RUSSIAN WAR OFFICE REVIEWS THE SITUATION

By Associated Press.
Petrograd, via London, June 19.—An official review of recent operations on the Russo-Austrian front, given out here says:
"The development of the battle along the Tisimentza-Svika front, along the Tisimentza-Svika front, tacking our forces in Galicia is operating, will serve to give some idea of the magnitude of the actions in this region. The significance of the operations in the vicinity of Stry is found in the fact that they were an endeavor to turn our front opposed to the phalanxes under General von Mackensen. The eventual success of the enemy in the direction of Stry and Lemberga would have been of great help to the offensive of General Mackensen. Failure, on the other hand, would have meant that Mackensen's operations were merely a series of fruitless frontal attacks.

"The above mentioned sector on the Dniester river, however, was not the scene of the principal fighting, even with regard to the numbers of troops engaged. On May 15 the enemy closely following our troops, retiring from the Carpathians, met our opposition in the region of Drohobycz, northwest of Stry and in the vicinity of Belachow. On the 19th the enemy brought all his forces into action, but at the end of two days he was compelled to quit this offensive, having lost tens of thousands of men.

"His only success in eight days' fighting was the turning of our right wing near Stonsko, with the threat of a possible outflanking movement. During this week we remained passive, confining our operations to exterminating the enemy as he approached our trenches. The next four days were devoted by the enemy to bringing together heavy artillery and supporting detachments. May 25 saw the beginning of the decisive attack, and the fighting. A powerful force, composed of three German divisions, succeeded at the price of incredible sacrifices in carrying Stry. Perceiving the exhaustion of the Austrians attacking us—they constituted the right wing of the opposing army—we took the offensive and drove them back.

"For three days, May 30, 31 and June 1, we were undecided whether to attempt to turn the Germans, who had broken through our front near Stry, or to fall back on the Dniester. The general situation in Galicia finally caused us to adopt the latter course. The night of June 2 the enemy demonstrated against our bridgeheads in the direction of Mikalajow, losing several thousand men.

"The principal attack was delivered by the army under General Bothmer at a point more to the east. The attack against Zidaczow was repulsed, but on June 6 General von Bothmer crossed the Dniester near Juravno and on June 8 occupied the left bank for a distance of 15 miles.

"June 8 and June 9 the bulk of the German forces were decisively defeated and thrown back across the Dniester. Nevertheless, on June 13, the German commander, beginning a general offensive, delivered a new attack with the remains of his regiments. The principal German forces moved along the right bank of the Stry, and attacked our bridge head near Zidaczow.

"Toward the 15th of June the time came for another reverse of the enemy. At Bereznia and Krutevska alone we killed with the bayonet and buried 1,000 Germans who had abused the white flag.

"Between May 29 and June 15 we captured in this sector 40,000 prisoners, including 860 officers; over 100 machine guns and two dozen cannons.

"The total losses of the enemy on a front of 38 miles were between 120,000 and 150,000 men.

"Dense additional columns descended the slopes of the Carpathian mountains daily and reinforced the enemy. Many supplementary detachments originally destined for eastern Prussia, met their final fate in the valley of the Stry.

"The addition of considerable reinforcements brought into the scene of operations the German army under the command of General von Boehm-Ermolli.

"We have noted serious symptoms of demoralization which are beginning to show themselves in the ranks of the enemy in the vicinity of Mikalajow.

"It has been interesting to trace the reflection of events on the Dniester in the official military announcements of the enemy. Every step, before it has been completed by the Germans has been reported in their announcements as a German victory and a disorderly flight on the part of the Russians. The following day the announcements would say that the German army was successfully resisting the pressure of the Russians, and on the third day that the Russians had great forces at their disposal in the region in question. Such a sequence and method of reporting has been noticed in the German announcements on three different occasions during the 30 days fighting on the Dniester."

MT. CARMEL HEAVILY ENTRENCHED
Jerusalem, May 2.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Mount Carmel, whose lower slopes have already been under French shell fire, is heavily entrenched by the Turks, although the mountain is sacred alike to Christian and Moslem. On the lower slopes is situated the town of Haifa. The German consulate in the town was bombed by the French in retaliation for the Germans desecrating the graves of the soldiers of Napoleon.

Carmel is a hill, or rather a group of hills, bounded on two sides by the Mediterranean and overlooking the plain of Kishon. Above the town stands the famous Carmelite monastery. On the summit of the Mount, the German colony of Haifa, which came there sixty years ago to await the second coming of Christ, has erected a monument to commemorate the visit of the Kaiser.

Haifa is an important point, as it is the terminus of a branch of railway tapping the Hedjaz line, which crosses the desert regions between Damascus and Medina. This railway, spanning the Jordan river, is used by the Turks to transport Arab troops.

DRY SCALY TETTER COVERED ARM
Began on Fingers in Watery Pimples, Itched and Burned Severely. Eyes Began to Swell. Used Cuticura Hand, Arm and Face Smooth.

R. F. D. No. 2, Moore, S. C.—"When the trouble first began my fingers were covered with fine watery pimples which itched and burned very severely. Finally my arm was covered and after a while my eyes began to swell. It was very hard to find my way for a while. My hand and arm would often crack open and bleed. The more I would rub them the more they would itch. The tetter looked dry and scaly. I could not put my hands in water for if I did they would crack open and bleed, after drying. I was treated for quite a while but it did not do me any good. I tried all kinds of the salves but found no relief in them. Finally someone told me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I did and now all the scales are gone and my hand, arm and face are as smooth as ever. I owe all my cure to Cuticura Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Charlie Floyd, October 5, 1914.
