20TH CENTURY TANGO FOR THE 20TH OF MAY CELEBRATION

At the meeting of the Mecklenburg Declaration Society yesterday, Mr. David Owens, chairman of the music committee, reported that he had signed up six bands for the 20th and requested an additional appropriation of $25 to insure proper entertainment during their stay here. An additional appropriation was made. The six bands will include the band of the coast artillery company from Fort Moultrie. A big feature of the entire celebration will be the massed band concert on the evening of the 20th in Vance Park, when all six of the bands will be merged into one under the leadership of one bandmaster.

Mr. S. B. Alexander, Sr., submitted to the society an application by Mrs. Henry M. McAden, chairman of the board of managers of the Thompson Orphanage, that they, with the board of managers of the Alexander Rescue Home, be given the management of the street tango exhibition and dance that is to be held on the smooth newly-paved block of Mint street between Trade and Fourth streets, and that the proceeds be given to the two orphanages. The society granted the request, specifying that there would be no charges to the grandstand in the park to see the dances but that it should be free to all. The dancers will pay an admission fee to the dancing area, which will be roped off. A band will furnish music and the sprightly mazas and gyrations of Texas Tommy, Argentine tango, Maxixe and other modern dances will be demonstrated by the leading dancers in Charlotte and other parts of the state and by visitors who are here for the Twentieth.

Judges for parade to be left to the parade committee, the society only insisting that every effort be made to secure judges that would be entirely disinterested. Chief Marshal Parker is making arrangements to entertain at dinner on the day of the Twentieth the marshals who will assist him in directing the parade and handling the crowds, the body of marshals to be recruited from various parts of the state. Vice President Marshall Arrives 10:05. Vice President Marshall will arrive in the city on Southern train No. 27, his arrival to be announced by a salute of 21 guns. It also develops that he will remain in the city longer than was at first expected, owing to a change of plans. He will remain in the city until 11 o'clock that night, when his special car will be attached to a northbound train of the Southern Railway. So that the Vice President and Mrs. Marshall will be guests of the city from 10:05 a. m. to 11 p. m.

Carnival All Week. Lang's Improved Shows will arrive here Saturday and will set up their tents on the carnival grounds on East Morehead street near the South graded school building. On Monday morning they will open the grounds for exhibition and will remain open all week. They are said to be a very high class organization and to present an excellent exhibition. The organization will have all the usual carnival features and a great many new ones.

The Mecklenburg Declaration Society is considering the idea of having a large number of badges printed with the inscription, "I Live in Charlotte—Ask Me." These will be worn by various persons whose duty it will be to answer questions and give out information by strangers here. It will be the plan to place these badges on persons who know the city well and can inform strangers readily as to lodging accommodations, directions.

Mr. Pruett Recovers and Leaves the Hospital

Mr. L. M. Pruett who has been for two weeks in the Presbyterian hospital where he submitted to a most critical and trying operation which was most successfully performed by Drs. E. C. Boyette and R. L. Gibbon, has returned to his home in North Charlotte. He is most lavish in his praise of the kind treatment he received and is full of joy over the prospect of a complete recovery and relief from his suffering. In coming home from Atlanta, where he attended grand opera, Mr. A. W. Franklin, the photographer, sat immediately opposite Caruso and Scott in the diner. While waiting for his order Caruso made a sketch, which Mr. Franklin says was fine, of the girl over the way, on a napkin, and presented it to her with his compliments.

Mr. Williams Turns Ankle and Fractures Bone

Mr. Henry C. Williams, proprietor of the Hotel Tryon, is laid up with a badly sprained ankle. Dr. J. E. S. Davidson, who is attending him, fears it is a fracture more than a sprain. Mr. Williams was out walking Sunday afternoon when he slipped on a stone and turned his ankle with results as stated. And philanthropy usually achieves its best work in the limelight.
