoman government recognizes, they have exercised in behalf of peace, the reply says that Turkey is determined to carry out the promised reforms but cannot tolerate any foreign interference.

TODAY'S NEWS OF CHARLOTTE

Happenings Of The City Sketched In Brief As Seen By The Chronicle Reporters

—The friends of Mr. George D. White, who has been ill with typhoid fever at the Presbyterian Hospital, will be pleased to learn that his condition is improving satisfactorily.

—Mr. J. R. Malcolm, for several years a member of the Charlotte police force and recently connected with the Seaboard Air Line Railway, has moved to Hamlet to accept the position of sergeant on the Hamlet police force.

—The Southern and Seaboard Railways are advertising special rates to Charlotte for fair week, which is next week. Fair week is always the occasion for the visit of hundreds of people from the nearby towns to Charlotte.

—A rather amateurish company supported Miss Della Clarke in the presentation of her comedy, "Introduce Me," at the Academy of Music Saturday afternoon and night. The play might have been made very enjoyable in the hands of a capable company.

—The West Construction Company is making a special effort this week to complete the paving of one side of West Trade street, from the Southern passenger depot to Irwin's Creek in anticipation of the heavy travel over this street during next week when the Charlotte fair will be on at the fair grounds just beyond Lakewood Park.

—The odds are long on Boston as against the New York Giants and it is not improbable that the big championship game today will be the last of the series. Charlotte fans have been finding huge enjoyment in the details of the game as received at the daily matinee at the Colonial Club and the fact that the Boston Red Sox have the championship practically clinched will probably have no effect on the attendance.

—The graduating exercises of the Good Samaritan Hospital Training School for Nurses will take place at St. Michael's School auditorium tomorrow night and an interesting program has been arranged, including several musical numbers and an address by Rev. Dr. Flynn, pastor of Emanuel Congregational Church. Dr. C. M. Strong will present the diplomas to the two graduates, Emma Ballard of Bartow, Fla., and Edmonia Collins of Charlotte.

MEDIATION BOARD WILL DISCUSS STRIKE SITUATION

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 14.—The mediation board in the street railway strike will have a meeting today, when the answer of the striking carmen and the street railway company will be received to the letter sent them Saturday in which eleven questions were asked leading up to the arbitration of the strike. It is generally believed here that the mediation board will be successful in bringing about an adjustment or bringing the parties up to a certain point when each will consent to arbitration. Strike breakers are running the cars as usual and few people are riding. Four shots were fired at a car last night and the majority of the people deem it unsafe to ride on the cars. President Mahon of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees arrived here last night from Detroit and will take personal charge of the situation, supplanting National Organizer Cornelius.

Five companies of the National Guardsmen are still on duty here and Colonel O'Leary will keep them in Augusta until order is fully restored.

It is persistently rumored that Assistant Grand Chief F. A. Burgess of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will be the arbitrator for the conductors and trainmen of the Georgia Railroad, although Vice Presidents Gregg and Murdock of the conductors and trainmen, respectively, refused to confirm or deny the report today.

Messrs. Gregg and Murdock stated that the name of their arbitrator would be submitted to Dr. Charles F. Neill, United States Commissioner of Labor, and that the Georgia Railroad arbitrator would also be submitted to Dr. Neill and the latter would give out the names of those selected.

Dr. Neill has not arrived here from Atlanta this morning.

Supervisor W. S. Brand of the Georgia road was asked in regard to the arbitrator for the road and he said that General Manager Scott would be the one to select him and Mr. Scott is in Atlanta today.

Demand Release of Vessel.

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 14.—The release within 24 hours of the Greek vessel confiscated by Turkey is to be demanded today by the Greek minister at Constantinople.

In the note which he is to hand the Turkish government the payment of an indemnity to the owners of the vessel is also demanded.
