An Obvious Condition.
Apropos of the high cost of living in Chicago during the convention, George W. Perkins said: "Two independent delegates sat at breakfast one morning. As they consumed oatmeal at $1 a saucer, one said to the other: 'I'd better hurry up for the convention. What time is it, Bill?' 'Don't be a fool, Bill answered gruffly. 'Do you think that in this bustling city an independent delegate can eat and have a watch at the same time?'"

It Would "Cost Less" to Keep Your Store Open But Three Days a Week—But It Would Not Pay So Well!

A merchant who thinks only of "the cost" of advertising often persuades himself that, by advertising only half as much as usual, he is saving one half of the expense of advertising.

The same logic would lead him to keep his store open but three days a week—thus cutting running expenses in half, and "saving" all of that money!

The plan of adequate advertising service (for your ads do render a most valuable service to your patrons) is as essential to store success as the plan of keeping the store open every shopping day.

DAVIDSON STUDENTS WOULD HONOR WILSON

Effort is On To Have Body Go To Inauguration Next March In Special Train

(Special to The Chronicle.)

DAVIDSON, Nov. 9.—W. E. Lynch, class of '13, president of the Woodrow Wilson College Men's League, not content with the organization of the league, and on election night securing returns by special wire running to the auditorium of Shearer Hall, a holiday following the big Democratic victory and a grand rally, torchlight procession and bon-fire and joint inauguration meeting Wednesday night, is now figuring on carrying the student body of Davidson to Washington on a special train at the time of the inauguration of Governor Wilson as President and finding for them by a prearranged program a place in the big procession that will form on that auspicious occasion. Mr. Lynch, very naturally and rightly supposes that President-elect Wilson will be pleased to have the managers of the inauguration ceremonies give the boys of Davidson College, his first alma mater, first among many possibly more famous ones in later years of his academic studies, a place of honor in the long line of those that shall assemble to do him and the party he represents obeisance and to have a share as celebrants in his initiation to office.

As yet this idea is little more than a thought, but it is a pleasing one and if Mr. Lynch and his coadjutors can effect their purpose in any possible way, the Davidson boys will go to the inauguration.

Dr. W. H. Wooten, talking to a group of friends last evening on the street about automobiles and prices unconsciously handed out a bid of encouragement to those of quite limited means that even they in time to come, and possibly in the very near future, might be able to own an automobile. He remarked that two and a half years ago he purchased his car for $445 freight paid. Today the same machine can be bought for $530 plus the freight, a cut in price of nearly one-half. At this rate the bottom figure should be reached at no distant day.

Cotton was marketed today to the number of 50 or 60 bales. The price reached the handsome figure of 12.37 1-2 cents. This in the face of the fact that Wilson has been elected President, which fact in the judgment of a great many people in this immediate section means calamity, men who believe confidently and so declare that the victory of the Democrats means a low tariff, which means low prices alike for the laborer and the farmer's cotton. One can hear this idea promulgated anywhere about here among laboring men, who have been brought to believe that the present iniquitous tariff is responsible for the present good times and for the very high price that skilled labor in all the trades is commanding this fall. The question of supply and demand is not in it at all, many argue.

MRS. A. B. GOODLOE.

Aged and Highly-Respected Lady of Scotland Neck, Nov. 8.—Mrs. A. B. Goodloe, an aged and highly-respected lady, died at the home of her brother-in-law, Mr. B. D. Webb, a few miles in the country, Wednesday night, Nov. 7, after a brief illness from a stroke of paralysis. Mrs. Goodloe suffered a similar stroke some years ago and never fully recovered, but was able to get about Nov. 3 o'clock, after a brief illness from a stroke of paralysis. Mrs. Goodloe suffered a similar stroke some years ago and never fully recovered, but was able to get about Nov. 3 o'clock, after a brief illness from a stroke of paralysis.

Wilson in British Eyes.

London Chronicle.

Dr. Wilson is really a novel figure in the United States political arena. He is a man of high culture, a deep student of politics, a historian, with lofty ideals and the energy and determination necessary to realize them. It is well for American politics that such a man should come to the front, and if the Democratic party is to march up out of the wilderness which it has tramped for so long, a thinker and a practical man of the stamp of the convention's nominee is the man to lead it. Mr. Bryan exhibited the proper spirit in "surrendering the standard he had carried for three campaigns." Opinions differ greatly with regard to his leadership, but no one will deny him the tribute that he has been sincere. He stops just short of the height of force and ability requisite for the battle now immediately in front. His declaration of support in favor of Dr. Wilson was a noble one, and though he may not lead his party to victory, he will be remembered as one of its leaders whose efforts have carried it to the present favorable position from which triumph should be sure and signal.
