

STREET CARS ARE MOVING AGAIN IN INDIANAPOLIS

Agreement To Arbitrate Differences Of Employes And Operators Reached

MEN GO BACK TO WORK Date Is Not Fixed For Hearing To Settle Difficulties

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 8.—Traffic on the street railway system of this city, suspended seven days ago as the result of the strike of the street railway employes, was resumed today.

In charge of the cars were the motormen and conductors who a week ago last night quit their places when the company refused to receive a committee appointed to present the grievances of the men.

President Robert I. Todd, of the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal Company announced last night on some lines it probably would be several days before the former service could be restored but upon the lines where the heaviest traffic is handled the service would be the same as before the strike.

In charge of the cars were the motormen and conductors who a week ago last night quit their places when the company refused to receive a committee appointed to present the grievances of the men.

The motormen and conductors employed by these traction companies want on a strike two months ago but failed to win the fight.

An unusual result of the strike is the release of a prisoner from the Federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., to attend the funeral here of his brother, killed during the rioting. Acting Secretary of War Breckenridge, yesterday ordered the release of Harley C. Carlton, a military prisoner, so that the man could attend the funeral of Thomas L. Carlton, a chauffeur shot and killed in the disturbance at the Louisiana street car barns on last Monday.

The second suit asking that a receiver be appointed for the Indianapolis street railway company and the lease between that company and the Indianapolis Traction & Terminal Company be cancelled, was indefinitely postponed today by Judge Remster.

Counsel for both sides agreed that with the settlement of the street car employes strike last night the cause for immediate action, had been removed and asked that the case come up for hearing later. The date was not fixed.

RICHMOND, Ind., Nov. 8.—Four street cars were operated without interference here today and indications were that the strike of motormen and conductors which was begun yesterday morning would be short lived.

The company announced this morning that it expected the majority of its employes would be back at work before tonight. There has been no agreement on the demands of the employes.

HERO OF TWO WARS SEES NEIGHBORS PAY GREAT TRIBUTE TO HIS NAME

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 8.—With the unveiling here today of an heroic equestrian statue of Gen. John Breckenridge 'Castlemans' veteran of two wars and long a leading citizen of Kentucky, the residents of Louisville paid unique honor to him.

The statue, one of the few ever erected to a person during his life time, is of bronze and shows General Castlemans in civilian garb, seated on his famous black mare Caroline.

The Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, Edward J. McDermott, Mayor W. O. Head of Louisville, and several other public men spoke at the exercises and a letter from Henry Watterson, editor of The Courier Journal, presented him from delivering the principal address.

Mr. Watterson said in part: "We served together in the field and were fellow exiles in a foreign land, he barred from returning—perhaps the only American who was ever thus signaled. To have been rescued from death by Lincoln, banished by Andrew Johnson, welcomed home by Grant; having worn the gray in perilous enterprises, finally to have worn the blue with distinction, retired from the army of the United States as a general officer is a record shared I am sure by no other.

Yet his chief claim upon us is that of the citizen and neighbor, who through a generation has given great energies and talents to civil duties, the most important and useful, commanding himself as an official and endeavoring himself as a man.

General Castlemans was a major under General Morgan in the War Between the States and headed an expedition which sought the delivery of Confederate prisoners in Illinois and Indiana but was captured.

For years he has served, except during occasional Republican municipal Administrations as President of Louisville's board of park commissioners. He is credited with having done more to give Louisville its splendid system of parks than any other one person.

CONTRACT FOR MASONIC TEMPLE WAS AWARDED TO J. A. JONES

At a meeting of the building committee for the Masonic Temple Association held yesterday, an announcement was made of the awarding of the contract to J. A. Jones for the construction of the handsome building which the fraternal order is to erect at the intersection of South Tryon and East Second streets.

Through a process of elimination the original ten competitors had narrowed down to the firm of Blythe & Isenhour and the ultimate recipient of the contract. As both were local firms considerable interest had been aroused in Charlotte, and speculation was rife as to the final decision of the building committee, which through the almost identical offer of the two firms was hard put to in determining its choice.

Mr. Jones will commence building activities at once and it is expected that the finished structure will be presented to its fraternal order owner at some time during the middle of next year.

Company was held out for further consideration from the number of offers which were received from well-known elevator manufacturers.

"It begins to look like 12 1/2 cent cotton," said a buyer today, when the price of spot on the Charlotte market tumbled to flat 13 cents on account of the ginning report which was made by the Census Bureau this morning.

The price on the Charlotte market opened this morning at 13 1/4, same as yesterday, but when the effects of the ginning report on the New York market was received, the local market responded and there was a drop of one-quarter of a cent.

The high prices that have prevailed since the opening of the season were based on the belief of a short crop, but the report this morning showed that almost as much had been ginned as at the same time last year.

Case Now Goes Automatically Into The Federal Courts

ON HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

Matteawan Fugitive Remains In Charge Of Marshall And Sheriff

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 8.—Governor Felker today announced the requisition of the State of New York for the extradition of Harry K. Thaw, the fugitive from the New York State Hospital for the criminal insane at Matteawan.

The Governor based his decision on the indictment returned against Thaw in New York county which charged him with conspiracy to escape from the asylum to which he was committed after his second trial for the killing of Stanford White.

Thaw's attorney announced that they would immediately file an amendment to their petition for a writ of habeas corpus, application for which was made soon after Thaw was arrested in this state after being deported from Canada.

The original petition was based on the allegation that Thaw was indicted for conspiracy by the Dutchess county grand jury and it was suspended pending the governor's decision upon the master of extradition.

Thaw was not present when Governor Felker announced his decision to the attorneys representing the fugitive and the State of New York at the Capitol.

"By the petition of Governor Glynn and the accompanying papers it appears that the grand jury of the county of New York has duly returned into open court an indictment against Mr. Thaw. That is sufficient to warrant the arrest, arraignment and trial within the State wherein the indictment is pending.

"The provisions of the Federal constitution and the act of Congress enacted to give force and effect thereto as construed by the court of last resort upon such matters, limit me to the consideration of the question (1): Whether the persons demanded has been substantially charged with a crime and (2): Whether he is a fugitive from justice.

"Such was the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the most recent case wherein a master State demanded of New Hampshire the interstate rendition of a person within her border.

"The person demanded has no constitutional right to be heard before the Governor on either question and the statute provides for none. To hold otherwise would in many cases render the constitutional provision as well as the statute passed to carry it out, wholly useless.

"I have nevertheless, owing to the urgency of the demands of his counsel—men in whose integrity I have confidence, and for whose opinions I entertain deep respect—given Mr. Thaw the fullest possible opportunity for the expression of their views.

With profound respect therefore, I am unable to view my duty in the premises, as including an investigation of Mr. Thaw's mental condition or of the counsel for the State of New York or of the probable guilt or innocence of the accused.
