BAPTISTS DISCUSS

GOLDSBORO, Dec. 3 .-- The feature of this morning's session of the pastors' conference of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention was the consideration of the relation of the churches to worldly amusements. This discussion was opened by Rev. A. A. McClelland of Maxton and his address is accepted as one of the sanest expressions of the question and the solution ever brought before a religious body. Discussion followed the address and a committee was appointed to draft resolutions that would express the septiment of the address. After stating that he bement of the city of Charlotte and of lieved that worldly amusements, such the movement to secure a new form as dancing and card parties and for of municipal management, the official prizes were harmful to the individual exponents of which at the present Christian life as well as the church time are a special committee of the progress, Mr. McClelland stated that board of aldermen appointed to draft there was but little difference between a document outlining such changes in the bridge whist party and the negro the municipal government machinery, crap game, but that it must be reboards, etc., as might appear wise and membered that the women were not desirable to the aforesaid committee. the only gamblers and that the men It is not intimated that this commit- in the church and who were dealing
