BEAUTIFUL SHOW BY CHILDREN FOR OLD LADIES' HOME

The children of South Tryon street who as a junior committee of the Old Ladies' Home, are working to pay for the telephone at the Home, made their first money last night, in the presentation of a pretty adaptation of "Cinderella," the old but ever-loved fairy

An interesting and pretty adjunct to the "drama" were tableaux from 'Mother Goose," and a representation of the season by four attractive young

The play and the tableaux were given at the handsome residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Keerans on South Tryon street, Mrs. Keerans most kindly and cheerfully lending her homeone of spaciousness and eleganceto the cause, and not only her home but herself and household.

So interested was the neighborhood and friends in many other sections of the city in the personnel of the cast and the cause represented, that even the Keerans home was not large enough to accommodate the crowd which packed parlors and halls. The admission was a dime for grown ups; half a dime for kids. There were $15 worth of both in the house-a sum that the children of the committee, and the elder heads directing, Mrs. W. B. Ryder and Mrs. B. Rush Lee feel very

Miss Mary Durham and Miss Mary Alexander had charge of the curtain— or folding doors as it happened to be last night, and Masters James Graham, Willard Keerans and others acted as doorkeepers. The rear parlor was used as a stage. It was prettily set for the several acts of "Cinderella," and the lights were effective and effectively managed by Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Keerans and Mrs. Ryder. Big red lamps with red shades, red shaded chandelier and a light from the "flies" made the tableaux particularly pretty. Owing to the youthful years of several of the tableaux actors, the program was reversed, their numbers being taken first.

The doors opened on "A Bit of Knowledge,"—Master Frank O. Lan-dis, seated on a high pile of dictionaries and lexicons of youth, in cap and gown, big spectacles, with eyes bent on a book in his hand. He was one of the hits of the evening. Second tableaux, Master Platt Walker Landis, "Sailor Boy"; very good; third, Master Parks Dalton, "Barefoot Boy", cute and natural in overalls, bare feet, farmer's hat and fishing rod; fourth, "Little Miss Muffett"-Miss Edna Carson, cunning and pret-

Third act introduced the Prince Charming, in suit of black velvet, feather; and Cinderella in her beautiful fairy gown created by the fairygodmothers's wand-white lace and silk with pretty roses, and gold slippers. Also taking part in this act were the proud sisters, stepmother, herald in white silk pants, and coat, white silk hat and plume; gentlemen of with white plumes.

The fourth act introduced all of the "Summer," represented by Miss The fourth act introduced all of the above with the addition of the pretty page, who made the court scene complete.

The children all did their parts splendidly, reciting their lines perfectly, distinctly, and naturally-showing fine drill, fine conception of the parts and graceful ease in producing

An attractive entre-acte number was the dancing of Misses Calvine Scott and Catherine Morehead, the latted in a beautiful "playlady" dress, of pink silk trimmed in swansdown-a birthday gift from her mother; the former in her Cinderella ball dress; also a dance by Misses Hamlin Landis, who wore an accordeon Lilly Mae Orr, Thelma Grier, Sadie beautiful, a prettier "Winter" seldom plaited dress of blue silk. "Ideal" Fireless Cooker Demonstration In Full Swing at McCOY'S.

The popularity of the "Ideal" Fireless Cooker is steadily growing. We are placing this great time and labor-saver and household economy in a number of homes each day.

There are more "Ideals" being sold here than all other styles of cookers combined. And there's a reason—the Ideal is the best by test. Cooks more thoroughly, retains the heat longer and lasts longer. Nothing but pure aluminum used in the lining and the utensils of this cooker. The only cooker made that has the patent water-seal top steam condenser.

Aside from the saving in food and fuel, just think of being able to put your dinner in an Ideal Cooker and while you are enjoying yourself in calling on your friends, attending your club meeting, shopping or motoring and then to return and have your dinner deliciously cooked and ready to serve and cooked better than you could have done had you stood over your cook stove for three hours -this is just what you can have by using an
