future needs of young women an appeal is made to the loyal citizens of Charlotte to support the movement for a modern association building worthy of the city.

The luncheons are always marked by flashes of fun which creep out through the chairmen of committees in presenting the encouragements or the discouragements of their canvassing.

Mrs. Gibbon reported a handicap. She says she knows of a man who complained that he had been canvassed by two ugly men and gave $50, but promised to raise it to $75 if two good looking girls undertook the canvass. The challenge was accepted and the extra $25 came in. Mrs. Gibbon suggests that her team has done its duty by caring for other people's list and hinted that any men who refuse to subscribe should properly be handed over to Captain Anderson's team which seems to be successful in the "hold up" collections. Mrs. Gibbon declares that she could keep up with the women but was willing to give first place to the young girls and immediately handed over to them a list of names.

One woman reports a talk of 40 minutes for $5 when she wanted $500. Another went 40 miles and secured her subscription. Still others report that a great many "dead men" and "men out of town" decreased their subscriptions at an alarming rate. It is suggested that means of conveyance be put at the command of the unfortunate "out of town" to give them an opportunity to get back by Saturday night. Nothing less than the trumpet of Gabriel would be effective for the "dead ones."

Mrs. McLaughlin's team reports 60 calls, one unasked donation of $100 in gold and another $100 in subscription from a stranger came in unsolicited. So the good work is pressing steadily on.

Mayor Bland has taken a lively interest in the campaign and has issued the following proclamation: "Whereas, the city of Charlotte is in the midst of an effort to secure a Y. W. C. A. building and, "Whereas, the Young Women's Christian Association is one of the most effective institutions in all progressive cities, making your women more useful members of the community; "Whereas, the success of this movement requires the thorough co-operation of every person in the city; "Whereas, two hundred representative men and women have undertaken, at a great sacrifice of personal interest, a campaign which has roused public interest: "Now, therefore, I, through the authority vested in me as mayor of Charlotte, do set aside Saturday, November 9, as a day of special effort in behalf of this movement, and do recommend that all the people of Charlotte observe this day as Y. W. C. A. Day and that they assist the efforts of the committees by personal contributions and by favorable presentation of the cause to their friends and neighbors to the end that the securing of a multitude of gifts, large and small, may produce the desired result in securing for Charlotte this most important building. (Signed) CHARLES A. BLAND, Mayor."

The following is the form of the subscription blanks and the committees have decided to ask that any who have not been solicited, if, indeed, there be such in the city, clip

the blank and return it to headquarters with a subscription: Card No. The $..... Club Charlotte Young Women's Christian Association Building Fund. Charlotte, N. C. November 1912. "DIVINE" SARAH IN QUEEN ELIZABETH

One of the most elaborate motion pictures that has been brought to the city will be programmed Monday and Tuesday at the Ottoway, Manager Haas having arranged to show Mme. Sarah Bernhardt as Queen Elizabeth, by Amiel Moreau. The film contains 21 scenes and the noted actress is given credit for making this one of the stellar "movies" of the times. The great French stage artist has become a defender of the motion pictures, and it is said that in "Queen Elizabeth," which she revivifies, she has lost nothing of her ardor and vigor.

TEXAS MAN WEDS DUTCH WOMAN BY "PROXY"

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Nov. 8.—Harry Tenbrick, a railroad employe, left this city today for Galveston, where he will meet his wife to whom he was married several weeks ago in a fashion that required the official sanction of authorities of two governments. Tenbrick was in Wichita Falls, Tex., and his bride-to-be was in Amsterdam, Holland. Tenbrick went before a Texas notary public and took the regulation marriage vows, while the bride appeared before a Dutch official corresponding to a notary and took similar vows. The plan was sanctioned by the Dutch consul at Washington and Secretary of State Knox.

LOGKWOODS LEAVE CHARLOTTE PLANT

South Atlantic Waste Company Now Under Management Of Parent/Concern

Messrs. L. A. Lockwood, Sr., L. A. Lockwood, Jr., and H. B. Lockwood, who have been prominently identified with the management of the South Atlantic Waste Company in North Charlotte, have disposed of their interests in the plant and it is now being operated under the direct management of the Crefeld Waste & Bating Co., which established the Charlotte branch some years ago. Mr. L. A. Lockwood, Jr., who has been assistant general manager, is no longer identified with the plant but is in the North for the present. He has not definitely determined what will be his permanent work in the future, the probabilities being that he will establish a new waste plant somewhere in the North. The South Atlantic Waste Company will continue in operation without interruption. Mr. D. H. Anderson is president of the institution and Mr. John W. Todd is secretary and treasurer. Mr. D. F. McGowan is superintendent. It is in a prosperous condition and stands out as one of the foremost plants of its kind in the South. Like many other industries of the city and general section, the company suffers the injustices and inequities of freight rate discrimination, particularly in its competition with similar institutions located on the seaboard and accessible to waterways, but even despite this handicap, the company is enjoying in this section a liberal patronage and continues to multiply in territories covered. The Lockwoods still retain their interest in the parent plant at Salisbury, which has all along had general superintendency over the Charlotte concern. Their major investments are in this plant, but when the South Atlantic Waste Company was established, they took stock in it along with many other Charlotte citizens.

COTTON REACHES HIGH WATER MARK

Cotton today reached the high figure of 1 1/2 cents on the local market with the result that there was a decided influx of farmers attracted to market by the fancy prices being paid. The local market has advanced almost unprecedentedly during the last week or ten days and farmers who were holding on account of low prices are loosening up and are coming on the market in large numbers. The receipts today were 278 bales at 13 1/2 cents against 123 bales of this date last year, the price then being 9 cents. Saturday is expected to be a record-breaking day at the Charlotte platform. The sharp advance in the price of cotton has spread over the whole section and it is expected that many farmers will be on the local market Saturday with plenty of cotton to offer for sale.

CHARLOTTE JOINS IN AN INVITATION TO NEW PRESIDENT

If bringing to bear plenty of pressure has any weight Governor Woodrow Wilson will be in Charlotte during the week of May Twentieth, as President of the United States, and will deliver an address in this city during the celebration that is now being planned on a large scale. The matter was given official color last night when the board of aldermen, after hearing a delegation of Greater Charlotte Club cohorts, on motion of Alderman E. W. Thompson, extended a unanimous rising vote to the next President to visit Charlotte on the date named. It was further stipulated that six members of the board should accompany the Charlotte party if possible next Monday night when the delegation leaves for Trenton to meet Governor Wilson on the night of Tuesday.
